Lovely Tea This Afternoon

Miss Mary Hull is giving a beautiful tea this afternoon at 5 o'clock at her lovely home on North Lafayette street.

Mr. and Mrs. Costner Honor Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Costner entertained Monday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dedmon from Birmingham, Ala., with a card party. The rooms were attractive with their lovely decorations of beautiful garden flowers most artistically arranged. At the conclusion of the evening elegant refreshments were served by Mrs. Costner and Misses Pauline and Ruth Dedmon.

Miss Robert Weds Mr. Brice, Of York

The many friends of Miss Julie Lee Roberts of Blacksburg, S. C. will be interested to learn of her marriage to W. N. Brice, of York. The bride is the daughter of Capt. Hoeds Taylor, of Montgomery, Ala., and is one of Blacksburg's most popular and attractive young women.

Mr. Brice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brice, York, S. C., and is a very promising young man, being the sole owner of the "Brice Battery Concern."

After their honeymoon the young couple will make their home in York.

Paul Webb, Jr., Entertains

Mrs. Paul Webb, Jr., was the charming hostess to the members of the Lucky Thirteen Bridge club on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The room was most charmingly decorated with a wealth of mid-summer flowers and were arranged in most beautiful receptacles. Tables were placed for the twelve members and on each were handsome vases holding the lovely flowers of the season. The place and score cards pertained to flowers and the flower idea was carried out in a charming way. At the conclusion of the games, beautiful prizes were given, and a most delicious and elegant collation was served to the guests.

Judge and Mrs. Webb Give Dinner

Judge and Mrs. James L. Webb gave a lovely dinner on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at their beautiful home on South Washington street honoring Judge Michael Schenck of Hendersonville who is presiding at the Cleveland term of court. The table was beautifully appointed having as its central decoration a charming green bowl holding radiant roses, and baby's breath. Covers were laid for twelve and a delicious five course dinner was served.

Mothers Of Legionaire To Meet Saturday

The first meeting of the newly organized Auxiliary of The Warren F. Hoyle post of the American Legion, will be held at the Woman's club room in the Masonic temple Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. It was announced today, Mrs. Frank L. Hoyle, president of the Auxiliary. Miss Choute, of Charlotte, district committee-woman, who was present at the organization meeting, will attend the Saturday afternoon meeting.

All women of the town and country who are eligible for membership are cordially invited to attend the meeting. To be eligible one must be mother, sister, wife or daughter of a man who was in service during the world war and who is now a member of an American Legion post. The only exception to the rule of present membership of the veteran in an American Legion post—that in Shelby or elsewhere—is when the relative of the woman apply for membership is dead, the death occurring either in service or since the close of the war.

It is of considerable interest that Mrs. Hoyle, mother of the young Marine for whom the Shelby post is named, is the first president of auxiliary.

She states that relatives of all men who were in the service, regardless of whether these men are now members of the legion, are cordially invited to attend Saturday's meeting. An excellent membership is expected in Shelby, which was, prior to last week, the largest town in North Carolina which did not have a Legion Auxiliary.

Attended Family Reunion

Miss Edna Parker the attractive and brilliant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parker returned home the past week from attending a family reunion in Williamston, S. C. The following clipping and original poem written by Miss Parker for this occasion will be read with interest by her friends. "Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the children and grand-children of William W. and Eliza K. Burley was held in the local park of Williamston last Sunday. All the children, thirteen in number were present. The aggregate attendance was sixty-seven. A brief service conducted at noon, one feature of which was a poem written to the memory of the father and mother of the family by Miss Edna Parker, of Shelby, N. C., one of the grand-children. Picnic dinner was spread in the pavilion.

"If we should draw Time's curtain, Say three score years and there, No doubt we'd see two lovers there. An evening just to spend In planning for their future life, Their home their wedding day, And all that goes to make The wedding bright and gay. Now just a few weeks later When everything is planned, It is the marriage day we see. He holds her by the hand, A tiny hand of plain pure gold. Upon her hand is placed, The thought of such a moment Can never be erased. A cottage small for them is built, And furnished neat and plain. Although its small it holds more love Than castles built in Spain. The spirit of their Lord stayed near To guide their feet each day, And make their home a happy one. Worked in a Christlike way, Now let us leave this couple dear, Say sixty years or more And then come back and view Their home but not as before, For they have left this earthly land And gone to heaven above, To be with God our Saviour And he will help them, too, But they have left upon this earth Gods greatest gift to them, In number, thirteen children here, And he will help them, too, To carry on his greatest work And to the lovers be true. EDNA PARKER.

INCREASE IN EFFICIENCY FROM PHYSICAL TRAINING

Physical training means an increase of the efficiency with which the chemical and physical processes of life are carried on, reports Hygeia, popular health magazine published by the American Medical Association.

Studies made recently showed that a trained man can perform a given amount of work with smaller consumption of oxygen than an untrained man and with less demand on his heart. The trained man breathes more slowly and more deeply and his heart beats less frequently. As a result of systematic exercise, the subjects of the study felt better and were more alert, their appetites improved, muscles developed and capacity for physical work increased.

CAN FIGHT MOSQUITOES NOW WITH SCHOOL OF MINNOWS

Draining ponds and marshes or pouring crude oil over such places is known to be one method of controlling malaria by preventing the breeding of the malaria-bearing mosquitoes. However, in summer resorts and at country clubs it is not practical to do this. Another method is to stock the ponds with small fish that eat the larvae of the mosquitoes, reports Hygeia. The edges of the ponds must first be cleared of willows, water grasses and floatage so as to leave a sharp bank that the fish can swim up to. Fish hatcheries of the state of Illinois are now prepared to ship minnows to any district in the state that is willing to cooperate in mosquito control.

COLD DRINKS IF TAKEN SLOWLY NOT HARMFUL

Because Americans eat more ice water than any other people in the world, they have as one of their summer health problems the proper care of the refrigerative material. Germs may live for varying periods in ice, so that ice from contaminated water is dangerous, warns Hygeia.

Contrary to general opinion, cold drinks taken slowly are not harmful since the circulation of the blood is sufficient to warm them up suitably after they are once taken.

Ice being expensive, it is proper to keep it covered in the refrigerator. However, it must not be too thoroughly covered or it will not keep the food in the ice box cold enough to prevent spoiling.

- AT THE MOVIES -

Ken Maynard in his latest Western thriller "The Devil's Saddle" is the feature at the Webb today and tomorrow. Maynard is a drawing card so much so that Mr. Webb is running this latest special two days.

Also showing in the News Reel are stirring scenes from the Dempsey-Sharkey fight. The end of the encounter is highly dramatic, showing Sharkey knocked out, and the milling of the vast throng about the ringside.

A very excellent picture is coming Monday—Douglas Fairbanks in "Robinhood." This picture is not Fairbanks latest, but it is reputed to be his best.

"Stark Love," the drama of the North Carolina mountains, filled the Princess last night. The picture proved to be all that was expected of it and more. Perhaps no better screen work has been seen here than the performance of the raw mountain youngster. There is a very fine picture due today, revealing more of the interesting details of back-stage life. The title of the piece is "Ten Modern Commandments."

The first of these modern commandments is "Get Your Man." You will enjoy the picture.

The first electric fans were made in 1884 and rented for $15 a season plus the cost of current.

A new mode of transatlantic travel was tried out on the Seine river recently, near the Pont de Suresnes. The model is that of an ocean glider, not a flying-machine or boat of ordinary type, but a new form of sea-going craft formed by double floats, one of which contains cables to accommodate ten passengers. It is driven by three motors which rise in the form of funnels, and it is these rotary towers which steer as well as propel the glider.

The craft as a whole, looks like a neatly built cottage. The length of the glider which will eventually make the voyage from Paris to Cherbourg and thence to New York will be about seventy-five feet. It will be thirty feet broad and fifteen feet high. The inventor, M. Andrien of Suresnes, thinks the trip will be made in about eighty-four hours.

SHE WENT FROM BAD TO WORSE

Down to 98 Pounds—Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having had my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse—was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."—Miss M. Riessinger, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose? Wealth? Happiness? Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers a Population

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Paris.—Midnight baths are the latest novelty at the smart summer resorts on the Cote d'Azur and at the Lido, near Venice. Fashionable holiday-makers, always in search of something new, are now taking their baths by the light of the moon instead of the hot sunlight. The nights are warm and the sea as calm as a lake. Combined with the moonlight, soft colored lights placed on the beach, show that the bathers are wearing the very latest costumes designed by the big couturiers in Paris. French doctors all agree that these midnight baths are conducive to the best of health and even certain cure for certain diseases. If Madame de Sevigne were to return, she would have plenty to write about in these days of midnight bathing. Years ago, she sang the praises of sea-baths, unknown before her days, as a remedy for rabies. Fortunately, Pasteur found better one.

"The Paris Season" has now grown to be something that goes on forever. Formerly, in a fashionable sense it ended with the Grand Prix and everybody that was somebody packed up and hurried away to the seaside, mountains or country. Dancing ceased and theatre audiences thinned out and every house showed long rows of closed shutters. The automobile has done much to keep people in Paris throughout the summer which they spend taking week-end trips to Beauville, Le Lourget, La Baule or any one of the many holiday resorts which have grown to be Parisian suburbs.

Then too, there is an ever-increasing tendency to make the city attractive to the many foreigners who come during the warm season, for after all, they would never understand Paris' "season."

"I just wanted it for luck," declared Madame Leonie Launic when she admitted recently that she took a piece of a dead woman's skull-bone soon after she had committed suicide. Madame Chapuis of Troyes shot herself through the mouth, splintering her skull. Madame Launic happened to be around and picked out a bone to bring her good luck. She will be prosecuted.

The hob is still causing tragedies in France. Solange Vaux, 17 years old, living at Lille with her parents, recently cut her long tresses, wishing to follow fashion as her other friends. Her fiancée was not of her opinion and reproached her to such an extent that the young girl wrote a long letter of adieu to the gentleman who abused her and threw herself headlong from the window.

A railway line across the Sahara Desert which would unite French Algeria, Tunis and Morocco to the French Sudan, Senegal, Nigeria and the Congo is being urged upon the government by one of the Deputies. It is believed that the colonies could invest a great part of the money required, in order to aid in their commercial development. Railway engineers are reported to consider it an easy matter to lay rails over three-quarters of the route, once the Atlas Mountains are crossed. The heart of Sudan would then be brought within five days railway journey of Paris.

Because of a copper shortage in Russia, a method of recovering copper and zinc from brass shavings has been worked out by Russian chemists.

According to a leading insurance authority the majority of cars stolen are taken by 'young lovers' who cannot afford to buy cars to take their sweethearts riding.
