Outlines Food Required By Flock Of Fifty Men

By DR. B. F. KAUF, (Poultry Department North Carolina State College).

If 100 chicks for each unit of 50 adult fowls are to be raised it will require approximately 450 pounds of feed up to the ninth week. Of this about 350 pounds will be mash and 200 pounds grain.

Fifty hens will need as feed for a whole year, 80 pounds of grain and 35 pounds of mash per hen, or a total of 4,250 pounds. The 2,500 pounds grain feed will require approximately: 1,250 pounds or 23 bushels of oats and 750 pounds or 13 bushels of wheat. The hens will also need 1,750 pounds mash feed which will require 612 pounds or about ten bushels of corn and 350 pounds or eleven bushels of oats. For each 50 hens kept therefore, 33 bushels of corn and 24 bushels of oats, and if in a wheat section, 13 bushels of wheat should be raised.

In addition to this quantity of feed, some additional feed will be needed also for the young and growing birds. If the farm keeping 50 hens will raise for poultry a total of 25 bushels of corn, 25 bushels of oats, and 15 bushels of wheat, then there will need to be bought only 400 pounds fish meal or meat meal, 400 pounds of middlings, and 75 pounds of bone meal.

North Carolina Laying Mash. The North Carolina laying mash is made as follows: Bone meal (or pulverized lime), lbs. 4 Table salt lb. 1 Corn meal, lbs. 35 Wheat middlings lbs. 20 Pulverized oats, lbs. 20 Fish meal (or meat meal) lbs. 20 Total lbs. 100

Each one hundred hens requires five gallons of milk a day to entirely replace the fish meal. Some poultrymen use wheat bran in the same amounts as wheat middlings, but bran is low in digestibility. Other growers feed finely pulverized alfalfa leaves where green feed is impossible to get; but where alfalfa meal is used only five per cent should be added to the mash. If the birds do not receive green feed it is best to add one pint of biologically tested cod liver oil to each 100 pounds of mash.

The mash should be kept in a dry mash hopper and before the birds at all times so they can eat what they want. The "dole" system will not do. When hens have laid all year they are tired and they molt in the fall and grow new feathers, but they must still have the mash and be allowed to rest for a few weeks to build up their bodies for the next year's work.

Grain Feed Needed. In addition to mash, the birds must have grain. Barley may form 10 to 30 per cent of the grain mixture and rye 10 per cent. Too much rye causes looseness of the bowels. Crooked scybeans, peas or sorghum seed may be used in the same amount. Other grains have also been used.

The following is the North Carolina grain feed formula: Corn (preferably yellow) lbs. 50 Oats (heavy) lbs. 30 Wheat lbs. 20 Total lbs. 100

Each 12 hens should have one pint in the morning and the same in the evening. Slightly more may be fed in cold weather than in warm weather. Sixty-five per cent of the egg is water and the bird needs water for other purposes. It is therefore necessary to keep pure, clean water before the birds at all times.

On Getting Sore About Your Paper

Fountain In Tribune. It is silly to get sore at The Tribune because Tom Dick and Harry, wishing to hurt your feelings, tells you a certain criticism in the paper applies to you. The paper is forever criticizing people for their meanness, but usually the person criticised is wholly imaginary. I manufacture a story just to point a moral, because parables are the most effective way to put over an idea.

Most of the stories fit half of my readers. When somebody comes to you and says a certain story refers to you, he does it because he dislikes you and sees a chance to hurt your feelings without risking his own hide. Cuss him out and run him off. The Tribune isn't used for personal criticism, but for entertainment. When I wish to cuss somebody, I will call names. Unless your name appears, the story isn't about you. If somebody says it is, call him a liar.

Able To Pay Taxes.

Monroe Journal. The Vick Chemical company of Greensboro yesterday sent out checks to the amount of $400,000 as dividends to its stockholders for the last six months. The company's statement shows that the net profits for the last six months was a million and three-quarters. The president of this company is the man who started all the fuss about business not being able to live in North Carolina because it was being taxed to death.

Operetta To Show At S. Shelby School

"In Old Louisiana" To Be Sponsored By Parent-Teachers Association Feb. 8th.

The Parent-Teacher association of the South Shelby school will sponsor the operetta "In Old Louisiana" which will be given in the school auditorium Feb. 8 at 7:30 o'clock by the music department of the Lattimore high school. This operetta under the direction of Miss Calton and Mr. Jordan promises to be one of the best stage efforts put on by the students of that school. The main characters which are well chosen will be supported by a chorus of thirty of the best voices in the school. A treat is in store for those who attend. Proceeds from the operetta will go to pay for the new electric radio which the school recently purchased. Admission charges will be very reasonable.

Saving By Standardization.

(From The Wall St. Journal.) By the adoption of standardized letter heads, as to paper stock and size, the United States government printing office saves $15,000 a year. By restriction of duplication in printing of annual reports there has been saved $43,000. By standardizing wall calendars for all government departments a savings of $5,000 a year has been effected. Total savings through better shop practices during the year 1927 were $388,000.
