At The Theatres

"Red Wine" starring that youthful film beauty, June Collyer, with Conrad Nagel as the co-star, is the feature at the Princess today. It is a dramatic picture of the first quality. It is a revelation of true love in a jazz-made age.

The fine old melodrama "Uncle Tom's Cabin" came to the Webb yesterday for a two day run, and packed 'em in. It is due for a final showing today. It is a Universal super special, costing, it is said, two million dollars, requiring two years in the making.
