

Hello Folks!

S'pose you wonder who I am and what I am doing here.

Well my name is "U OTTO BUY."

I just hired out with the Crawford-Chevrolet Company to tell you all about the good buys they have, and I want you to know my slogan "Turn to the Right Place."

Watch out for me in this paper. I am going to appear regularly.

Yours truly,

TODAY TOMORROW And FRIDAY

MARY PICKFORD
'COQUETTE'

A SAM TAYLOR PRODUCTION
A UNITED ARTISTS PICTURE.

Trilled Artists Picture

A SUPREME SENSATION!

Mary Pickford, star of the greatest screen dramas known, has in "Coquette" the crowning achievement of her career and one of the greatest talking pictures the industry will see for years. As a story "Coquette" has glorious romance, gaiety, pace, drama, suspense and heart-throbs. Produced on the stage by Jed Harris, it scored a tremendous success. In its screen form, as adapted and directed by Sam Taylor and played by a superb cast, it's even greater entertainment. But the big thing is Mary Pickford stars in her first talking role. Fifty years from now people will still be discussing her performance. She makes them laugh, cry, thrill and enthuse at will. Mary Pickford in "Coquette" is the zenith of screen art.

SHOWING WITH
3 VITAPHONE ACTS

Fruit Thinning On Loaded Trees

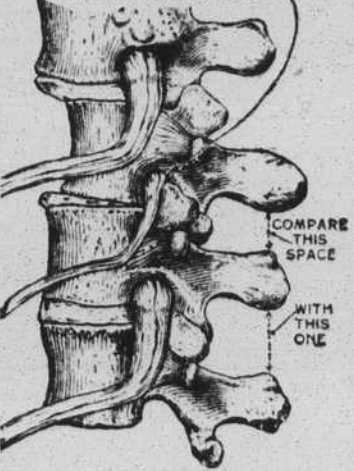

Raleigh—Good results followed the thinning of peaches in several demonstrations conducted last year in typical North Carolina home orchards.

"Thinning increased the percentage of fruit of better marketable sizes and was responsible for better color of the peaches, although the total yield per tree was reduced in our demonstrations last year," says E. B. Morrow, extension horticulturist at state college. "With the Elberta varieties, however, the thinning did not pay because there was a heavy drop subsequent to the thinning."

As to the results to be obtained from thinning, Mr. Morrow gives a report of a demonstration in the orchard of J. A. Winfree of Anson county. On one tree, the fruit was thinned to 4 inches apart; on another, to 6 inches and on a third, was left unthinned. The first tree produced 1 and 7-8 bushels of which 84 percent would grade fancy for color. There were 273 peaches in each bushel. The second tree, where the fruit was thinned to 4 inches apart, produced 2 bushels in total yield with 80 percent grading fancy for color and 309 peaches per bushel. On the third tree where the fruit was not thinned, 2 1-2 bushels were produced with only 50 percent grading fancy in color. It took 415 of these peaches to make a bushel.

The results obtained in this and other demonstrations last year, indicate that thinning will pay in better quality fruit but that for the Elberta variety, this work should be done probably later than is recommended for other varieties. Most of the thinning was done about the middle of May after the crop had been well set.

COMPARE THIS NERVE WITH THE ONE ABOVE AND THE ONE BELOW

NERVOUSNESS

There are 7 cervical back bones in the neck; twelve dorsal bones; 5 lumbar bones, Sacrum and Coccyx, constitute the small bones that make up the spinal column. All these bones are freely movable; if this was not true we could not move our body forward, backward or laterally. A quick jerk, twist or an awkward concussion of forces applied on any one of these bones, with the muscles above and below thoroughly relaxed, will cause that bone to slip out of its normal position (See second bone in above cut). This produces pressure on the nerve as it comes between the bones from the spinal cord. (See second nerve in above cut.) When this nerve pressure is in the neck at the base of the brain will cause head ache or nervousness which prevents sound sleep and is equally guilty of preventing concentration or the ability to hold the mind on a given line of thought for any length of time. If this pressure is severe enough it will cause paralysis. Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments is the only thing that will correct this nerve pressure.

This Girl Has Her Age Moved Up Some

Miami, Fla.—While many of her sex are resorting to polite fictions in an effort to appear as young as possible, Miss Catherine Eda Oppenborn had her legal age advanced a year and a half by court order.

Miss Oppenborn is actually only 19 1-2 years old, but an order issued in circuit court gives her authority to transact her own business and even get married without parental consent, if she pleases. The petition was presented by the girl's father, who is a Miami peace justice.
