Essex a 70-mile an hour car; Hudson more than an 80-mile an hour car; roomier and beautified body designs; much added equipment.

to $200 a car are the features of the Hudson-Essex program for 1929 as announced today. The company's statement, marking its 20th anniversary, declares it will build nearly as many cars in the first half of 1929 as in all of 1928—which was the biggest year in its history.

The 1929 Hudson with 64 improvements and the new Essex, the Challenger, with 76 go on display today at D. H. Cline, Hudson-Essex dealer, as part of a nation-wide program of simultaneous display. Pre-showings of the new Hudson-Essex lines have been made to newspapermen, technical experts, distributors and dealers in key points throughout the United States and Canada. For the past month the Hudson factories in Detroit have been operating on day and night shifts, to provide show cars and sufficient dealer stocks to assure immediate delivery.

Twenty-one body types are inten more than in 1928, comprising the greatest variety Hudson has ever offered. Essex prices start at $695, Hudson prices at $1095. The Hudson is now presented on two increased wheel bases of 122 inches and 139 inches, while the Essex wheel base remains unchanged.

Principal Essex improvements include four hydraulic shock absorbers as standard equipment, chromium plate, larger, roomier bodies, and a larger more powerful motor.

Your Milkman Never Holds A "Sale"

You would be surprised, wouldn't you, if your milkman told you that on Tuesdays and Fridays he would sell milk at half price. Quite naturally you would question the quality of the milk offered you on those days, or you would wonder if you were not paying too much on the other days of the week.

But, of course, your milkman doesn't sell his product that way—nor does the J. C. Penney Company. Both of us realize that our customers must have merchandise of assured quality, priced as near the actual cost of production as possible, plus a fair charge for distribution and handling.

Neither your milkman nor our Company believe in marking goods up one day, in order to "cut prices" the next.
