FORD'S FIRST AIR TRIP LIKE PICNIC

Dearborn, Mich.—Henry Ford, the world's richest man, and his son, Edsel, took their first airplane rides when they soared aloft from the Ford airport with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in his famous Spirit of St. Louis.

After the Fords had each ridden in the glorious silver bird that spanned the Atlantic in 33 1/2 hours they decided to take another ride and, with Colonel Lindbergh at the controls, took off with nine other passengers in a giant Ford airplane.

This time a trip over the entire city was made, with the Fords expressing their delight in flying.

Sudden Impulse The motor manufacturer's decision to take a ride with the "Flying Colonel" was made on the spur of the moment. As he stood inspecting Lindbergh's plane, he said:

"I think I'm going up." Ford then walked over to Lindbergh, who nodded his head, and the famous pair climbed into the cockpit of the ship.

After remaining in the air ten or fifteen minutes Lindbergh brought his plane back to the hangar, and Edsel, who, like his father, had never taken a ride, climbed in behind the pilot and the ship was off again.

"It's fine. I certainly enjoyed that ride."

This was what Henry Ford said with a grin as he climbed out of the plane.

After Edsel and Lindbergh returned to the ground Henry Ford decided to take to the air again, and invited Colonel Lindbergh to fly one of the giant Ford transports. The Colonel agreed, and Henry and Edsel Ford, Major Thomas G. Lamphier, William B. Stout, William B. Mayo, Mrs. Roy Dahlinger, wife of Ford's farm superintendent; P. E. Martin, C. E. Sorenson and two newspapermen climbed into their motorized monoplane.

BODY GASTONIA MAN FOUND IN CREEK

Gastonia.—H. J. Shannon, aged 58, a prominent and highly respected farmer living three miles west of the city on the Gastonia-Bessemer road, was found dead in a small stream of water a mile from his home Thursday morning, the circumstances of his death being mysterious.

The body was found by a searching party composed of children and brothers of the deceased who tracked him from a cornfield near the house where he had gone to gather some roasting ears for dinner. He had been absent from the house about an hour and his body was still warm when found. Artificial respiration was resorted to in an effort to restore him to life, but without success.

In ill health for some weeks past, Mr. Shannon had been closely watched by the family and this was the first time he had gotten out of sight of some member of the family for some time.

Some distance from the body the party found a bloody rock and several bruises were discovered on the dead man's head. The suspicion being that he had been beaten himself on the head with this rock and later wandered down to the little branch.

From the position in which his body was found it is believed he was stooping over to get a drink when he was stricken by epilepsy or heart failure and fell to death was due to strangulation in the opinion of the coroner, W. A. Bantley, and members of the family who found the body. No evidence was found of foul play.

Negro Kills White Man Without Chance

Paul Johnson Shot With No Warning, Victim Was World War Veteran

Raeford.—Five miles out of town on the Raeford-Payetteville highway Hector Graham, Negro, accompanied by his little child in a car, drove up to a sudden halt near where Paul W. Johnson was working in a field called to Johnson to come out for a moment's conversation. When Johnson came he was met by a .45 caliber bullet squarely in the chest. He died in a short while.

Eye witnesses say no altercation preceded the shooting and that the negro drove away immediately. Sheriff Hall and a posse hastened to the scene and trailed Graham to his home near the Fort Bragg boundary. The sheriff interviewed the Negro's wife who showed them tracks across the field purporting to be her husband's saying that he took his gun and pistol along. Bloodhounds have been put on the chase, and the entire country around has joined in hunting down the assassin.

Graham went to a church recently, fired at random into the colored bystanders, wounding two, and is now out under a $900 bond for his appearance in court.

WELSH TOWN OF 12,000 IS LOSING POPULATION

(By International News Service) Cardiff, Wales — Blaenavon, a town of 12,000 inhabitants in Monmouthshire, has no housing problem, because, owing to industrial depression, the population is leaving every week in hundreds for other parts of England and Wales.

So bad has the outlook been for some years that no building has been undertaken by private enterprises.

Why argue? Most of those opposed to a third term for Coolidge, if that is what it is, are opposed to a second term for Coolidge, if that is what it is.—Detroit News.

COOLIDGE MAY BE DRAFTED FOR JOB

Congressman Thinks Convention Will Nominate President Despite His Refusal

Rapid City, S. D.—It is likely President Coolidge will be nominated next year in the same way in which he was nominated for the Vice Presidency in 1920, Representative Hull, of Illinois, said here.

At that time a spontaneous demonstration was begun for Coolidge after preparations had been made to nominate another. Hull said.

"Of course, Mr. Coolidge was sincere in his statement. He has gained in popularity. Business men, professional men, laboring men and farmers universally regret that the President does not desire to succeed himself.

Second To Lincoln "But I believe he will be recorded in the history of Presidents as second only to Lincoln.

"Illinois would have cast her votes for Mr. Coolidge in the primary and the election if he had desired to accept them.

"If Mr. Coolidge is not nominated the Republican party will have many great men to succeed him. Among those who are satisfactory are Dawes, Lowden and Deneen, of Illinois; Watson, of Indiana; Longworth, of Ohio; Hughes and Wadsworth, of New York, and Hoover, of California."

Brush Lauds Coolidge On the same train with Hull came Mathew C. Brush, president of the American International Corporation of New York, and Assistant Attorney-General Donovan.

Brush said his visit was purely personal, not political. He added, however:

"In the twenty-five years I have known Mr. Coolidge he has always been right."

Donovan said he was looking up some cases for the department in this section of the country and just dropped in to pay his respects.

ONE TOWN STICKS TO PURITAN IDEAS

There is yet one town left where the people do not believe in the worthless waste so prevalent in nearly every community you go.

Falcon, N. C., a little village in Cumberland county, 7 miles south east of Dunn, is probably the only town in the United States where neither a cigarette, Coca Cola, plug of tobacco, nor dust of snuff can be bought.

The village is composed of a few hundred persons, who are mostly members of the Wesleyan church. They have a church building open to all church people. In addition, they have a very large building built on the tabernacle plan, in which thousands gather every summer to engage in a camp meeting service lasting for several weeks. They have a building well arranged for the assembly, where the visitors cook, eat and sleep.

These meetings are the high-water mark of joy for tens of thousands of people every year, where singing praying, and preaching is the order of both day and night.

The Falcon orphanage, where a number of boys and girls are cared for, and the interdenominational outreach of their school, recently completed, are the outgrowth of the camp meetings, which furnish the funds to maintain these institutions.

It only takes a glance at an orphan home or to a religious school to convince the mind that if we deny ourselves the pleasures of a few habits that we can invest in more lasting pleasures.

The religion that causes men to deny themselves in order to help others will certainly be awarded.

Prohibition Ruins Science Of Cooking And Chef Gives Up

(By International News Service) San Francisco.—San Francisco epicures mourned today the passing into private life of Victor Hirtzler, the chef who helped San Francisco maintain her reputation of being one of the culinary centers of the universe.

Victor is returning to his native Alsace after twenty-five years of creative artistry in San Francisco.

"Prohibition has ruined the science of cooking in America," Victor asserted. "I can't do justice to my patrons with wines and fine liquors banned."

BEGS JAILERS PARDON FOR MAKING ESCAPE

Goldsboro.—Dave Pearce escaped from the Wayne jail on Wednesday, leaving a note to Jailor Cudington explaining that he had gone home to see about his crops and his hogs. He stated in the note that he hoped Sheriff Grant would not think hard of him as he would return in a few days to finish out his term. Pearce was serving a term of four months for liquor law violations.
