

Out After Revenge

By QUIN HALL.
ONE of the first of the inter-sectional struggles which comes under the heading of being important occurs this Saturday when Knute Rockne leads his Irishmen to Atlanta, Georgia, to play Georgia Tech.

These inter-sectional clashes are becoming as popular as the fellow who evaded the custom officers on the Canadian border and came through with a whole carful. It's getting so that some of the teams play little else but inter-sectional games, but it creates added interest in the gridiron pastime and makes tickets even more difficult to obtain—if that situation can be made worse.

Anyway, this classic between the Irish and the Golden Tornado is always looked forward to and this year, as usual, it will give the fans an early line on the strength of the two squads. Rockne has already been quoted as saying that he doesn't anticipate that the Irish will knock down the opposition as easily as they have been accustomed to doing, but then Rockne seldom brags. And for that matter what coach does?

Georgia Tech, under the captaincy of Peter Pund, will make a valiant attempt to prove to Mr. Rockne that he wasn't far wrong in his predicting, come Saturday.

Tech, it will be recalled, suffered its only defeat of last season at the hands of the Irish and it's no secret in Atlanta—even in parts of Atlanta away from the campus—that the Golden Tornado will be out for revenge in a big way.

It is pretty generally conceded that Georgia Tech will have the best team in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, and when it is recalled that this particular Conference is made up of twenty-two colleges, such a concession is no small honor. She had an unusually strong team in 1927, and, despite the loss of Captain Crowley and Hood, who made a name for himself as a tackle, it would seem that the experts have good ground for their prediction.

Last year's team was made up largely of sophomore material, and most of them are back in the molehills this season. Pund, this year's captain, made quite a reputation for himself as a center last year and reports say that Tech will have an exceptionally strong line. In the backfield Coach Alexander will have at least two hard-driving backs who will be new to the circuit. These fellows, Lumbkin and Dunlap, were outstanding performers on the 1927 freshman team and they both possess speed and power.

Coach Alexander has Fincher, an especially good line coach, and Miller, a graduate from the noted

Four Horsemen, to aid him in his work at Georgia Tech. This should assure the Atlanta school of a sound system of play.

While Georgia Tech has a long schedule ahead of her and while Saturday's struggle with the Irish from South Bend will not count in the final standings of the teams in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, the game, nevertheless, is one of the most important on the schedule of the Golden Tornado. A victory over the Rockne coached team will give Georgia Tech an added reputation not only in the South, but all over the country as well.

Last year Georgia Tech with seven victories and one tie game had but one touchdown scored against it in the games played against other Conference teams. The Tech defense was one of the outstanding features of play in the South and while four teams—Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Vanderbilt and North Carolina—finished their Conference games undefeated, Georgia Tech led the whole group in Conference victories—seven—while Tennessee and North Carolina were credited with five each and North Carolina won but four against Conference rivals.

The Golden Tornado always plays a hard game and under Pund great things are expected from the Atlanta school.

ALEXANDER SCHOOL NEEDS MONEY NOW

Board Of Trustees Appeal To People To Donate Either Money Or Food Supplies.

Forest City Courier.

The Alexander School for Motherless children, founded by Hon. J. F. Alexander and endowed, as he thought, with an income of $10,000 per year in the form of a lease on some Florida property, is now in need.

The present acute situation with the school was brought about as follows: 1. When the financial crash came in Florida the lease was thrown up and hence, the school realizes nothing from the endowment because the property is standing vacant.

2. The Home Mission Board was paying the salary of Prof. W. E. Sweatt, the superintendent of the school but since the defalcation of the treasurer of home board, stealing $1,000,000.00, the board is unable to continue to pay the salary. Under these circumstances the trustees of the school appeal to the good people of this section and to North Carolina to help them take care of the 108 orphan children now gathered in the school.

The management under Prof. Sweatt, is efficient and economic to the last degree. If we can raise an equal of fifteen dollars per child, the school can go on with its work. In other words, a donation of fifteen dollars will keep a child in the home for a year. We do not know any other home where such a small amount will accomplish such large results.

Donations In Kind.

Perhaps there are people who have not the money but could donate supplies. Three additional cows are needed. We have five but need eight. Feed stuff, potatoes, cabbages, peas, beans, apples, meat, flour, chickens, eggs. Anything which can be used in the family.

We can't close the school or home. There is a crying need for it. We have had 2,000 applications for admission to the home. They continue to pour in at the rate of five or six per day. We believe the good people of the state will help us to take care of the 108 children we now have in the home. Send all donations to Prof. W. E. Sweatt, Union Mills, N. C.

WOMEN VOTERS STUDY POLITICS

Chapel Hill, Oct. 18.—An institute of politics is to be held here on Friday, October 26, under the auspices of the North Carolina League of Women Voters, with the university extension division co-operating. It was announced here tonight by the league.

The purpose of the institute, it was stated, will be to provide opportunity to hear and discuss the national Democratic and Republican platforms and candidates.

At the afternoon session Prof. Frank Graham of the university department of history will present the Democratic platform and Prof. M. S. Breckenridge of the school of law will present the Republican platform.

Issues and candidates will be discussed at the night session at which the speakers will be Mrs. J. Borden Harriman of New York, past president of the Woman's national Democratic club, and Mrs. Elbert Russell, wife of Dr. Elbert Russell, acting dean of the school of religion of Duke university.

SUICIDE AND ACCIDENTAL SHOTS CLAIM HEAVY TOLL

Raleigh, Oct. 18.—Suicides and accidental deaths from gunshot wounds ran a tie race in North Carolina last month with twelve each, a report issued by the state board of health today shows.

A total of one hundred and forty-two persons suffered violent deaths during September.

Automobiles headed the list with 53. Second came homicides with 17. Drownings were tied for third with railroad accidents, both being 14. Eleven persons were burned to death. Gunshot wounds of a doubtful nature claimed eight lives while only one person was killed in a grade crossing accident.

No Trace Of Flyer.

Late messages last night stated that there was little hope for Lieut. Com. H. C. MacDonald, young British aviator, who hopped off from England Wednesday in a tiny Moth plane to fly across the Atlantic. The only news heard of him since his hop-off was that a Dutch steamer 70 miles east of St. Johns sighted an airplane about 7:30 last night. The wife of the young English war hero was still hopeful when given the report, MacDonald's little plane had no wireless and he was little more than an apprentice flyer himself. His daring attempt has thrilled all England, dispatches from London state.

High Death Rate In Childbirth Laid To Medical School Neglect

Chicago.—Attention of the Public Health association was called today to the high death rate in the United States of mothers in childbirth. More American women die in childbirth than do the women of any other nation.

Dr. Josephine Baker of Stamford, Conn., took a gloomy view of the situation and tried to fix the responsibility.

"This condition has resulted from the fact that obstetrics is no longer a major course in many of our medical schools," she said.

Early athletic training does not seem to help mothers much, nor do hospitals. Dr. Charles V. Croster, director of health for Newark, N. J., said it had been the hopes of health officers that the increasing use of hospitals by expectant mothers would aid materially in reducing the maternal mortality rate, but that since hospitalization had been substantially increased, the death rate had climbed.

Some of the trouble, he said, was caused by lack of proper prenatal attention, but much of it by unskillful operation of hospitals and practice of attendants.

Dr. Louis I. Harris, former health commissioner in New York city, said: "We are too intelligent a nation to let such a deplorable condition continue. I think the quickest way to get at it is through state regulations."

The statistics are not uniform, but show Indian women have little or no death rate in maternity. Italian, Slav and Irish women in country districts have the lowest rate.

BEAVER DAM DOTS OF CURRENT WEEK

Pagant To Be Given Sunday Night At The Church—Personal Happenings.

(Special to The Star.)

Shelby R-4, Oct. 18.—A large crowd was present at Sunday school and preaching last Sunday. Our pastor brought us a wonderful message, full of inspiration. We were glad to have a number of visitors present.

A pagant entitled "The Road to a Safe Tomorrow," will be given Sunday night at the church by members of the Sunday school. Every father and mother is especially urged to come. Every one is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleten Humphries and son spent Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Humphries.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reynolds and two children of Houston, Texas, spent last week-end with Mrs. Reynolds' grandmother, Mrs. J. L. McCurry and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left Tuesday for their home after a visit to relatives.

Miss Frances Doggett was Sunday guest of Miss Cecelia Padgett. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Doggett and children visited Miss Gwendolyn Doggett at Boiling Springs junior college Sunday afternoon. Little Miss Evelyn Glasco spent last week-end with her aunt near Asheville.

The cotton fields are white and farmers are very busy trying to get their cotton out before cold weather.

Mrs. J. L. McCurry is visiting her son Mr. C. E. McCurry in Cherryville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Blanton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Crow and Mrs. J. L. Blanton Sunday evening. Misses Selma Callahan and Bright Glasco spent Sunday with Miss Stela Brooks.

Undoubtedly Fast.

"The fastest stenographer I ever had" remarked the languid business man, "was able to jump up from the arm of my chair and be sitting sedately in her own, ten feet away, exactly three seconds before my wife entered the office."

Rats! Both Names Appear.

Search the following carefully and you will find the name of the next American president:

"The sailor cried: 'Ho! Over with the life-line—and leaped himself. Verily his heroism it has merit.'"

Suggested campaign song for 1928: "Whisper and I Shall Hear."—Greenville Piedmont.
