

Purchase Booze Under Dome Capitol, Cole Blease States

Dry Law Powerless, Says Fiery
South Carolinian, Drinkers
And Smith.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 11.—Charges that the prohibition law was not being enforced and that he could buy liquor under the Dome of the United States Capitol at Washington were made here by Senator Cole Blease of South Carolina last night in a Democratic campaign address.

"If every man in the United States," he added, "who takes a drink votes for Governor Alfred E. Smith for president, he will get the biggest majority of any nominee in the history of America."

Senator Blease touched on immigration and the race question in his speech at Municipal Stadium, which was filled to capacity.

Urges Whites To Rally.
"If there ever was a time in the history of the South, the home of white supremacy," he declared, "the Democratic cause, it is now when they go to the polls in November to elect a president of the United States. We cannot forget the dark days after the Civil War when our homes were burned, our property taken and a bunch of low down scoundrels sent down here by the Republican party to rule our Southland."

Declaring that government trucks guarded by soldiers go to Baltimore from Washington and bring back liquor landed there and deliver it in homes of the capital, the senator said "no man or woman in Augusta was fool enough to think the prohibition law is being enforced."

Says Laws Ineffectual.
"I can take you to the United States senate, under the dome of the capitol where congress makes your laws and buy liquor there. You could take the prohibition law and the Volstead act off the federal statute books and it wouldn't affect those states that have dry laws."

The senator attacked the war record of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, by declaring "he had a law passed for his church relieving Quakers from fighting in the war. These things are a matter of record in Washington, accessible to any who write for them."

Unbroken Slumber all night long

No FEAR now of croup or earache. His ugly cold is safely checked. Best of all, it's checked without "dosing"—without risk of upsetting his delicate little stomach.

Thanks to the Magic in Mother's Fingers

Mamma, too, can sleep, free from worry. And all because she rubbed his throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub.

This tingling salve, like a gentle but effective poultice, is "drawing out" all the tightness and pain. At the same time, the warmth of his body is setting free Vicks' healing vapors that he will breathe in for hours.

By morning, the worst of his cold will be over.

Mother knows that even little colds are "catching" and that this same quick double action will stop her own colds, or her husband's, from spreading through the family and growing into big and dangerous ones.

WORRIED A LOT

Run-Down, Nervous, Appetite Gone, Lady Shows Great Improvement After Using Cardui.

Waterloo, S. C.—"I took Cardui at intervals for three years, and have been in good health since last fall," says Mrs. Noble J. Hayes, who lives near here. "My improvement after taking a course of this medicine was really remarkable. "I am much stronger and can accomplish so much more work now. My weight increased twenty pounds, and my color is fresh and good. "For a long time I had been feeling poorly. Some days I dragged around the house and had not enough energy to do my housework. "I worried a lot about myself. I did not seem like myself, and my nerves were all on edge. I did not sleep well, and my appetite left me. "I found Cardui to be an excellent tonic. After I had taken it a few weeks, I began to pick up and to gain in weight and strength. "Now I am in fine health. I have recommended Cardui to many of my friends, and shall continue to do so."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been used with success and recommended by thousands of women for weakness and similar ailments. Try it for your troubles! At all drug stores. NC-192

Telephone service, a public trust

THE widespread ownership of the Bell Telephone System places an obligation on its management to guard the savings of its hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

Its responsibility for so large a part of the country's telephone service imposes an obligation that the service shall always be adequate, dependable and satisfactory to the user.

The only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

There is then in the Bell System no incentive to earn speculative or large profits. Earnings must be sufficient to assure the best possible service and the financial integrity of the business. Anything in excess of these requirements goes toward extending the service or keeping down the rates.

This is fundamental in the policy of the company.

The Bell System's ideal is the same as that of the public it serves—the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the user. It accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.

IT'S NOT

The FIRST COST of a job but the UPKEEP COST that is important.

This is true of your automobile, of your house, of your farm, of your old gray mule..

But it is of PLUMBING that we are talking specifically. You can get a cheap job of plumbing, as a first cost, and you will think you got out easy; but when the UPKEEP COST faces you week after week and month after month, you will see the thing differently.

UPKEEP COST on a cheap job of plumbing has made many a man see his sins.

We do it RIGHT to start with, and that is why the best business men have us do their work.
