Announcements Received.

The following handsome invitations have been received:

Mr. and Mrs. Dock John Keeter request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Mary Helen, to Mr. William Charles Pearce, on Thursday evening, November first, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, at six-thirty o'clock, First Baptist church, Grover, North Carolina. Reception immediately after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keeter.

Mrs. O. M. Suttle Hostess To Chicora Club.

Mrs. O. M. Suttle was a cordial hostess to the members of the Chicora club Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock entertaining at her home on N. LaFayette street, which was arranged with gorgeous roses and chrysanthemums from her own beautiful garden.

The subject of study for the afternoon was "Famous Madonnas." Most interesting papers were read on the subject by Mesdames L. A. Gettys, L. F. McBrayer, and J. P. Jenkins. A social hour followed at which time the hostess gave her guests a delightful treat by serving a Mexican dish. "Hot-tamales" with buns and accessories, followed by an ice course and nuts.

Mesdames Henry Kendall and L. F. McBrayer assisted Mrs. Suttle in serving.

Miss Sue Andrews Gives Bridge Party.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Andrews on S. Washington street was beautifully arranged with quantities of lovely fall flowers, when Miss Sue Andrews, of Charlotte, who is a member of the Ishpeming club gave a lovely bridge party Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in honor of the Ishpeming club and Mrs. Shem Blackley, a recent bride, and cousin. The guests found their places with the most attractive table to the five bridge tables which were graced with bowls of mixed flowers.

The high score prize, a fancy tea bell, was won by Mrs. Draper Wood and the low score prize, a deck of cards went to Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft. The honoree, Mrs. Blackley was presented with a lovely table cover.

The hostess was assisted in serving beautiful plates of chicken salad, sandwiches, punch and nuts by her sisters-in-law, Mesdames William and Robert Andrews and Mrs. Tom Fetzer.

Shower For Bride-Elect Given By Mrs. C. F. Harry.

On Thursday afternoon of last week, one of the prettiest parties Grover has ever known was a linen shower given by Mrs. C. F. Harry at her handsome new home, in honor of Miss Mary Helen Keeter, whose marriage to Mr. Charles Pearce of Greenwood, S. C. will take place November 1. The magnificent lower floor of the Harry home was thrown en suite and profusely decorated with lovely fall flowers. The guests were greeted on their arrival by Mrs. Harry, Miss Keeter and mother, Mrs. D. J. Keeter.

The bride-elect who is a perfect blonde was gowned in orchid chiffon and velvet with a wrist corsage of rosebuds.

Punch was served throughout the afternoon by Misses Minnie Frances Harry and Mary Hambricht.

A unique musical romance contest was engaged in Mrs. Hill Hudson and Miss Keeter winning the prizes which they in turn presented to the honoree.

Shortly after the contest a call bell was heard, and the bride-elect was requested to answer, which she found to be suspended in the "den" where Genevieve Tate, dressed like a little fairy queen, was perched high among daintily wrapped packages of lovely linen, which the bride-elect unwrapped and passed to each admiring guest.

The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious sweet course by Mesdames Joe Wharton, J. H. B. Jenkins and Mrs. J. B. Ellis.

The guests were then summoned to the dining room, elaborately decorated. The dining table was covered with an exquisite hand-made cover, centered with the bride's cake in three tiers, decorated in pastel shades of pink and yellow.

The honor guest cut the first, each guest in turn enjoyed the varying forecasts of fortune, which it is the way of a bride's cake to bring.

Favors were given in the form of pink rosebud parasols bearing the date of the wedding.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Joe Wharton, of Greenwood, S. C., Mesdames J. B. Keeter, Carl Davidson, Lona McGill and Miss Zona Ford, of Kings Mountain, Mrs. H. P. Keeter, of Bessemer City; Mesdames Kate L. North, Chas. Washburn, Hill Hudson and Miss Ruby Ellis, of Shelby; Miss Besse Turner and Mrs. T. F. Oates, of Rutherfordton, Miss Ruby Keeter of Gastonia, and Miss Chas. Love and Miss Wilma Gettys of Blacksburg.

The club room was gaily decorated with jack-o'-lanterns, black-cats and all kind of spooks, ghosts and witches could be seen. Many games and contests were enjoyed. Mrs. Winfred Dorsey, dressed as a ghost told an interesting ghost story. Misses Louise Dorsey and Mildred Laughridge dressed in Gypsy costumes were the fortune tellers. Miss Mildred Laughridge gave an appropriate reading "The Goblins will get you, if you don't look out." The hostesses were assisted in entertaining and serving the children with witches brew, ginger snaps and chocolate cake by Mesdames Winfred Dorsey, Kate L. North, Misses Mary Helen Lattimore, Louise Dorsey and Egberta North.

The Garden club will hold its Floral Fair Tuesday afternoon October 30, beginning at 2 o'clock, and in the evening also at the Wakefield Floral Shop.

First and second prizes will be given for the following chrysanthemums. Best yellow, white, pink, cream, bronze:

Best vase of six yellows.
Best vase of six whites.
Best vase of six pinks.
Best vase of six creams.

Prizes will be awarded for the following cakes; pound, angel, chocolate layer and caramel layer.

All those who have flowers to exhibit, regardless of whether they are members of the Garden club or not, are asked to telephone Mrs. Fred Wagner this week.

All who wish to enter the cake contest are asked to telephone Mrs. John McClurd this week.

Miss Mary Adelaide Roberts Gives Large Bridge Party.

The home of Miss Mary Adelaide Roberts on W. Marion street was arranged throughout with a profusion of lovely fall flowers on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Roberts delightfully entertained with a large bridge party, honoring Miss Evelyn Dover who will be married this week, and Mrs. Joe Hamilton of Charlotte a house guest of Miss Roberts. Sharing honors with Miss Dover and Mrs. Hamilton were the recent Shelby brides, Mesdames Roy W. Morris, Shem Blackley, Jesse Washburn, Robert Wilson and Herbert Whisman, and Miss Isabel Morgan of La Grange, Ga., guest of Miss Evelyn Dover. The guests were welcomed on their arrival at the front door by Mrs. W. J. Roberts. An informal receiving line was formed just inside the reception room headed by Miss Roberts, gowned in a navy blue afternoon gown. Miss Dover in black velvet, Mrs. Hamilton in black satin, Miss Morgan in blue chiffon, Mrs. Morris wore brown crepe with accessories, Mrs. Blackley wore black velvet, Mrs. Jesse Washburn wore blue georgette and velvet, Mrs. Wilson wore blue transparent velvet and Mrs. Herbert Whisman black satin with lace trimming.

The guests found their places at the eighteen bridge tables, which were centered with bowls of nasturtiums, with the most attractive bridge tables.

The high score prize was won by Mrs. Durham Moore and the low score prize went to Mrs. Will Ary. Each of the honorees were presented with lovely gifts, and also the recent brides were presented with gifts.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Roberts, and sister, Miss Minnie Eddins, Misses Rosalind Nix and Millicent Blanton in serving a salad course with accessories.

Byrd Says Goodbye

Here's one of the marvels of a modern age: Commander Richard E. Byrd phoned a last goodbye to his mother in Winchester, Va., and his brother in Richmond, after which an International Newsreel cameraman telephoned the picturing of him phoning from stateroom aboard the whaler, Larsen.

Shelby Goes Down In Charlotte Game

Capt. Gold's Play And Fight Of Morris' Eleven Thrilling In Defeat.

Although losing here Friday to Charlotte 19 to 0, Capt. Milky Gold, plunging, driving fullback, and his scrappy little eleven of cripples gave Shelby fans a thrill that could have been surpassed only by a victory.

On two occasions the charging Gold and the wiry Zeno Wall, before the latter was knocked out, threatened to make a victory of a defeat, but fumbles at critical moments robbed them of their chances to score.

Generally speaking it was a poorly played game with fumbles breaking out on both eleven and only the brilliant play of Funderburk, speedy Charlotte quarter, the all-around consistency of Gold, and the stubborn stone wall the Shelby line set up when its goal was threatened kept the game from being a poor exhibition.

Charlotte scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, both by breaks of the game as Shelby displayed a two-to-one offensive ability during the quarter. The second and third quarters were scoreless, but in the final Funderburk ran a punt back 48 yards for a touchdown.

Shelby Snaps Up.

On the kick-off Shelby started a march for a touchdown that was halted on Charlotte's five-yard line. Zeno Wall, displaying his old-time cunning and speed before a spill upset him, grabbed the kick and raced back to mid field. For two downs he and the lanky Gold ran the ends and tore through the line. On the next play Wall dropped back and tossed a beautiful 25-yard pass into Gold's outstretched arms. A Shelby touchdown seemed certain for on the next play Gold ripped through the heavy Charlotte line for eight more yards. But there Charlotte held. Wall and Gold weakened by their two-man drive across the field could go no farther. Even after Charlotte punted back Shelby had the upper hand, but Wall fumbled and Hunter, Charlotte center, scooped up the ball and chased 56 yards for a touchdown. Shortly later the dazed Wall fumbled again and Hunter recovered and on the next play Woodside ran 40 yards for the second touchdown. A tackle a little earlier in the game had injured the nervy little Shelby quarterback and he was keeping in only on his grit. However, he was removed a short time later, and the Shelby backfield, which had only two regulars in to start, now had only one.

Fighting Hard.

In the second quarter Shelby kept the ball the major portion of the time but with Wall out of the offense could not muster itself and Gold was overworked in trying to carry the entire burden of running, plunging, passing and kicking. Meantime up in front of him the experienced Shelby forward wall began to hold like veterans.

In the third quarter the Shelby lads, with their backs hunched under the shadow of their own goal posts, beat back four consecutive Charlotte attacks in a manner that seemed superhuman and brought the Shelby sidelines up cheering. The first time it didn't seem possible as Charlotte drove for the four-yard line and had four downs to make it in. But led by Ralph Gardner, whose play at center, was the best performance of his career; by the veteran Wilson, and by Big Joe Singleton, who came to himself in the final half, the little line held steadfast. Richards, playing one of his first varsity games, was also a big factor in the goal line defense.

A few minutes later Charlotte was back on the six-yard line.

"Well, the kids held once but it's just too much to expect that they can do it again." The fans whispered on the sidelines.

But with the high school band rolling into its favorite "Shelby high" air the little line, which no one had thought of comparing with famous Shelby lines of years gone by, held the second time. Then a third, and on the fourth desperate attempt to hold the line not only held but threw the Charlotte backs for a loss.

Gold Brings 'Em Up.

In the final quarter, even after Charlotte had scored a third touchdown, both sidelines—Shelby and Charlotte—came to their feet in admiration of the Shelby pluck. Zeno Wall, who had limped back in the game in the last half, started a final, desperate rally to bring Shelby one score. He juggled passes through the air, one of which Gold snagged. Then as the Charlotte line stiffened and it seemed as if Shelby was through for the day, Gold ripped across left tackle, tore away from two tacklers, stiff-armed three more and seemed to be gone when the Charlotte safety man pushed him out of bounds. One bit of interference in getting out the last man would have meant a touchdown, but the crippled little Wall couldn't get there, and the other backs and line players had sprawled across the field in getting their captain that far. Yet the play, the longest Shelby made during the game, gave the crowd a big thrill. And in the final minutes of play as Hoffman, sub end, and Bill Lattimore, playing his first year at
