Wise Sayings— "You must remember that it isn't only laying hold of a rope—you must go on pulling."—George Elliott.

Returns From Wedding Trip Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards who were married in Norfolk, Va., have returned from a delightful wedding trip coming to Shelby on Tuesday evening. They are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Al Bennett on the Cleveland Springs road. Mrs. Edwards will be quite an addition to the social set of Shelby.

Gentlemen From Greece Here Shelby had two interesting visitors on Wednesday, they being Mr. L. C. Carey and Mr. L. A. Siecle, of Cavalla, Greece. They are friends and associates of Mr. Harold Griffin who is living in Greece and they were guests of Mrs. I. C. Griffin. They were greatly pleased with Shelby and report splendid things of Mr. Griffin. He is well and getting fat they say and doing fine in a business way.

Miss Juanita Daniels To Study In Paris The many friends of Miss Juanita Daniels who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Beam, will be interested to know that she sails Saturday for Europe. She will travel three months, then will spend one year studying in Paris. Her subjects will be music and the arts. Miss Daniels is from Valdosta, Miss. She has been one of Shelby's most popular and beloved visitors. She has many friends who wish her bon voyage.

Miss Webb Gives Luncheon Miss Elizabeth Webb was the charming hostess at a beautiful small luncheon at her attractive home on South Washington street on Wednesday at one o'clock. The table was beautifully appointed and the central decoration was a large basket of Shasta daisies and large zinnias of various colors. A most elegant and delicious five course luncheon was served to Miss Webb, Mr. William Webb, Miss May Washburn, Miss Matilda Lattimore and Miss Ruth Moore, of Alexander.

Miss Ethel Beam Marries In Asheville The many friends of Miss Ethel Beam will be interested to know that she was married in Asheville on Thursday last, at six o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. J. Bateman, pastor of the First Baptist church in Asheville. Miss Beam was married to Mr. Sproles Hallman McGee, of Memphis, Tenn., but originally from Columbia, S. C. Her costume was a lovely gray suit with hat, shoes, and accessories to match. After the wedding they left immediately for Blowing Rock and Little Switzerland. After a visit to Columbia, S. C., they will return to Memphis to make their home. Mr. McGee was educated at Columbia College, S. C., and at Cornell. Miss Beam is the attractive and handsome daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Beam. She has been connected with the Columbia hospital in Columbia, S. C. Mr. McGee is a food broker and importer. The many friends wish them much happiness.

Miss Inez Lutz Weds Mr. W. G. Brown At Home A marriage of interest to a wide circle of friends and relatives throughout Cleveland and Lincoln counties was that of Miss Inez Lutz to Mr. Walter Guy Brown, of Lincoln county, which was quietly solemnized at the beautiful country home of the bride's father, Mr. Marvin L. Lutz, near Belwood on Wednesday afternoon, July 6th at 3 o'clock. The ceremony, which was marked by impressive beauty and simplicity was performed by Rev. J. W. Fitzgerald, pastor of the bride, in the presence of relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The home was charmingly decorated with a wealth of lovely garden flowers and roses. The spacious living room where the ceremony took place was beautifully arranged for the occasion. An improvised altar was erected with beautiful flowers and ferns forming a background. Large silver baskets and tall vases were used and the light from the chandelier cast a soft glow over the lovely scene.

Mrs. W. C. Edwards, of Belwood, presided at the piano and rendered a beautiful program of nuptial music.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Corinne Beam, of Cherryville, given in flesh georgette sang,

"Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Lohengrin's wedding march was used as a processional. During the ceremony, "To a Wild Rose," was softly played.

The bridal party entered the living room to the strains of the wedding march as follows: The pastor, Rev. J. W. Fitzgerald entered first alone. Next to enter were the bridesmaids, Miss Madge Beam and Miss Irene Peeler, both of Cherryville. They wore beautiful dresses of georgette, green and pink were the colors. They carried arm bouquets of Columbia roses and snapdragons. Next to enter were the best men. Mr. Clyde Brown, of Cherryville, and Mr. Robert Lutz, brother of the bride. Next came the beautiful little flower girls, Pearl and Lois Lutz, the only sister of the bride. Their exquisite little frocks were of pink crepe de chine made round neck and sleeveless with a large butterfly bow of pink mullin on their left shoulder. They strewed rose petals in the path of the bride and groom and carried crystal baskets with handles tied with soft tulle ribbon and filled with sweet peas. The bride and groom entered together. The bride was becomingly gowned in a smart suit of green blue champagne georgette, modestly and attractively trimmed. She wore a large hat and accessories to match and her handsome bouquet was of brides roses and valley lilies.

This marriage brings together two of Cleveland and Lincoln counties' most prominent families. The bride is the beautiful and oldest daughter of Mrs. Mayme Elliott Lutz, deceased, and Mr. Marvin L. Lutz, a substantial farmer and fertilizer dealer of the Belwood section; while Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brown, a prominent farmer and large land owner of Lincoln county. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the groom's parents and a elegant supper was served. A large number of friends and relatives were present to witness the beautiful ceremony, and the many beautiful gifts received showed the high esteem in which the families are held.

FALL FOR THIS CLUB?

THERE ARE 33 MEMBERS AND THEIR MASCOT IS TRUSTY PARACHUTE

WHILE a crippled airplane was falling into a heap on McCook Field at Dayton, Ohio, a little over four years ago, its pilot was sailing smoothly down to earth and safety by means of his parachute.

An Open Charter The organization these men founded is the "Caterpillar Club," an outfit with an emblem, a membership and a principle, but without officers, constitution or by-laws. Even the emblem is unofficial and the membership is free for all dependent on only one qualification.

Recognition There is a slight tinge of official recognition of the "Caterpillar Club" by the government, in the collection of data at the flying section of the U. S. air corps at Dayton, pertaining to emergency parachute jumps, a short statement of the circumstances in each case, and even a photograph of the person saved.

AT THE MOVIES

"Blind Alleys" is a new Paramount picture with Thomas Meighan showing at the Princess today. This is a new type of story for Mr. Meighan. It is a fast moving picture, set to the hectic tempo of New York. There are thrills when Tom is hit by a cab at Times Square; more when Greta Nissen is chaperoned in a taxi at Astoria; some snappy scenes in the boarding house with Evelyn Brent. Fox news will also be shown. On Saturday "The Last Outlaw" with Garry Cooper. Along with this will be shown a good Saturday comedy.

Herman Noggle Is Dead From Injury

Has Number of Relatives in Cleveland County. Died at Morganton Monday.

(Special to The Star.) William Herman Noggle of Charlotte was seriously injured in an automobile crash and died in a Morganton hospital Monday night at 11:40 o'clock. Young Noggle was 23 years, four months and eight days old and was the son of the late Cicero and Martha Noggle, who preceded him to the grave several years ago. He joined the church at the age of 13 years and lived a most consecrated Christian life. He is survived by seven brothers and two sisters as follows: McClure Noggle of Forest City; Farris Noggle of Morganton; Theodore of Wilson, Clyde of Toluca; Jenkins of Hildebran; Edison and Irvin of Shelby; Bertha and Della of Morganton. He was buried at Hebron Methodist church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and leaves a host of relatives to mourn his death.

The brothers and sister have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. If you want anything done well, do it yourself. Always laugh at your own jokes. Though the world may owe every man a living, only the persistent collector gets it. Originality: Doing what some other fellow did so long ago that people have forgotten all about it. It is easier to make a new quarrel than to patch up an old one.

Modern Piano Merely Copy of Old Dulcimer Even the handsome pianos in our modern living and music rooms were not always as we know them today. The story of the development of the piano, like that connected with everything else we use, is a story of human ingenuity and continuous improvement.

The history of musical instruments shows us that the piano is very probably a modern development of an instrument known as the dulcimer. This was originally nothing more than a flat piece of wood, on which were fastened two converging strips of wood, across which strings were stretched and tuned to a natural scale. Sound was produced by lifting the strings with two hammers, one in each hand of the player.

As a separate musical instrument the dulcimer has probably been changed less than any other. Two pieces of wood have been added to produce a sound box to tune the strings; otherwise it is still in practically its original form. It is easily seen how the piano was developed from the dulcimer. The only difference in the principle of the two is the fact that the piano is larger, and its strings are struck by keys instead of hammers. The modern piano is really nothing more or less than a key dulcimer.

Wanted No Witnesses to Theatrical Flight In Sir James Barrow's play, "Peter Pan," Tinker Bell gets up her stage wings, hovers about the room and flies out of an open window. The playwright, watching one of his rehearsals, expressed a desire to try the mechanism by which this flight is achieved. Sir attendants attached the wires to the distinguished gentleman and prepared to hoist him in the air.

The amusing part of the story followed. Sir James, a veteran in the world of the theater, was suddenly struck by a terrible and overwhelming stage-fright. He commanded that every one leave the boards, and had the front curtain put down and the pass doors securely closed.

Then, alone in the room between the backdrop, the curtain and the wings, he was lifted up, manacled over Tinker Bell's route, and in all his disheveled dignity, soared out the window unperceived.
