COTTON 11/3 Bales to the Acre

Cleveland County, Belwood, N. C. December 28th, 1928

25c

Mr. T. Ross Alexander, Statesville, N. C. Dear Mr. Alexander:

In answering your letter about my cotton crop this year will say that I made a very fine yield considering the fact that we had a poor season, as I picked 175 bales of lint cotton from 140 acres.

For a good many years I lost a lot of time shopping around, trying to see where I could buy the cheapest fertilizer, and made about 3/4 of a bale of cotton to the acre. I found out a few years ago that I was on the wrong track and changed my method of trying to make money growing cotton by using the cheapest fertilizer, and instead, tried to figure out how cheap I could grow cotton. I tested several brands of fertilizer with the result that I am growing about a bale and one-third to the acre now, where I used to grow three-fourths of a bale, but I did not do this with cheap fertilizer.

My increase in yield per acre has come since I began using "AA QUALITY" Cotton Fertilizer. While this brand of fertilizer costs more than most other brands of fertilizer, the continued use of same has enabled me to cut the cost of my production per pound of cotton

In addition to these facts, the mechanical condition of "AA QUALITY" Fertilizer is always fine. Yours truly,

W. C. EDWARDS.
