

Five and Ten Years Ago

The Following Items Were Gleaned From Issues Of The Cleveland Star Of Five And Ten Years Ago.

FIVE YEARS AGO, October 19, 1923.

The Junior Order committee, composed of W. A. Cooper of Raleigh, J. D. Tunison of New York; Thomas H. Walters of Philadelphia; John H. Noyes of New Hampshire and George B. Davis of Baltimore, here to look over the sites which Cleveland county has to offer the Junior Order Orphanage, was favorably impressed with the spirit of the people, with sites, climate, etc., and promised that Shelby has great favor in their eyes. They have several other places to visit where sites are being offered, but will return later after all have been eliminated but three or five.

The Carolina freshmen exhibited the best form of the season today, when they rolled up 59 points against Coach Dick Gurley's Shelby high school eleven, the final tally being 59 to 0. Bill Steel, freshman fullback, got away for a 90-yard run for a touchdown almost at the very start of the game while Dill featured with a 50-yard run for a touchdown through the middle of the field. He also clipped off another run for 60 yards. The kicking of Nims, halfback, and work of Quarterback Branch, were features. Shelby was helpless before the freshmen's attack. Practically every man on the Carolina yearling squad got into the game. Connor and Hennessy backs and Beam, in the line, performed well for Shelby.

Mr. T. Glenn Borders, aged 91 years, one of the most respected men in Cleveland county, died at the home of his son, Mr. J. L. Borders, Monday after having been ill health for some time. Mr. Borders, who had lived in the county all of his life, is survived by his wife, who was, before marriage Miss Lottie Cabanias, and three children, Messrs. C. A. and J. L. Borders and Mrs. Frank O'Neal. His first wife, who was before marriage, Miss S. M. Logan, died many years ago.

Mr. B. P. Peeler, aged about 45 years, died in the Shelby hospital Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock following an attack of convulsions suffered as he was en route to Shelby. Mr. Peeler was injured in a fall from a house on the roof of which he was at work in August 1921, and since that time had been subject to convulsions.

The many friends of Mr. Blustus White will regret to learn that he is seriously ill on East Graham street. Mr. White is a well known piano repairer and his friends throughout the county.

The Southern railway is completing the railroad crossings on West Marion and West Warren streets, making a fine job and an easy crossing by surfacing with stone mixed with asphalt. The Seaboard has planned its crossing on N. Washington street, making all very smooth.

Captain Peyton McSwain of Co. K has been informed by the adjutant general, that he will be sent to Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga., for instruction early in the spring. This is considered quite a compliment to the local company, since only three national guard officers of the state will be sent to the school of instruction.

TEN YEARS AGO, October 18, 1918.

At the time of going to press over 600 cases of Spanish influenza have been reported to the county quarantine officer, and it is currently reported that many more cases have occurred and not been reported. Lawndale was the first section to feel the full effect of the epidemic. Several deaths have occurred there and the entire village is almost prostrated. The mill has closed down indefinitely. The people have organized themselves as suggested by the state board of health and are doing everything through county board of health within their power to relieve those afflicted with influenza and to prevent the further spread of the disease. A call was put in to the state board of health for a trained nurse, but it was learned that 30 other communities had in calls ahead of Lawndale. Fallston is feeling the effect of the epidemic, there being more than 50 cases reported from this section of the county. Grover is in a most deplorable condition, the only physician, Dr. Oates, having enlisted for voluntary service when the epidemic first appeared in the state leaves Grover without any physician.

Mrs. Lee Pendleton, died at Lawndale Wednesday at 9 o'clock of influenza. Her husband Mr. Lee Pendleton died last Sunday with the same malady. They were both buried at Oak Grove.

U. S. Commissioner T. K. Barnett, one of the county's noblest citizens died Wednesday morning about two o'clock at the home of his daughter Mrs. C. Mills Lattimore at the age of 77 years. His death was a great shock to his host of friends throughout the county for he was a man of friends innumerable. Mr. Barnett was a Confederate soldier and his record was one of valiant and heroic service. President has answered German's peace proposal with a decision which not only fulfills the expectations of supporters of his diplomacy, but also dispels the fears of those who predicted he would substitute victories at arms defeats at diplomacy.

Mr. Julius Hoyle, son of John R. Hoyle in No. 10 township was shot in the leg at the Three county Corners Sunday by a man named Tallant, died of his wounds.

Mr. J. B. Hatcher, licensed embalmer of The Thomason-Lineberger Furniture company, of this place has been in Charlotte for several days, having been called there to assist Charlotte undertakers who have had more deaths than they could handle.

Miss Louise Goodson, daughter of the late Aaron Goodson of Lincoln, and sister of Mrs. W. Garland McBrayer of Boiling Springs, died at eleven o'clock at Lincoln Tuesday night of influenza. Miss Goodson was about 16 years of age.

The streets are being sprinkled with water treated with strong disinfectant in order to kill all the influenza germs that might be carried in the wind from dry spittle. Until the epidemic is in hand, the streets will be disinfected several times daily.

ZEPPELIN WILL FLY BACK OVER

New York.—The Graf Zeppelin plans to start a return flight to Germany in about ten days. First, however, after repairs have been made to her damaged fin, she will make a tour of Eastern United States.

Announcement of his plans was made by D. Huga Eckener, commander of the big air cruiser, during a breathing spell in the reception which the city gave him. His officers, crew and passengers on the 6,300 miles flight.

The damaged horizontal fin, the mishap which threatened disaster off Bermuda, will be repaired by the end of the week, he said. Then the Zeppelin will start her tour of United States cities. Pittsburgh, Akron, Ohio, Detroit and "perhaps Chicago and some other cities," were listed by Dr. Eckener on his tentative itinerary.

Will Make Better Time. Although the trip from Friedrichshaven to Lakehurst required almost five days, Captain E. H. Lehman, first officer, believes the return voyage will be made in two days less time. Favorable winds are counted on to speed the journey.

Dr. Ernst Brandenburg, German under secretary for aviation in the Ministry of Transportation, who crossed the Atlantic on the Zeppelin, said most of the passengers have re-engaged accommodations for the return trip.

One exception to the list of enthusiastic passengers was Frederick Gilfillan, an American living at Lucerne, Switzerland, who was sick most of the way across as a result of being deprived of his tobacco. He is an inveterate smoker and said that he did not know smoking was forbidden until after he had scheduled his passage.

Lady Hay May Return. Lady Grace Drummond Hay, the only woman passenger, had a good time, and wants to go back on the Zeppelin if she can make the necessary arrangements.

While their ship is being overhauled and the damage repaired Dr. Eckener and his crew will interrupt their round of festivities here to make a trip to Washington Friday where they are to be guests of the German ambassador.

Says Mull Genius In This Campaign

Lincoln County News.

Not since the campaign of 1898 for the amendment to the state constitution to provide the machinery for redeeming North Carolina from negro rule and securing to the white people the state government and the government of all the counties in the state, has there been such a strenuous campaign as we are now having. The speeches of Aycock, Craig, Glenn, Morrison, and the two Kitchins set a mark for campaign oratory that has not since been matched until this year. But every crisis develops its heroes. That there is another crisis this year, it would be useless to attempt to disguise. And in Hoey, Morrison, Gardner, Bailey, Daniels, and others we have orators who have scaled the heights on which Aycock and Craig lighted the watchfires. As in 1898, there was developed an organizing genius in F. M. Simmons, there is much evidence that the present danger has produced in O. M. Mull another genius for organizing the privates, who have as important a work to perform as the men gifted with the power of speech.

We have not space to refer to all the special branches of Mr. Mull's organization, but wish to commend the work of the young men and the Women's Democratic clubs. Both are enrolling workers to counteract the poison widespread by the circulation of spurious oaths, inflaming tracts, misrepresentations and slanders by unscrupulous tongues. They will also look after the registration and getting out the voters election day. They are working separately, each in a particular sphere, but before the election they will doubtless find that cooperation and continued influences will add interest and effectiveness to their efforts. They will find that the good causes they are engaged in can be advanced by the women and girls are most adept in from their experiences in club work, with the practical ideas handed down by men politicians who have been in the game longer than the women. Voting parties on election day, with the election of the straight Democratic ticket as the prize, could add an exciting and elevating feature, supplanting the anger and brawls of old-time elections.

College boys are believed to be strongly in favor of the air mail, having found out this year that it enables them to get money from home just twenty-four hours quicker.—New York Evening Post.

Master Charlie Wade Carpenter spent a few days the past week with Master Jacob Vickers of Hollis.

Miss Mable Barber spent last Saturday night with Miss Ina Carpenter.

Mrs. Dovie Costner spent a few days the past week with Mrs. Zero Huffman of Shelby.

Mr. S. T. Carpenter accompanied Mr. John Peeler of Lawndale to Gaffney, S. C. on Sunday to see Mr. Morgan.

Master Jacob Vickers of Hollis is spending this week with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carpenter.

Mrs. Willie Wilkinson spent last Sunday with Mrs. M. S. Boyles. Mrs. Mattie Boyles spent several days the past week with her sister Mrs. D. J. Sain of Hickory.

GIANT REPTILE MISTAKEN FOR LOG ON TRACKS

Kinston.—When the engineer of a Norfolk Southern train saw what he took to be a log lying across the track near Belhaven, according to a report here he applied the brakes and brought the train to a stand, but not until it had passed over the supposed log.

The "log" was a rattlesnake. The reptile was about six feet long and exactly six inches through the body at the widest part. The wheels of the engine mangled it. Trainmen secured the snake's rattles, 18 of them.

Gilda Gray's Husband To Give Sensations At Divorce Trial

Mud-Slinging Action In London Promised As Los Angeles Documents Go.

Los Angeles.—A stack of documents said to contain "charges of scandalous nature" against Gilda Gray, dancing girl of the stage and screen, were on their way to London as the first step in marriage annulment proceedings ordered started by Gil Boag, her husband.

The documents were forwarded by Milton Golden, Los Angeles attorney, to his London agents, Cooper, King and Company, at the cabed request of Boag, who declared his intention of going ahead with the case in the British courts.

Both Miss Gray and Boag are said to be in London at present. Boag, who for a time played the double role of husband and manager for Miss Gray, previously had announced that the annulment suit would charge pre-nuptial fraud.

Miss Gray at the age of 15, was married to John Goretzki, a Milwaukee bartender, and became mother of a son now fourteen years of age. She divorced her first husband in 1928. And the next year married Boag.

She filed a divorce complaint against her manager husband in Port Washington, Wis., last July and left for London later to appear in films there. Later when Boag also went to London there came reports of a reconciliation.

Miss Gray's divorce complaint charged her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment. Subsequently Boag said he was willing to have a divorce without mud-slinging if she would dismiss the slurs in the complaint.

"But believe me, this case now will be more thrilling than any hula-hula Gilda ever gave her public," he is reported as having said later.

IREDELL GIANT IS MODEL FOR VIRTUOUS LIFE

Statesville.—W. B. Campbell, of Olin township, Iredell county, who has rounded out three score and six years of his earthly pilgrimage, holds a unique record for abstinence and for living the simple life.

While in town today, he said that although he is now 68 years of age, he had never taken a drink of coffee, never drank any intoxicating beverages or soda water, never chewed, smoked or used tobacco in any form, has never had a deck of cards in his hands and never owned a watch.

He sleeps out of doors, having kept this practice up for three years, is of ruddy complexion and now tips the scales at 315 pounds.
