U. D. C. Meeting.
The United Daughters of Confederacy will meet at the club room Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Choir Practice At Methodist Church.
About fifteen members of the Central Methodist choir attended the choir practice Wednesday night. Following the rehearsal a social half hour was spent and Mrs. George Hoyle served delicious refreshments.

Knights of Beauty Parlor Has Opening.
A large number of ladies called during the opening hours yesterday when Mrs. S. N. Knight and her assistant, Miss Elizabeth Andrews received in the Knights of Beauty parlor, which is located in the Hotel Charles and was opened this week. The rooms are beautiful and attractive, the walls and floors done in green and also the fixtures. The reception room was attractively arranged yesterday afternoon with tastefully arranged yesterday with bouquets and baskets of pink carnations and pink hyacinths. Refreshing punch and cakes were served by Misses Ruth Dellinger and Lucy Hoyle.

Mrs. John Schenck, Jr. Hostess To Bridge Club.
Mrs. John Schenck, jr. was a charming hostess to the South Washington bridge club and a number of other guests Thursday afternoon at her home in the southern part of town. The rooms and tables were artistically arranged with bouquets of yellow jonquils and greenery. A color scheme of yellow and green was emphasized in both decorations and refreshments. The high score prize was won by Mrs. Pat McBrayer, and the low score prize by Mrs. Harry Woodson.

At the close of the games, the hostess was assisted by Mesdames Sam and Jean Schenck in serving a delightful salad and ice course.
The invited guests included: Mesdames Renn Drum, Chas. Burrus, Sam Schenck, Oliver Anthony and Ben Suttle.

Afternoon Division No. 1 Meets At Club Room.
A large number of the members of the afternoon division No. 1 of the Woman's club responded to the roll call Thursday afternoon when this division held its regular meeting at the club room, which was arranged with bouquets of yellow jonquils and lace fern. The decorations were suggestive of St. Patrick's day. Irish potatoes made as candlesticks and holding green tapers were placed on each end of the library table, which were given as prizes in the contest. Mrs. John McClure had arranged the following entertaining program on "St. Patrick." A story of St. Patrick told by Miss Nora Cornwell. Mrs. Robby Robertson sang "Where the River Shannon Flows." Eight or ten of the members told their best Irish jokes. The program was closed with a St. Patrick contest, in which Mesdames Clair Hull and Rush Hamrick won the prizes.

The hostesses, Mesdames Fred Dean, Maynard Washburn, Ab Poston and Evans Shull served pretty plates of green frozen salad with Irish stickers, sandwiches and hot tea.

South Shelby P. T. A. Meet Tuesday.
The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of the South Shelby school was held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. A brief business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Rush Padgett and was followed by song entitled "March Song," by pupils in Miss Nolan's grade. "The Relationship between the Home and the School" was the subject by Rev. T. B. Johnson's address. He stressed the high privilege and opportunity for service in the moulding of the children's lives that are enjoyed by teachers. The message was practical and was full of splendid suggestions for both the teacher and the parent. After this address the faculty of the school presented the "Deestrick Skule" a burlesque on the school of today. The attendance prize for having the most parents present went to Mr. Eddleman's seventh grade. Mrs. C. A. Morrison who is deeply interested in beautifying the school grounds was instrumental recently in getting shrubbery for the grounds. In order to make money for the radio the P. T. A. will serve an oyster supper for the Junior Order on or about the 22nd of March.

Fenney Company Fashion Show Success.
The Princess theatre was packed to overflowing last evening to see the elaborate and beautiful display of spring ready-to-wear put on by the J. C. Penney company. The stage represented a garden scene with lovely roses and lattice gateways. The following ladies and gentlemen were the models and showed off the coats, hats, sport dresses, afternoon and evening gowns to the best advantage: Mesdames Fred Dean, Aaron Quinn, Byron Williams, Clyde Short, John Honeycutt, Randolph Logen, Claude Hambright of Kings Mountain, Misses Lula Moore Suttle, Jennie Lee Packard, Lallage Dover, Virginia Hamrick, Mildred Thompson, Lois Beigh and Carolina Scott; Messrs. Ed Washburn, Chas. Cavenny, Lloyd Lutz and Chas. McBrayer.

The close of the show was especially attractive, when Mrs. Fred Dean, gowned in pink georgette with slippers to match, and heavily embroidered pink Spanish shawl entertained for her daughter, Miss Virginia Hamrick, who wore a lovely orchid taffeta, with dippers of the same shade, the dress made with tight bodice with ruffled skirt, short in front and long in the back. About sixteen guests called, the ladies all beautifully gowned in evening costumes.

Little Miss Caroline Scott, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Scott was darling in the different, dainty frocks, she wore. Miss Ruth Thompson rendered beautiful piano selections throughout the evening.

Mrs. Rush Thompson Hostess To Music Club.
The woman's club was beautifully arranged with bright spring flowers Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Rush Thompson was a delightful hostess to the members of the Cecelia music club and a few invited guests. Mrs. Al Bennett, the president, presided over the meeting and each member responded to the roll call with the name of a famous pianist. The subject of study was "McDowell." Mrs. Cline Lackey opened the program with an interesting biography of Edgar McDowell. Miss Bertha Bostic sang "Thy Beaming Eyes," Mrs. Plaster playing her accompaniment. Mrs. Will Arey played a piano solo, "Monsieur," by McDowell. Miss Margaret Thompson, the young daughter of the hostess, delighted the club by rendering a violin solo "Happy Days," by J. S. Zamenick. Mrs. Thompson accompanying her with piano. Mrs. Cline Lackey played a beautiful selection by Rubenstein. Mrs. William McCord closed the program by a rendition of "The Witches Dance," by McDowell.

The hostesses was assisted by her daughters, Misses Ruth and Margaret Thompson and Z. J. Thompson in serving a delicious salad course with Russian tea and stuffed dates. The invited guests were: Mesdames J. H. Quinn, Loy and Julien Thompson, Oscar Palmer, Coleman Doggett and Z. J. Thompson.

New York Gangs Move To Northward

Portland, Maine.—New York gangsters fleeing in the face of Police Commissioner Grover Whalen's war on crime, have infested New England cities, in the opinion of police officials here.
A rapid succession of holdups and robberies in this city that have baffled police is attributed to New York gangsters. The loot runs into thousands of dollars.

Police Investigations.
Police launched an investigation on the theory that a Manhattan gunman held up and robbed Jacob F. Coombs, paymaster of the Portland Foundry Co., in broad daylight and escaped with $2,000.
The loot would have been much larger, officials of the company said, but that several departments of the concern were closed due to the semi-annual shut-down.
Coombs was attacked as he was walking along the street within a few hundred yards of the foundry. One bandit leaped from an automobile which had pulled up to the curb close to the victim. The bandit fired two shots in the air and then clubbed Coombs over the head with the butt of the gun when he struggled to retain the money. Coombs is in the Maine General hospital here. His condition is not considered serious.

Woman Is Held.
Miss Helen Badessa, 21 a comely blonde, is held in Providence, R. I., as a suspect for the bold daylight raid on the George T. Springer Jewelry Co., here a few weeks ago. The girl switched a 10-cent ring for a $60 diamond and escaped in an automobile. She is fighting extradition to this state. Police believe that she is a member of an organized gang.
Napoleon Ledoux of Saco was held up and robbed of $100 by masked bandits when he answered a knock on his door at 1 o'clock the morning after the payroll robbery. Calling the cashier from the office of the Minerva Lunch Co., here to the restaurant below two men entered and calmly walked off with $1,500 a few days after the jewelry store raid.

NEW CHIEF IS GREETED FIRST BY TAR HEELS
Washington, March 4.—The first of the White House staff to welcome President Hoover were North Carolinians.
Dick Ballard of Lincolnton, and William Haywood, of Charlotte, who have been members of the White House police staff for the last four years were stationed at the west gate through which Mr Hoover entered before going to the capitol to take the oath of office and through which he entered shortly after to remain.

Jilted by the girl he loved Thomas Colvin of Belfast attended her wedding, then entered a monastary.
