Idaho Woman Farmer Makes $10,000 Yearly

A "self-made" farm woman with $100,000, all made from her own efforts, has been found in Idaho. She is Mrs. Emma Yearian, of Lemhi, and in Idaho they call her the "Sheep Queen."
 She went into the sheep business 18 years ago, when her husband's cattle business was in a slump. "I started with 1,200 ewes," she writes in Farm and Fireside, "which cost me $2.75 a head. The first year I kept them close at home, but later I hired a few herders. Now I have 15 helpers and my flocks have grown to 5,000 head. In my biggest year I took in $105,000 from 18 carloads of lambs. 70,000 pounds of wool, and $15,000 worth of breeding stock."
 "I keep in close touch with the business all the time. After lambing time in May the herd is driven to the range in the forest preserve. I lease this ground from the gov-

DESIGNED TO DO ALL THINGS WELL

It is a relatively simple engineering task to design a car that emphasizes only a few qualities at the sacrifice of others. It is an engineering achievement, however, to combine all desirable qualities to an outstanding degree in a balanced whole. Yet that is exactly what Oldsmobile engineers have done in the new 1929 Oldsmobile.

You have only to drive it to realize what brilliant all-round performance it provides. Its big high-compression engine now delivers 62 horsepower. And the piston pins are pressure-lubricated, a feature formerly characteristic of high-priced automobiles.

In appearance, this finer Oldsmobile is as beautiful and as smart as any car on automobile row. Its grace of line—its perfection of detail—its harmony of color—all bespeak the artistry of Fisher craftsmanship.

The interiors are luxuriously appointed and richly upholstered... they are roomy and restful as well. And the new Fisher adjustable front seat, combined with Oldsmobile's adjustable steering wheel, assures a comfortable driving position.
