

Yankees Leading In Second

At the end of the second inning in today's World Series game the Yankees were leading the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2. New York's runs came when Ruth was walked with one on and his home run twin, Lou Gehrig, walked one over the fence for a homer. Pignat is hurling for New York and Grover Alexander for St. Louis.

Rain Likely.

Today's North Carolina Weather Report: Partly cloudy and probably showers in western and north portions tonight. Saturday not much change in temperature.

Fast Service.

The Star, a tri-weekly newspaper, today scores another notable "beat" due to the remarkable service of the International News photo.

In this issue is a photo of Babe Ruth scoring the first run in yesterday's World Series game at New York; also a big photo of the crowd seeing the first game. The photos were rushed here by telephoto, air mail and special delivery.

It is the second "beat" scored by The Star, even over daily newspapers in this section, as The Star presented first actual photos on the Puerto Rican and Florida storms.

TEACHERS ENJOY KIWANIS DINNER

Delightful Musical Program By Talented Artists Rendered At Annual Social Affair.

With their wives at home to be entertained later in a ladies' night program, the members of the Kiwanis club last night had as their guests the 78 teachers of the public schools of Shelby. The entertainment of the teachers is an annual affair with the Kiwanis club and is a red letter event in the Kiwanis year. The program last night was largely musical with some of Shelby's best talent in voice and instrument, together with Mr. Will Neal, Charlotte banker whose clear, strong voice is always heard with great delight.

Mr. Forrest Eskridge, chairman of the reception committee, was in charge of affairs. Words of welcome were spoken by President J. S. Dorton and Kiwanian D. Z. Newton. Prof. Horace Eason with Mrs. H. S. Plaster piano accompanist sang a number of delightful selections, while Mr. Neal charmed the audience with his splendid voice and the "Plaster" orchestra composed of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Plaster, W. T. Sinclair, and W. S. Buchanan gave a number of instrumental numbers.

Souvenirs in the form of small boxes of candy were given by the Stephenson Drug Co., matches by Hord and Ransom and a beautiful basket of roses was awarded Miss Brown, a teacher from Mississippi for making the most words out of the name of the donor, "Wakefield." She made 39 words in two minutes. Favors were also given the artists of the evening.

A number of Kiwanians will go next Wednesday to Winston-Salem to attend the Carolinas district convention. On Friday night of next week the Rotary club of Shelby will entertain the Kiwanians.

STATUS OF LEWIS UNDER DISCUSSION

Officer Has Not Been Sent As Yet For War Vet Prisoner. Puzzles Officials.

The status of Frank Lewis, war vet, chain gang convict, and now an inmate of the insane department of the State prison, is still a matter of debate here.

Late information is that Mr. R. L. Ryburn, county attorney, has taken up the matter with officials at the prison, and an officer will not likely be sent for Lewis until a reply to the Ryburn letter has been received.

May Stay In Jail.

What to do with Lewis if he is brought back constitutes the main worry for county officials. It is almost an impossibility for convict camp supervisors to work him, it is said; and if returned Lewis may serve the remainder of his term in jail.

The case is creating considerable discussion as there are many to cling to the opinion that Lewis was not guilty of the charge on which he was convicted.

A number of Shelby fans are today witnessing the Shelby-Waynesville game at Waynesville and the Gaffney High-Bowing Springs college game at Gaffney.

Blanton Head Of "Antis"

Small Crowd Attends First Anti-Smith Gathering Here. Bennett Speaks.

Joe E. Blanton, former No. 6 road commissioner and supervisor of the chain gang, is the chairman of the anti-Smith movement in Cleveland county, being named to that post at the first meeting of anti-Smiths held at Eastside school last night.

The first formal gathering of Smith foes in this county gathered at the call of George M. Vaughn, who shortly after the opening of the meeting introduced the speaker, Mr. O. K. Bennett, of Asheville.

Crowd Not Large.

The crowd attending the meeting did not assume the proportions expected by many, not over 30 attending by actual count and from general appearances not many voting precincts in the county were represented. Several people present were loyal Democrats who listened in to hear how the organization would work.

No Religious Fight.

Other than the Bennett speech there were no talks. The speaker first of all declared that he was a Democrat, and not a Republican, but could not support Smith. He informed his hearers that the anti-Smith movement in North Carolina was based upon Smith's prohibition and migration views and these were depicted. Smith's religion, the speaker declared, was not being fought.

Support Democrats.

Indication was that the state movement against Smith would, however, support state and local Democratic tickets.

"We are fighting no one but Smith, and it is a matter for you to decide about the state and your local tickets," Bennett declared.

Continuing the speaker outlined the working plan of the anti-Smith movement and perfected a local organization.

Mr. Blanton, as stated above, was chairman with the following as members of the committee: George M. Vaughn, H. H. Stevenson, L. L. Wortman and Fred Senter.

No Worry Over County Ticket, Say The Leaders

So Sure To Go Democratic That County Race Is Little Talked.

That the county Democratic ticket will carry in Cleveland county is so certain that it isn't even being talked by the voters, declare county leaders here.

"No one has any idea that any of the Democrats on the county ticket will be defeated in the November election," stated a local leader today. "A Democratic victory is so much of a certainty that one cannot get up a conversation on the subject."

Leaders discussed the subject slightly when one County Democrat declared that more interest should be shown in the county race, particularly the talker said with Mr. Mull, legislative candidate, and Mr. Gardner both away from home.

The answer given him was that Republicans are not showing any campaign spirit except for one office and that follows a custom of making a fight for one office in order to hold the party together in the county.

Judge B. T. Falls, county chairman sees nothing whatsoever to worry about with a native of the county as candidate for governor. With no campaigning at all, he says, the county would return a big majority for the other candidates. However, the weekly array of speakers faring forth into the county are making a plea not only for the national ticket, but also for the state and county ticket, he said.

MAN KILLED ON 206 ROAD WORK

Dynamite Cache Explodes Near Lincolnton. Father Dies, Son Hurt.

Lincolnton, Oct. 4.—J. G. McWhorter, of Liberty, S. C., received injuries from which he died en route to the hospital, and his son, Jack McWhorter, was injured, though not seriously, and D. B. Thornburg escaped uninjured when 65 sticks of dynamite exploded within less than ten feet from where they were working near here this morning.

Repair Work.

The three men were engaged in repairing a jack hammer on a work bench at the blacksmith shop of P. R. Huffstetler, grading contractor, on state highway 206, near the corporate limits of Lincolnton.

The cause for the exploding of the dynamite is not known. The three men noticed smoke coming from a tool box which contained the dynamite, and Thornburg knowing of the presence of the dynamite ran, the other two following, but failed to get out of danger zone before the explosion occurred.

Shop Wrecked.

The shop was in the open, under some trees, and several boxes of tools, horse shoes, work benches and forge were blown in to small bits and scattered around the countryside, and parties in the vicinity state that steel rained all about the territory.

The dead man was fireman for the steam shovel used in grading the highway, and his son was an assistant. His remains were sent to Liberty for burial.

Religion Big Issue Gov. McLean States

Says Tar Heels Not Intolerant But Rather Lack Understanding Of Case.

Raleigh—Something of a sensation has been caused here by the frank declaration of Governor A. W. McLean in his first political address of the campaign at Bladenboro that the religious issue rather than prohibition is the major reason for opposition to Governor Alfred E. Smith, at least in North Carolina. And those who heard the governor's speech or who read it are frank in their praise of the way in which he approached and handled a most delicate and the most delicate angle of the present campaign.

Strike Telling Blow.

Another telling blow for the national Democratic ticket was struck by Governor McLean observers here feel, when in taking up Governor Smith, he said:

"I do not fear Governor Smith's

Says North Carolina And South Will Vote For Smith In Election

Swing Through Five States Leads To Belief That Democrats Will Be Victors.

(H. E. C. Bryant in Charlotte Observer)

Washington—After a tour of five southern states, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, I returned here convinced, from what active, aggressive working Democrats told me, that the south is going to vote for Smith and Robinson by an overwhelming majority. If the election were held today, the Democrats there would win, and every day from now until the election they will gain.

ing to the Houston ticket for the usual plurality. Virginia is rapidly improving.

In North Carolina the Democrats are going to lose a large number of business men, many of whom have been Republicans at heart for years because they believe in the protective tariff and are dead opposed to government ownership or control of public utilities and other enterprises private business can handle. There is real hostility to the Smith water power policy, but the religious and moral issue is being eliminated.

ASSOCIATION MEETS WITH BEAVER DAM

Rev. J. L. Jenkins to Preach Annual Sermon—Young People To Have A Part.

Delegates and churches are planning for the 78th annual session of the Kings Mountain Baptist association which meets Tuesday and Wednesday of next week with the Beaver Dam church of which Rev. D. F. Putnam is pastor on highway 20 west of Shelby. Great preparations are being made by the people of that neighborhood to entertain the delegates and visitors. In the association there are over forty churches with a total membership of approximately nine thousand.

On Tuesday morning of the first day the Biblical Recorder will be presented by Rev. I. D. Harrill.

Excerpts from the address follow:

G. O. P. Mill Attack.

"Southern cotton mill men should have their attention called to the denunciation and condemnation of them in the Republican campaign textbook, issued by the Republican national committee," declared Major Bulwinkle.

Major Bulwinkle charged the Republican committee with attempting to stir up sectional feeling, as regards operations of southern cotton mills, and, if possible, stir up labor trouble.

The speaker was introduced by County Chairman B. T. Falls.

Excerpts from the address follow:

Shot At Hoover.

"This book with these false statements was, as I said, issued by the Republicans national executive committee. Charles A. Jonas of North Carolina is a member of the national Republican executive committee, his name being carried in the book. He, of course, is responsible in part for the issuance of such deliberate falsehood as the book contains. The book was issued, of course, with the approval of the Republican presidential candidate, Mr. Herbert Hoover. Does he, on the one hand, praise the southern cotton mill owners, and then on the other, approve of the literature issued by his own executive committee, by his own chairman whom he selected? Clearly he does.

Bulwinkle Against.

"When the proposed child labor amendment to the Constitution was before the house for consideration I opposed it. I opposed it because it would have been an unwarranted interference in the rights of the state. I opposed it because every child, whether working in the mill or on the farm, would have had to have a permit from the federal government permitting him to work, if the constitutional amendment had been ratified by the states and if congress had passed legislation carrying it into effect. I was told by northern people that the reason amendment to the Constitution was necessary, the people in the South used the poor little negro children to pick cotton, thereby injuring their health. Of course nothing of this kind is said in the Republican campaign textbook, but the southern cotton mill owners are the ones who are charged with the exploitation of the children of the South, thereby causing the impairment of the health of the children, curtailing the education of the children and handicapping the future of the children.

"All legislation in behalf of children, this handbook says, has been enacted by the Republicans and opposed by the Democrats. The federal law which was declared uncon-
