—Dismissing—After the presentation last night of "The Message of The Cross," a sacred pageant written by Mrs. V. L. Goode of Lincolnton, the seats and platform on the lot adjacent the First Baptist church where the Scarborough meeting was held, are being dismantled. Seat frames are being preserved for use later, but the lumber is being sold.

—Another Joe—There are two Joe Carters in Cleveland county and when Joe Carter No. 1 was in court last week for making home brew, Joe Carter, No. 2, the barber, had friends who were surprised to think that he would be a home brew maker. Joe, the barber, says he has not been charged with making home brew. To him home brew does not have enough kick.

—Try Robbery—The safe at the Shelby Milk plant was the object of attack of burglars sometime during Friday night. The combination was broken open but the would-be burglars did not succeed in reaching the cash drawer. Nothing was missed, therefore, but the safe was badly damaged. DRY LEADERS IN NEAR WAR AFTER CANNON FLAREUP

One Report Has Haynes Seeking Secretaryship on Temperance Board. Another Talked.

Washington.—Wars and rumors of wars among prohibition leaders here are becoming more prevalent.

In the wake of the flare-up of Bishop James Cannon jr., of the M. E. church, South and Dr. Arthur J. Barton of the Southern Baptist convention over Wayne B. Wheeler's political observations, comes a fresh crop of interesting reports.

One is that former Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes will ask the northern Methodists elect him "general secretary" of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the church instead of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, who helped to oust Haynes as head of the dry enforcement unit in the treasury. Another is that Bishop Cannon's censure of Wayne B. Wheeler may mean the elimination of Wheeler, for, unless he is able to speak for the Anti-Saloon league it is unlikely that he will accept a curtailment of his power.

Wheeler was "called down" by Bishop Cannon for giving out a statement construed as a threat to nominate an independent candidate for the South to vote for in the event Governor Al Smith is nominated for President at the Democratic national convention.

Politicians here are speculating on the purposes of Messrs. Cannon and Barton who collaborated on the Wheeler "call down."

They say it has not been made clear whether Messrs. Cannon and Barton would support an independent candidate for President if the Democrats should nominate a man they term "wet."

Both men have large followings in their respective churches and among prohibitionists generally and a break between them and the Democrats might result in Republican gains in the South.

George Rothwell Brown had this to say in the Washington Post today:

"This feared that Wayne B. Wheeler is cherishing a delusion if he thinks the time will ever come when the wet-drinking, dry-voting South will swap white supremacy for the 18th amendment and that's what an independent dry Democrat would lead to. Watch your Dixie."

Prosperity Follows The Dairy Cow

....This statement long regarded with mild doubt, is being abundantly borne out among those farmers who have acquired good cows, and have learned to handle them properly. You, too can join the company of satisfied dairy men who are getting cash profits every month in the year by selling us their cream and feeding the skim milk to pigs and chickens.

Prepare now for winter dairying. Crops are looking mighty good at present, prices too. Arrange to add a few good cows to what you now have. Sit level in the boat. Hold your head, keep digging, save what you make—AND?
