

McADOO ASKS FOR PROHIBITION STAND BY PARTY LEADERS

Candidates Must Take Some Stand In Prohibition. Charges Corrupt Politics.

Greeneville, Tenn.—A challenge to political leaders of all parties to make known their stand on prohibition was sounded here by William G. McAdoo, candidate for democratic presidential nomination in 1924 with a warning that effort to nullify the eighteenth amendment is part of a movement menacing the foundation of popular government.

Addressing the students of Tusculum college at commencement exercises, the former treasury secretary declared the prohibition question presents a vital issue that responsible statesmanship cannot ignore and called for courageous leadership such as Andrew Jackson, in restoring Jeffersonian democracy to its real principles, might have displayed in meeting the corrupt machine.

politics is attempting to gain control of the federal government "under the guise of an attack on the 18th amendment" he summoned defenders of the constitution to rally on the side of the prohibition laws if free institutions are to be preserved in America.

Prohibition Issue
"Prohibition is a practicable issue of the most vital kind in which the whole country is interested and upon which it is looking eagerly for courageous leadership," he said. "The question is interwoven with some of the deepest, and most challenging tendencies now at work in American life and which it is the imperative duty of responsible statesmanship to combat."

"The attack on the 18th amendment is but a part of a great movement which menaces all that is most American in our institutions. It is the fighting front of a conflict that is deeper than the liquor question, deep as that may be. The conflict is, shall the constitution be nullified or shall it be enforced? This challenges the very existence of constitutional government. What could be a graver issue than that? How can we afford to ignore it?"

"But the liquor question itself is a question that political leadership cannot ignore. The American people by writing the 18th amendment into the constitution, registered the conviction that the welfare of the nation demanded that they should be protected from exploitation by a traffic that took a heartless toll from millions of innocent persons, women and children for the most part who were sacrificed to its financial greed."

"The liquor interests naturally resisted and their resistance has grown to the point where they have succeeded in inducing certain states to nullify the constitution and now are pressing forward to gain control of the federal government itself in order to paralyze prohibition enforcement."

Move To Gain Voters
"If free government means anything, it means precisely that issues of this kind should form the basis of party contests and popular decisions. If party government means anything, if political parties are to be more than a badge

Catawba In Drive Against Rum Game

Sheriff And Deputies Seize Eight Stills, 5 Men And Liquor Caches.

Newton.—Sheriff Bost and his deputies were in action against the liquor trade over the week-end when they caught several moonshiners and brought in their distilleries.

Early this morning Deputy Jim Berad and Policeman Gilleland, of Maiden, brought in a large still which they captured in Caldwell township Saturday afternoon together with two Caldwell men who had the still in full blast when the officers appeared on the scene.

Along with the men they captured four gallons of whiskey which had just been run, and a quantity of beer. The Caldwell men were placed under $700 bond each for their appearance at the July term of court.

In an entirely different section of the county, in Cline's township, Deputies Whitner, Han and Linger captured a small still Sunday afternoon in the woodpile of Russell Hedrick. A quantity of beer was found near the house. No arrests have been made.

At the same time Sheriff Bost and Deputy Burns were scouting about in another section of Cline's township when they came to the home of Frank Fox where they found a quantity of home brew.

Fox was placed under a $200 bond. This will be the first home brew case to come up in superior court in this county, it is said.

During the month of May the Catawba officers captured 8 stills, 5 men, 2,500 gallons of beer, 35 gallons of liquor, and as the sheriff expressed it, too much home brew to be mentioned.

MRS. BASSETT ALWAYS TIRED

Now in Good Health by Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lansing, Mich.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I needed it. When I first used it I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room without crying. I was tired all the time. I think my trouble was coming on me for six months before I realized it. I read of your wonderful medicine in the paper, and my husband bought me a bottle, and after the first few doses I felt better, so kept on taking it until I was well and strong. I take it at times when I feel tired and it helps me. I always have a good word for your medicine and tell anyone what good it has done me. I recommended it to my neighbor for her girl, who is sixteen years old, and it was just what she needed. She is feeling fine now, and goes to school every day."

—Mrs. E. F. Bassett, 218 South Hayford Avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold by druggists everywhere.
