Charles Building

Thursday
Morning,
February
14, 9 A. M.

We will be glad to get back "home" after nearly a year's absence and will be happy to extend a cordial welcome to all of our friends. We invite you to come in and inspect our new quarters. We will have the same location that we occupied for nearly twenty-five years, with the addition of the space formerly used by the Cleveland Drug Store.

The building has been practically rebuilt, we have three new vaults; one for money and securities, one for books and one in the basement for storage.

We have entirely new fixtures, conforming to the latest type in bank-fixtures, with low rail counters, giving the public easier access and closer communication with the men behind the counters.

Our customers have been lenient with us in our handicaps while occupying temporary locations and our aim and desire when we get back home will be to serve and strive to please them more than ever in our history.

A cordial welcome awaits you in our new quarters. There will be no formal opening.
