Master Thomas Morrison the attractive young son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Morrison celebrated his fourth birthday with a lovely party on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The lawn was a beautiful scene with the happy children playing all kinds of games and their merry laughter ringing out on the air. The dining room was most beautiful and the lovely table was centered with the handsome birthday cake with the four little pink candles burning. Delicious ice cream, cakes, nuts and candies were served and each little guest was given a souvenir in the shape of balloons and other attractive toys as they left. Master Morrison received numerous gifts.

Mrs. W. J. Arey Entertains 20th Century.

Mrs. W. J. Arey was a most gracious hostess to the members of the Twentieth Century club on Friday afternoon at four o'clock at her lovely home on the Cleveland Springs road. Many beautiful and handsome fall flowers were used as the beautiful decorations and this being a social meeting four tables were placed for bridge and root. The afternoon was most pleasantly spent in playing these ever interesting games. When the cards were laid aside Mrs. Arey assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Will Arey and Mrs. C. B. McBrayer served most elegant and delicious sweet and ice course.

Chiefta Club Held Meeting

At the delightful Blanton home on Friday afternoon at four o'clock Mrs. George Blanton was hostess to the members of this oldest club, this being their first fall meeting of the season. The charming rooms were most beautiful with their wealth of autumn flowers used most artistically throughout the home. A full attendance was present and promptly on the hour the president, Mrs. B. T. Falls called the meeting to order. After the roll call and minutes much business was discussed and the literature given out for the next meeting. This being a business and opening meeting a social hour was then enjoyed and the hostess at five o'clock assisted by her most charming daughter, Miss Millicent Blanton served the most elegant refreshments. Mrs. G. M. Webb of Birmingham, Ala., was a most attractive guest.

Isbington Club With Mrs. C. B. Suttle, Jr.

Mrs. C. B. Suttle, Jr. was a most charming hostess to the members of the Isbington club on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at her beautiful apartment on the Cleveland Springs road. Gorgeous fall flowers and in all their vivid beauty were used throughout the rooms making a flower-like setting. A full number of the club answered to roll call. After the minutes a business session was held then the program was taken up. The subject of the afternoon was "A Southern Program." Miss Lucy Hamrick told in a most delightful way "What and Where is Dixie Land." This was followed by a most instructive paper by Mrs. G. G. Moore on Daniel Emmet. Miss Elizabeth McBrayer then told most charmingly about Will Rogers, "The South's Diplomat." A delightful musical program was then rendered by Mrs. Suttle and a social hour was enjoyed and a most tempting and elegant collation was served.

Lucky Thirteen Meets With Mrs. Drum

Mrs. Rena Drum was the charming hostess to the members of the Lucky Thirteen club on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. This attractive and home-like home was most beautiful on this occasion with its wealth of fall flowers most artistically arranged. Three tables were placed for bridge and on each was centered with little vases of fall flowers. The score and place cards carried out the charming flower idea. After many pivots the cards were laid aside, lovely gifts presented and a most delicious collation was served. Mrs. Tom Moore won high prize and Miss Adeline Bostick, low prize.

Mrs. Play Hoey Hostess To Club

The South Washington Bridge club held one of the most delightful meetings of the fall season with their charming hostess Mrs. Play Hoey on Thursday afternoon. The rooms were most beautiful with their wealth of vivid fall flowers most attractively arranged. In the dining room on a lovely lace covered table a most exquisite picture was made by a large and handsome green bowl holding the loveliest shades of pink zinnias and dahlias interspersed with green. Four tables were placed for bridge and on each were crystal vases holding pink roses and delicate ferns. The most artistic place and score cards were used. Mrs. Frank Hoey scored high and was given a handsome deck of cards. Mrs. Draper Wood scored low and she was given the quaintest doll made of exquisite perfume. The hostess served the most tempting and delicious refreshments.

Evening Division Has Delightful Meeting

The first fall meeting of the evening division was held at the home of Mrs. Ceph Blanton on Friday evening at eight o'clock. The rooms were thrown together and were lovely with their fall roses in all their exquisite beauty and the flaming colored zinnias. Quite a large number of the members were present. Mrs. Blanton and Miss Rosa Mae Shuford were the delightful hostesses and the leader was Mrs. Blanton. After the roll call and minutes a business session was held and committees for the fall were appointed and much other business discussed and the program given to each member. The subject of the evening was "Russia." In the absence of Mrs. Charles Hoey, Miss Carobel Lever read Mrs. Hoey's splendid paper on "Physical Russia and her Dominions." This was followed by a most interesting paper on "Russian Aristocracy and Rural Life," by Mrs. Irma Wallace. Miss Mary Hardy closed the program with a most enlightening paper on "Freedom and the New Russia." When the papers were laid aside a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served the most tempting and delicious refreshments.

CALLS COLUMBUS AND LINDBERGH OCEAN PIONEERS

Commander Of American Legion Speaks At Columbus' Home Town. Looks Backward.

(By International News Service.)

Genoa, Italy, Sept. 26.—Howard P. Savage, national commander of The American Legion, at a reception held in his honor here today on the post-convention tour of Legion officials, linked together the names of Columbus and Lindbergh as gallant pioneers of Atlantic pathways. He said in part:

"It is especially fitting that we of The American Legion, in our pilgrimage from the New World across the sea, are privileged to visit this beautiful city of Genoa. This is the birthplace of Christopher Columbus, the discoverer of the continent that gave us birth.

"The pages of history are filled with the deeds of brave men. Many of them are soon forgotten. Perhaps once in a century there appears a rare soul of adventurous and high spirited manhood who accomplishes an inspired task. Such a man is our own Lindbergh, that gallant, yet modest, flier who, alone with his plane, brought closer together the shores of two hemispheres.

Looking Backward

"Looking backward down the centuries, we find a similar soul in the courageous Columbus, who, likewise, ventured into an untried void and pioneered a way across the Atlantic, standing alone, at times, yet undaunted in his determination not to turn back.

"Many millions have sailed in ships across the Atlantic since Columbus showed them the way. No doubt, in time to come, millions more will fly across. But neither time nor numbers will ever dim or detract from the feat of either.

"America has this wonderful city to thank for her very existence. Perhaps a Higher Hand than we can see guides the fate of the people of this earth. We can only know that the advent of the baby, Columbus, here more than five hundred and seventy years ago, changed the movement of great races, and if it had not been for him, we in all probability, would not be here today.

New Civilization

"A new Western civilization was created through his deed. Out of that new country our nation has been formed. Many of your countrymen were among the countless numbers that followed Columbus. Today many more of them are in our land, doing their part in the melting pot of American citizenship, seeking peace, happiness and prosperity.

"With that thought in mind, is it not fitting here today that we pledge ourselves to take as good care as we can of that new lane Columbus your Columbus and ours, opened up? "The American Legion, just a few short years ago, fought to keep danger away from that new country and to help rescue the Old World from the throes of the Great War. Here in "Genoa the Sugarb" the birthplace of Columbus, let us receive a new inspiration to carry on toward all those objectives that will best benefit humanity, and promote the well-being of all the peoples of the earth."

- AT THE MOVIES -

Clara Bow, the "flaming-haired madcap of the screen" is about to "madcap" again with the announcement today that her latest Paramount production "Hula" will be today and Tuesday, at the Princess theatre.

"Hula" according to those who have seen the latest presentation of Miss Bow, is one of the very best pictures offered the motion picture public this year. As the title suggests, it is a tale of the Hawaiian Islands with the upper stratum of society in the limelight.

How To Keep Warm

"It is said that paper may be used most effectively in keeping a person warm."

"That's true. I remember a thirty-day note of mine once kept me in a sweat for a month."—Manhattan Quadrangle.
