Badges And Ballots. Political fervor in this section has reached the badge and ballot stage. During the past week local Democratic leaders received a batch of Smith-Robinson badges and posters, which gave out in a short time, they say.

Treasury Deficit. Dispatches today state that Director Lord, of the budget department of the United States treasury, estimates that there will be a deficit of $94,279,346 in the treasury for this fiscal year.

Discretion Urged In Trash Removal By Mayor Dorsey

Much Trash And Garbage Could Be Burned And Save City Money, Stated

The removal of trash and garbage in the city has become one of Shelby's major problems, according to Mayor W. N. Dorsey, who states that many citizens could help the administration and save money if they would cooperate with the street department in the removal of trash and garbage.

According to the mayor much of the trash and garbage piled in to the containers for city trucks to remove to the garbage dump could be burned or made away with on the premises thus saving the city money, which is to save the citizens. Three trucks now operate daily removing trash, it is said, and it costs approximately $2.50 per load to remove trash. That the city is willing to do all that it can in keeping the premises clean is stressed by Mayor Dorsey, but he believes that if citizens cooperate the cost of trash removal could be reduced.

Learn Trash Days. Added expense could be prevented, was stated, if the residents of every street would learn just what day of the week the street department collects trash on that street.

"There is a tendency," Mayor Dorsey stated, "for nearly all to want their trash removed on Friday and Saturday. This is impossible," he added, "because it takes an entire week for the trucks to get around the city and all cannot be served on one or two days. Often," he said, "some housewife calls the street department and states that she wants her trash removed Saturday morning. We inform her that the trucks worked her street Thursday, or some other day, but she answers that her trash was not assembled then and wants a truck back. That means $2.50 for one load from that home. If those who live on each street would always have their garbage and trash ready for removal on the day that street is worked much expense and worry could be saved. We are doing all that we can to keep Shelby clean, but if we doted about here and there as the calls come in we would need twice the force we have now and it is costing something like $30 per day now to remove the trash. I believe that if the citizens would think it over they would gladly cooperate with us in holding down the expense and also in keeping their premises clean. We work the residential sections once each week and the business section every day, including Sunday. Most people perhaps do not realize it but there are approximately 50 or more families in Shelby than there were one year ago. This adds to the work and cost, but if all the citizens get acquainted with our system and trash day for their street we could keep the expense down and also keep the city clean."

It was also stated that some requests are for the trash department to clean out from under the houses, clean up woodsheds, and suchlike. It is explained that the street department does not necessarily require that the trash be put in containers, but it is required that it be placed in a pile. It would be far too expensive to the entire city for the street force to clean up the premises in order to get the trash they haul away, officials say.

Ex-Service Men Go To Charlotte

A number of Shelby and Cleveland county ex-service men are attending the North Carolina American Legion convention in Charlotte today.

Among those known to have gone down this morning were Dr. Tom Gold, Mike H. Austell, H. C. Long, and Buck Archer.

YOUTH RUNS DOWN BANK TO INSTANT DEATH UNDER CAR

12-Year-Old Kings Mountain Boy Crushed In Unavoidable Accident Sunday.

Luther Davis, 12-year-old Kings Mountain boy, ran laughing down a bank into Highway 205 near the Park Yarn mills, there, late Sunday afternoon to be crushed to death under the wheels of a passing automobile as his horror-struck playmates looked on.

According to information given The Star at Kings Mountain today the fatal accident was unavoidable. The car which struck the youth was driven by Lindsay Templeton, Gastonia lumberman, whose wife was with him in the car.

No Eye Witnesses. There were no eye-witnesses to the fatality except the occupants of the car and the playmates of the boy. They say that the youth dashed down the bank, from a fill on one side of the new highway right into the path of the car and was struck before the car could be stopped. His head was badly crushed. It was stated at the undertaking parlor where his remains were handled, Mr. Templeton, driver of the car, was not held after officers heard how the accident occurred, although he was informed that he might be needed for an investigation later.

Parents Away. The parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis, were away in South Carolina, where they were spending the day with friends when they were notified of the tragedy. They returned home last night and funeral services for their son will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday.

BIG DUB DAY ON GOLF LINKS HERE

Tournament for Beginners Thursday At Cleveland Springs. All Invited.

The second annual dub tournament will be held at the Cleveland Springs golf course Thursday of this week, it is announced by Mr. McComb, Cleveland Springs professional.

Will Play Free. The tournament is open to every person in and about Shelby who has never played golf before, and the play for the day will be free to those entering. Furthermore two or more prizes will be offered, the grand prize going to the beginner who goes around the course in the least number of strokes, while the "booby" prize will be awarded the beginner who takes the largest number of strokes to make the course.

A year ago a similar tournament was held and proved to be one of the most entertaining events ever staged on the local course.

Comes On Holiday. As the tournament comes on the last half-holiday of the summer here a big crowd is expected to participate in the event and another big crowd will likely look on to see the antics of the embryo golf stars.

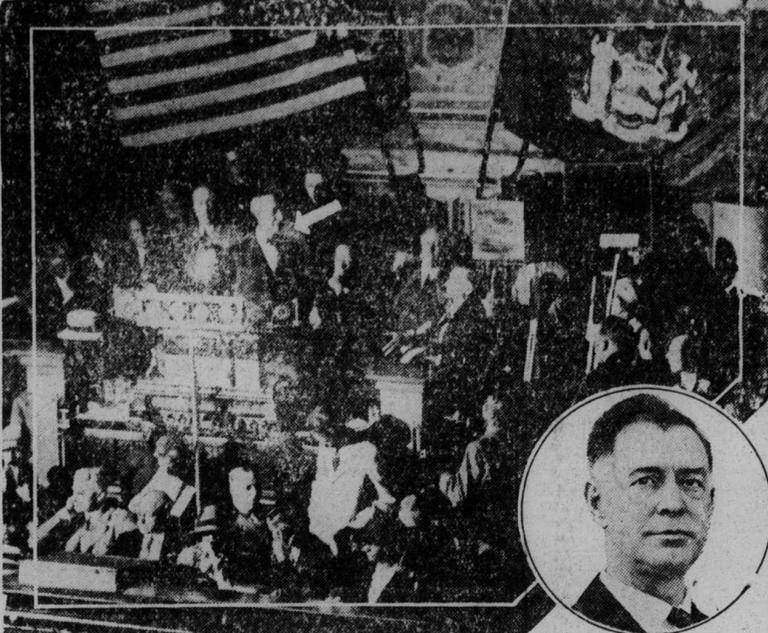

All that is required for entrance in the tourney is registration at the golf house Thursday with the information that the entrant has never played before. Clubs and other needed accessories will be furnished by members of the club.

To Open Business College In Shelby

Mr. J. Gordon Wootton of Jersey City, New Jersey, who has been visiting his brother, Mr. Paul Wootton here for a week or ten days has been so favorably impressed with Shelby as a logical location for a business college, he has decided to open one here the early part of the new year. Several locations are in mind, but he has not decided just where the school will be located.

Mr. Wootton has had 15 years experience as a teacher of commercial courses and is now connected with the city schools at Jersey City. He desires to open a school of his own and comes highly recommended. He will offer courses such as bookkeeping, banking, accounting, penmanship, commercial law, commercial geography, commercial arithmetic, English, secretarialship, salesmanship, advertising and management. A competent staff of instructors will be employed.

When Smith Accepted Nomination

Appeal Always To Fair Sex When Voters Are Needed; But Few Get Jobs. Rumored That Smith Or Hoover May Appoint Woman To Cabinet

By RODNEY DUTCHER (NEA Service Writer)

Washington, Aug. 27.—Up to election time the politicians feel that nothing is too good for the women. After that, it seems to be different.

As long as there are votes to be corralled, their sex, with its 25 or 30 million possible ballots, is the equal of the male in every respect.

This will be the third presidential election in which the ladies have been permitted to function. Meanwhile, they have been put on a more or less equal footing on both the Republican and Democratic national committees with one woman member for every man member, given vice chairmanships and had special jobs created for them to encourage them to round up their sisters under the party standard.

The candidates never neglect to make soulful appeals to American womanhood and the party platforms continue to flatter all concerned on the fact that the sexes now have equal rights. Many earnest gals go out and work their heads off in every state for one slate of candidates or the other. Isn't it wonderful the way women are playing a bigger and bigger part in national affairs?

But after the votes are counted and all the male politicians prepare to line up for places, the ladies generally are taken for a sleigh ride and dumped into a deep snowbank. If a single one happens to get a finger into the gravy boat it becomes a national sensation and everybody beats the drum in celebration of this new recognition of the way American women are forging ahead and taking their places beside the men.

Your correspondent can think of just about three women in the government service occupying really large and important jobs. They are: Mabel Walker Willebrandt, one of several assistant attorney generals; Civil Service Commissioner Jessie Dell and Chairman Bessie Parker.

Simmons Kept Resignation Ready For Committee, Report

Raleigh.—The News and Observer says that Senator F. M. Simmons had authorized friends to present his resignation as United States senator to the state Democratic executive committee if a resolution asking it had been passed, but that in that event he would immediately have filed notice of his candidacy to succeed himself and taken his case before voters of the state. In doing this, the newspaper says "Senator Simmons took cognizance of a suggestion in one of the state papers that a movement was under way to ask him to resign his seat in view of the fact that he

BOOZE RAID NETS 21 PINTS LIQUOR

Deputies Uncover Rum Cache Near Beaver Dam Filling Station On Saturday.

A raid made at the Beaver Dam filling station, west of Shelby on highway 20, late Saturday afternoon netted 21 pints of corn whiskey and four cases of empty pint bottles. One of the two men, said to have charge of the station, was also nabbed by the officers, while the other made his getaway. The man captured is known by the name of Laws and is said to have come here from Charlotte. The other man is understood to be a native, or former resident of Asheville.

Across Road. The deputies participating in the raid, Mike Austell, Jerry Runyan, Bob Kendrick and Harvey Harrelson, made a search of the woods just across the highway in front of the filling station and it was there that they found the score of pint bottles hid in a brush pile. The four cases of empty bottles and stoppers were said to have been found in the service station.

According to information at the court house the station has been raided several times before but no whiskey found. A preliminary hearing scheduled for Laws today in county court was postponed until Tuesday for the state despite the objections of defense counsel.

Three Guess Near Total Run Of Car

Whippet Car, Swung Up, Ran Over 438 Miles In 46 Hours. Hundreds Guess.

The Whippet car elevated from the floor last week at the Stewart Motor company ran, according to its speedometer, 438 7-10 miles in 46 hours.

When the car was elevated and the motor started the flier offered $25 in gold to the person guessing nearest the number of miles it would run in 46 hours. More than a thousand guesses had been filed up to 6 o'clock Saturday when the car was stopped, and about fifty percent of the total guesses were within the 400-mile mark, it is said.

Three people, guessing 439 miles, or within three-tenths of the exact figure, were declared to be the winners. Whether or not they will draw for the prize, or split it was not known when the contest closed Saturday. The fortunate ones were Pierce Brown, S. DeKalb street; Mrs. B. Roy Wilson, Shelby, R-1, and Carl Mauney, Shelby, R-1.

Among the close guessers were Mrs. E. E. Scott and John Jones, of Lattimore, who guessed 438 miles, and C. A. Jones, of Lattimore, who guessed 439 7-10 miles, or just one mile more, to the fraction, than the car ran.

Those spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Will Griffin Sunday were, Mr. and Mrs. John Godwin and son of High Point, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Runyans and children, Mrs. Sara E. McSwain of Earl and Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts and daughter, Mrs. Don Livingston and baby of Charlotte are visiting Mrs. Russell Laughridge.

TO RENEW MINE WORK IN COUNTY NEAR CAMP CALL

Indiana Mining Firm To Re-open Kaolin Mine Which May Yield 144,000 Tons.

Mining operations in the Camp Call section will be resumed in a few days, according to J. M. Lofland and M. W. Gage, representatives of the National Kaolin Company, of Indianapolis, Indiana, who have just arrived here and taken charge of 81 acres of land which the company controls. This land is estimated by engineers to contain five distinct veins that will yield 144,000 tons of kaolin used in the manufacture of paper, tiling, electric press porcelain, china, etc. In addition to kaolin, this company has a quantity of mica on their land holdings in this county and will also mine this product used in the manufacture of wall paper, fire proof roofing and electrical devices.

Messrs. Lefland and Gage say their engineer Mr. Karl M. Kantz will arrive early next month. At present they are arranging to get electric power to the mine and as soon as this is done, a saw mill will set to work cutting timber for buildings. Machinery has been purchased that will prepare the kaolin and mica for market and it is estimated that shipments can be made by the first of the year.

Work Near Shore. Between 18 and 24 men will be employed at the mines. It is understood that this mine is known as the old Greene mine, bought from David Wray, together with adjoining property bought from Will Weathers. It has been worked for a number of years on different occasions, but is said to be in new hands now and properly financed by outside capital to carry through. Messrs. Lefland and Gage are now directing their attention toward getting electric power to the mine to drive the machinery to be used in grinding and refining the products.

GRID OUTLOOK AT BOILING SPRINGS

Have Several Big Games Booked. May Play One Game Or More Here

Boiling Springs operating for the first time this fall as a junior college assures Cleveland county that its first college football eleven will be worth some attention.

According to early reports from the Baptist college the Boiling Springs grid outfit will measure up to the average junior college football class in its first year. Among the games reported to have been scheduled already are those with Blue Ridge, Wingate college, Gaffney, and perhaps Mars Hill, while negotiations are underway for a game with Oak Ridge, prep school champions.

May Play Here. There is some likelihood, it is learned, that Boiling Springs may play one or two of their best games in Shelby. Such a move should prove a financial success considering the enthusiasm Shelby has for football and the interest local fans will have in the county collegiate eleven.

Buck Coble, former Shelby high star, will be one of the additions to the Boiling Springs line and with numerous veterans back the Boiling Springs mentor hopes to have a husky, fast-moving outfit.

Alligator Caught Here, Put In Pool

An alligator about three feet long was caught Sunday night about 10 o'clock while it wandered around on West Warren street on the vacant lot across from Mr. Charlie Young. Some young ladies walking, saw the 'gator cross the street and reported it to a bunch of Scout boys who promptly made the capture with a forked stick. The 'gator was placed in one of the fountains on the square for the children to enjoy. Just how it happened to be in this vicinity, is not known. One theory is that it dropped from the car of a tourist returning from Florida.

Miss Virginia Hoey has returned from Richmond, Va., where she has been visiting friends for several weeks.

County Candidates And Party Friendly, No Upheaval Likely

No Spirit Of Discord In County Party, Falls Says. Gardner To Close Campaign With Big Rally Here. Best Governed County In State Under Democrats, Said

Hard To Estimate Cotton Crop Over County, Many State

Very Few Bolls On Mome Stalks, Others Filled. Cotton Did Not Fruit

At first glance it seems likely that Cleveland county will make 50,000 or more bales of cotton this year, farmers say, but a close inspection of the cotton in various sections of the county makes the record production problematical.

"It is the hardest crop to figure out that I have ever seen," declared one farmer. In some fields, he stated, some of the stalks have only a few bolls; while in other fields the stalks are well filled and a bumper crop seems likely.

The scarcity of bolls on many stalks is not attributed to the recent storms knocking bolls and shapes off but to the fact that some of the cotton just did not fruit well. That the corn crop is damaged even worse than was thought shortly after the heavy rains is the consensus of opinion now.

Farmers To Tour County Thursday

Hundred Or More County Farmers To Visit Demonstrations In Own County.

Thursday morning of this week, August 30, a hundred or more Cleveland county farmers will assemble at the Blanton farm on highway 20 west of Shelby at 10 o'clock in the morning for a tour of several fertilizer demonstrations on various farms in the county.

The tour will be in charge of County Agent Alvin Hardin, Prof. Taylor of the Lattimore school, and two representatives of a nitrate of soda bureau, who will give information and advice to the farmers on the tour.

The tour will cover a half dozen or more farms in this county and lunch will be taken at the Forrest Crowder farm. Every farmer in the county who can do so is urged to make the day's tour, which is expected to be highly beneficial to those participating.

M. R. Weathers To Practice Law Here

Maurice R. Weathers is now a full-fledged attorney, having successfully passed the board of examiners at Raleigh this week after a course of study under Prof. N. Y. Gully of the law department of Wake Forest college. He will be sworn in before a superior court judge at an early term of court in this vicinity.

Mr. Weathers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Weathers, and has been studying law at Wake Forest for sometime. He will open offices in the Judge J. L. Webb building in a few days for practice.

Miss Mildred Weaver has returned from Hickory after a three weeks visit to her sister, Mrs. C. S. Hord.

Wilkins Also To Fly To South Pole, Not Rivalling Byrd, Says

Purposes Of Expedition Include Location Of Meteorological Station.

Omaha, Neb.—Capt. George Wilkins, Alaska to Spitzbergen flier, faces the task with three companions of flying 2,500 miles in South Polar regions and mapping 2,000 miles of coast line in unexplored antarctic lands.

His expedition will not compete with Commander Byrd's, Captain Wilkins said in disclosing plans for his trip. Location of a twelfth meteorological station, as well as other topographical work, will be the principal mission of the expedition, he said.

Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson and two other companions as yet unnamed, will leave New York with Captain Wilkins, September 22, to join a fleet of Norwegian whalers at Montevideo, Uruguay.

Cleveland county Democracy will go into an emerge from the coming election just as hale and hearty as it has for 30 years, according to Judge B. T. Falls, county chairman, in discounting rumors to the effect that Republicans hope to make big gains this year.

Chairman Falls supports his prediction by citing that there is not a better governed county in the state, that the party in the county emerged from a warm primary with harmony prevailing, and that county candidates, as well as defeated candidates in the primary, are supporting the ticket with no thought of "bolting" as Republicans, hoping to stir up something, have claimed.

Big County Rally. Furthermore, the chairman made it known for the first time that Cleveland county's first governor, O. Max Gardner, will close his gubernatorial campaign with a speech at a big rally to be held here.

Has Seen Candidates. Chairman Falls when asked about the report that some of the defeated candidates in the primary were bolting the Democratic party in this election, said:

"There were ten candidates for sheriff, and contests on in two other county offices, besides the board of commissioners and I have talked with nearly every one of the candidates and have heard from the others indirectly and not a one of them is thinking of bolting the Democratic party, or opposing any of the Democratic nominees. There is no occasion for their doing so. I was confident without investigation that they were true Democrats and would gracefully abide by the result of the primary and support all nominees of the party in accordance with the pledge in filing notices of their candidacy."

No Reason For Bolt. "Indeed there is no occasion for any Democrat in Cleveland county to bolt the Democratic party, or any of its candidates. There is not a county in the state any better governed, or its affairs more efficiently and economically administered than the affairs of Cleveland county. County officers are a model of neatness and efficiency and courtesy. The county officers collect more in fees than their salaries amount to and turn the surplus into the county treasury, and the efficiency of our board of commissioners is attested by the fact that its chairman is the chairman of the governor's advisory board for efficiency in county government. The Democratic party of Cleveland county has had undisputed control of the county government for thirty years and not a dollar has ever been lost or a dishonest act ever attributed to one of its officers."

All For Ticket. When asked about the attitude of the candidates for county offices toward supporting the Democratic nominee for president, he said, "I have personally interviewed every man on the Democratic ticket and their reply assures me that every one of them is loyal to the Democratic party and all of its candidates from constable to president."

Gardner Closing. When asked as to his plans for speaking in the county, the chairman stated that Hon. Clyde R. (Continued on page two.)
