Ear Pains Serious

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

(United States Senator and Former Health Commissioner of New York.)

It is not at all uncommon to have an infection or contagious disease cause more or less inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose. It is very easy for the trouble to creep up the tube from the nose to the ear and produce inflammation in that organ.

Even though the attack of fever has been very mild and the little patient hardly sick at all, there may be serious trouble in the ear. The parent should be on the outlook for trouble and report it to the doctor as early as possible.

Sometimes the child seems to be almost or quite well. All at once he becomes irritable and the fever returns. There is extreme restlessness. Occasionally the child cries out suddenly, or may continue to cry.

When there are paroxysms of crying with no apparent cause in a child who has been sick, do not fail to examine the ear. All too often that is the seat of the trouble.

Earache is bad enough in an adult. If you ever had it you have an idea how terrible it is. It seems as if a red-hot spike was being driven into the brain.

Think of a little child having such a symptom. You can well understand why it cries out in agony.

Measles is one of the diseases which has earache as a symptom. Scarlet fever is another. Influenza may have ear trouble as one of the many serious complications.

Have you ever thought how near the ear is to the brain? Back of the ear and opening into the middle ear are the honeycomb cavities in the bone.

These spaces, known as the mastoid cells, are very near to the inner surface of the bone. Resting on this table of bone is the brain substance, separated by a layer of bone sometimes no thicker than paper.

If the nose and ear contain fluid teeming with pus-producing germs we have all the makings for serious trouble. The germs creep into the honeycomb cells I have mentioned. Pus forms so rapidly that it cannot drain away. In such a case the bony wall may be broken down and the brain itself is bathed in pus.

Bear in mind that you must not neglect baby's running ear, or for that matter, anybody's running ear. The ear is too close to the brain to be overlooked as a cause of trouble.

All ear symptoms demand a consultation with your family doctor. He will advise as to what should be done.

Earache is such a common thing among children that we are apt to grow careless about it. It is unwise to disregard the warning. In every instance give it the attention it deserves.

EASTSIDE BATCH OF WEEKLY ITEMS

(Special to The Star.)

Rev. J. W. Suttle filled the pulpit here last Sunday morning in an exchange with Rev. H. E. Waldrop who preached at Mr. Suttle's church at Waco.

His sermon was inspiring and we hope to hear him again soon. He was one of the greatest factors in the organization of a Baptist church in this community.

An appreciative congregation heard Rev. T. B. Johnson at the Jefferson school building Sunday evening. His subject "Why be a Christian" was clear and to the point and was much enjoyed.

The W. M. U. held its monthly meeting with Mrs. L. A. Devine on Tuesday evening. The program on "Where Races Meet" gave us a new conception of race conditions in our country and our great responsibility in meeting them right.

A report was given on last year's work and was very encouraging. After the program Miss Annie Devine assisted by Mrs. F. P. Ligon served the ladies with refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hinson of South Shelby visited Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Smith Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Toms and children spent the week-end with Mrs. J. R. Toms.

Mrs. Ed Lee and children of South Shelby spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Gantt.

Miss Doris Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Hamrick of Gastonia visited Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Alexander recently.

Misses Mae Harrill and Eva Mae Hopper spent the week-end with Miss Hopper's parents near Gaffney.

Mrs. W. J. Cashion had as her guests Sunday Messrs. G. L. and John Wright of McAdenville and Miss Murich Wright of Shelby. Little Betty Cashion accompanied them to McAdenville to spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webb and baby of Kings Mountain were the guests of his mother here Sunday.

Mrs. C. C. Tinney spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Bob Cooper on S. Lafayette street.

Mrs. P. H. Smith spent several days last week with her mother,

Mrs. Rollins, at Henrietta.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Kale of Cherryville visited Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Devine Sunday.
