Library Collection Gradually Increases

The collection of books for the Bolling Springs junior college which The Star is making in order to help the school meet a requirement that it shall have a library of 500 volumes, is gradually growing. James A. Wilson contributed 36 useful books a few days ago and A. P. Spoke, another staunch friend of the institution, contributed two.

TWO PRESIDENTS WERE INVENTORS

Washington Made Extra Fine Plow And Lincoln A Ship-Lifter.

Two presidents of the United States, both of whose birthdays are celebrated in February, were in their own right, inventors. They are George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Washington invented a plow. He had seen one which had been brought over from England and immediately his practical mind worked out an improvement. Then he called Peter, his smith, and set to work constructing it.

When finished it developed the curious eccentricity of not wanting to stay on the ground. Washington designed it all over again and the plow was a success.

Brand New Idea. Twenty-eight years later Washington, returning to the idea, designed a plow that would do two things at the same time—sow grain and plant it. It was a brand new idea in agricultural machinery.

Part of the device was in the shape of a barrel which discharged the grain, explains Homer Croy, in Popular Science Monthly, while behind was a roller which broke up the clods and kicked the earth over the seed.

Lincoln, when a member of congress, once returned home from Washington by way of Niagra Falls. While proceeding by boat through Lake Erie the very thing occurred which had happened when he was a boatman taking a float to New Orleans. The boat stuck. The captain of the vessel had all hands force barrels under the side of the ship below the water line. Slowly but surely, the boat began to rise.

Lincoln Sketched On High Hat. Lincoln stood at the rail watching intently. Taking a piece of paper from his pocket he sat down, placed it on top of his high hat, and began to make some sketches.

When he returned to Springfield he spent odd moments whitening out a model of his invention. The idea was that, by means of bellows, air could be forced under the ship to lift it free from its difficulty. When the model was finished it was about twenty inches in length. He gave it a rather long and impressive name. "An Improved Method for Lifting Vessels Over Shoals."

He sent it to Washington and applied for a patent. It was granted by the issuance of No. 6460, and the model Lincoln built can be seen today in the Patent Office in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hord and two little daughters of Bolling Springs were Shelby visitors yesterday.

Cotton Market

(By John F. Clark & Co.)

Cotton was quoted today on New York exchange. March 19.77, May 19.87. Yesterday's close: March 19.78, May 19.88. Sales 5000 mid 1034 against 1033 yesterday.

Some large sales of print cloths in Worth Street. Yesterday, moderate business in sheetings. Raining north Texas and Arkansas. News scarce. Strength yesterday afternoon, looked to be due mostly to covering. Market has become oversold and had met heavy trade buying orders toward 19 one half cents early in the day. Some further advance possible correcting technical conditions.
