King Gets Bond; Now In Shelby

$5,000 Bond Permits Him To Return To Parents Home Here Until July Trial.

Rafe King is back at the home of his parents in Shelby today after being given bond in the sum of $5,000 by Chief Justice R. C. Watts in a hearing yesterday at Laurens, S. C.

Following the hearing yesterday afternoon he was released from the Chester, South Carolina, jail where he has been for three weeks since being arraigned at the York county court in connection with the death of his wife, Faye Wilson King, at Sharon last January.

A dispatch from York tells of the hearing at Laurens. As soon as King's attorneys could reach Chester after the hearing in Laurens, a cashier's check for the bond on a bank in Shelby was posted by Thomas F. McDow, with the Chester county clerk of court, and with this act and the signing of the bond by the defendant himself, King once more became free.

The order granting bond stipulates that he shall not leave the state except to go and live with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Pink King, in Shelby. The hearing began before chief Justice Watts at 11:30 o'clock, and ball was asked on the testimony given at the coroner's inquest. This testimony was not read, as the chief justice said he was familiar with it. The petition of the defendant was read and several affidavits introduced in which citizens of Shelby testified to the good character of King.

Opposes Bond. The state vigorously opposed the granting of bond to King in any amount, contending that the status of the case has been materially changed as the result of evidence that has come to light since the coroner's inquest. Affidavits giving testimony were read by J. A. Marston, of the state's counsel, from eight persons. These were Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Saye, Sheriff F. E. Quinn, J. F. Faulkner, W. A. Faries, R. L. Plexico, Dr. C. O. Burruss, and Dr. R. E. Abell.

At the conclusion of the arguments, Chief Justice Watts said he would grant ball and fix the amount of the bond at $6,000. Counsel for the defense stated they did not think King could raise bond in this sum, and the chief justice then reduced it to $5,000.

Among the most significant testimony given in the affidavits introduced by the state was the opinion of Dr. R. E. Abell of Chester that Mrs. Faye Wilson King was choked to death. Dr. Abell, who is chief surgeon at a hospital in Chester, did the dissecting at the second autopsy. This part of his affidavit is as follows:

"That in his opinion Mrs. Faye Wilson King came to her death from being choked. That the contusion of the skin and the subcutaneous fat gave evidence of pressure sufficient to cause strangulation. That in fact the bruises and contusion around the throat were much greater than was necessary to cause death by strangulation.

"That the deceased also had bruises on her elbows and knees, such bruises as would have been made by the deceased had she been struggling while on her back and on her knees on the floor. That the wound in her head was very serious and enough to render deceased partially unconscious, but was not enough in his opinion to cause death."

Another affidavit regarded by the state as highly important was that of Dr. J. H. Sayre of Sharon, in which it was said "that the conclusion of the deponent, after the second autopsy and from all the circumstances surrounding the matter, was that the death of Mrs. King had been caused by choking and that the burns in her mouth and under her tongue were caused

Duke Fund Will Give $25,000 To Hospital Here Upon Condition

If Local Citizens Raise Equal Amount Money Will Come From Duke Foundation.

A gift of $25,000 by the Duke foundation to the Shelby Public hospital was announced last night by Clyde R. Hoey, chairman of the board of trustees, on condition that the sum is matched by a like amount. The announcement was made at the high school auditorium at the close of the commencement finals of the School of Nursing of the Shelby hospital when six graduates received their diplomas and pins.

The gift from the Duke Foundation must be used for building purposes and for no other cause and must be matched by a like sum, making $50,000 available to enlarge the hospital plant. Mr. Hoey has been working for a year or two with the Duke Foundation to get this contribution and was successful in having the Duke Foundation make $15,000 of the amount available at once and the remaining $10,000 available when the additional unit is completed.

Just how the $25,000 will be raised locally, Mr. Hoey was unable to say this morning. He stated that he and the trustees and friends of the institution had not had a conference to discuss what plans will be adopted. Officials will get together right away, however, to work out some means of raising this money as it must be available before July 1, otherwise the Duke Foundation will divert the appropriation to some other institution.

The hospital is over-run at times and is inadequate in many ways. A maternity ward is badly needed, also a department where contagious cases can be isolated and sufficient quarters where medical and operative cases may be separated. The equipment is adequate in every way to take care of more patients, but more room is needed and it is thought that $50,000 would double the bed capacity of the institution.

The Duke offer was received with much favorable comment today by the friends of the hospital.

Advertise County Taxes This Week, By Order Of Board

Amount Less Than That Last Year. First Publication To Come On Friday.

All property in Cleveland county on which 1928 taxes are unpaid as yet will be advertised in The Star Friday of this week and after four weeks of advertising will be sold at public auction for the unpaid taxes at the court house on Monday, June 3.

This order was given Sheriff Irvin M. Allen Monday by the county commissioners in regular monthly session, the order authorizing him to complete the list and see that first publication is made this week.

Late taxpayers are still coming in and a total of the unpaid taxes has not been made, but estimate at the sheriff's office is that the amount of unpaid taxes will be slightly less than the total last year.

At the same meeting the board authorized the sheriff to use what legal means he might and expend every effort to collect delinquent poll and personal property taxes during the month of May.

Hoover May Visit In Lincoln Where His Ancestors Resided

A Washington dispatch to Charlotte Observer Sunday states that President Hoover wants to visit North Carolina and he may do so July 4, and speak to the publishers at Asheville. But he has a great desire to visit Randolph and Lincoln counties, where some of his ancestors settled, and resided. When he visits the state he will go to Charlotte, then Lincolnton and on his way back, Randolph. Representative Jonas and Pritchard, accompanied by Dan Hill, post-

Nurse In Schools Urged By Newton In Talk To Nurses

Shelby Attorney Speaker At Finals For Hospital Graduates Here. Good Crowd.

In his address at the final exercises for the six graduates of the Shelby hospital at the school auditorium here last night, Attorney D. Z. Newton expressed the belief, in view of the importance of good health in the development of the mind, that the public schools faculty should include a graduate nurse for the purpose of giving lectures to the pupils on hygiene and care of the body.

A large crowd filled the school auditorium for the exercises, the address, and the presentation of diplomas and pins to the graduates. The list of graduates follows: Alice Marie England, Leah Janette Rust, Charlotte Josephine Beverly, Ruth Lee, Ophelia Hames, and Edna Muriel Wright.

In other remarks in his talk Mr. Newton paid tribute to the medical and nursing professions, and expressed some very interesting legal common-sense views of the science of medicine by saying "In my opinion there can be no progress in mentality or spirit which is not associated with physical advancement or improvement." Another observation was that "insanity is brought about by physical conditions," while another statement was that "an idiot may have a mind just as good as yours or mine, but his mind is not properly adjusted and connected with its own elements and that of the physical." These views detailed and explained were used by the speaker for the purpose of conveying his belief that the advancement of the human race hinges to a very great extent upon the physical and, therefore, upon the learning and progress of the medical and nursing professions.

Scout Leaders Hold Meeting

Regional And National Headquarters Have Representatives Here. Good Reports.

Mr. Miller of the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America declared the meeting last night of the Piedmont council officials held at the Hotel Charles to be one of the most representative gatherings of men interested in scout work that he had attended. All work seems to be in fine condition and glowing reports were made of the progress of the work by officials from the five counties of Polk, Rutherford, Cleveland, Lincoln and Gaston comprising the council. The work of the executive, Mr. Schiele of Gastonia is most satisfactory with 63 healthy troops and 1200 members in the council.

The meeting last night was presided over by Editor J. W. Atkins of Gastonia and 25 men were here, representing practically every town where there is a scout troop. Also addressing the meeting was Mr. Sharpe, of the regional office, who discussed extension of scouting in to Catawba, Caldwell and Iredell counties. Scout work has been started among the negro boys in Gastonia

Will Lindy Lose Love Wager?

Col. Lindbergh will probably write a check for $1,500 to Phil Love, a friend and fellow aviator, immediately after his marriage to Anne Morrow. When the friends were flying the mail together a long time ago they made a wager that the first to marry would pay the other $1,500. It looks as if Love will collect on this love wager, unless he goes and falls himself.

Highs Meet Blackburn In Big Game Here This Friday

Second Round Of State Title Series Gets Going. Charlotte Playing Norwood.

The next championship game for the Shelby highs will be played here Friday afternoon with Blackburn furnishing the opposition.

This game was arranged at a meeting of western coaches held last night at Salisbury and attended by Coach Casey Morris. Expect Crowd.

As this will likely be the last home game of the year even though Shelby has a large crowd of fans are expected to see the prospective champions in action Friday afternoon.

Today the locals are playing Gaffney, a practice game in Gaffney.

With a week's rest it is likely that Coach Morris will send "Waco" Hamrick to the mound against Blackburn for his fourth start of the title series.

If Shelby wins Friday the highs will play the winner of the Charlotte-Norwood game next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The western champs will meet the eastern champs in Chapel Hill on May 25.

The western schedule for the remaining games follows: Winston-Salem vs. Greensboro at Winston-Salem, May 10. Spencer vs. Siler City, at Spencer, May 10. Charlotte vs. Norwood at Norwood, May 10. Shelby vs. Blackburn at Shelby, May 10.

The semi-finals of the west will be played on May 14 or 15 according to a series of possibilities mapped out at the meeting.

Three groups decided to play the final game of the west at Concord on Saturday, May 18, unless Blackburn wins its way to the finals when the game will be played at Concord Friday, May 17.

Will Add 300 New Boxes At Postoffice

Three hundred new boxes are to be added to the equipment of the Shelby postoffice, according to an announcement today by Postmaster J. H. Quinn, in which he states that he has been authorized to accept bids for remodeling the lobby of the office so that the 300 new boxes may be installed.

Law Requires Run-Off Race; Can't Withdraw

Race Will Be Between Washburn And Ledford. Board Not Legal With Withdrawal.

Shelby voters must of necessity go to the polls again next Monday to elect an alderman for Ward One due to the change in the city election law in the last legislature.

This was the legal opinion rendered by Attorney B. T. Falls today in regard to the contest for alderman in Ward One between P. M. Washburn and J. F. Ledford, present alderman, the two high candidates in the election day before yesterday.

Is Not Optional.

"As the law reads it is not optional for either of the high candidates to withdraw and concede the office to the other, but it is mandatory for city election officials to hold another election on Monday between Messrs. Washburn and Ledford," Mr. Falls informed The Star.

Should Mr. Ledford, second high man, withdraw and leave the office to Mr. Washburn, the opinion continued, the new city board would not be recognized as a legal body by law and bonds and other official papers signed by the board made up in that manner would not be valid.

"If one of the candidates wants to withdraw, he cannot, and all there is to do, and the reading of the law is plain, is for another election to be held," Judge Falls concluded.

Not By Ledford.

In a statement to The Star Mr. Ledford asked that it be made plain that he is not asking for a run-off race because of dissatisfaction with the first election, and did not know the new election law required him to enter a second race until he was so informed after Monday's election.

"Neither one of us, Mr. Washburn and myself, I don't think would care personally to go to the trouble, expense and loss of time to have a second election, but according to the law there appears to be nothing else to do," Mr. Ledford said.

How It Reads.

Prior to the last legislature the law governing city elections of Shelby stated that the high man in each election should be the winner, and it was a custom also frequently followed for the various

Silent Candidate Goes In As Mayor In Voting Monday

McMurry Has Not Lined Up His City Force

Haven't Even Thought It Over, He Says. Much Speculation On Changes.

Mayor-elect Sim A. McMurry, on Monday elected to his first public office that of guiding the destiny of a town of 11,000 souls for the next two years, has not as yet decided upon the workers and employees of his administration, and may not have his line-up definitely slated until he takes office on Saturday, June 1.

"I haven't given that a thought as yet," he said Tuesday morning when asked by The Star as to the likelihood of changes or new faces in the City Hall or in the several city administrative departments.

"I'll get around to that later," he concluded without even passing out a hint as to whether or not there would be changes, and if so, how many or how sweeping.

Thanks Friends.

Congratulations tendered him on the morning following his victory met with the consistent response that his friends did the work for him. And his reply just about expressed the winning factor behind the quietest city election Shelby recalls since Jimmy Love set aside a plot of ground and made it so that there would be a Shelby in which to hold elections. The mayor-elect never announced a platform, nor did he outline a single aim or ambition in announcing for the office, and on the two days following the election he is talking no more.

However, there is much talk and speculation on the part of the 1,000 citizens who voted for him, the 713 who voted for his rivals, and the eight hundred or more registered citizens who did not vote.

"Will the broom be used at the City Hall as it was two years ago?" "Will Mac Poston remain as police chief and Ted Gordon as fire chief, and Fred Culbreth as city clerk?" "Will there be a change in the personnel of the police, fire, and street departments?" "Will any of the old officials of the city, officials who served prior to the Dorsey administration, go back in?" Those and many more are the questions being tossed about upon the Shelby streets today. Fact is, the big interest in Shelby elections of recent years centers about the likelihood of changes at the City Hall, and that feature of the election is on "the mum" as yet.

However, "I'll give you the list when I do think it over," the mayor elect told The Star today.

Dorsey Has Not Made Plans For Work After 1st

Taking The Wishes Of The People Good-Naturedly, Says. Sought No Votes.

"I'm somewhat like the little boy who was run over by the calf—I haven't much to say," was the statement of Mayor W. N. Dorsey today when asked if he cared to make any announcement about Monday's voting in which Mr. S. A. McMurry emerged the victor in a three-cornered mayor's race.

The statement was a good-natured one and the mayor apparently is unruined and unangered by his defeat.

"I stated in my platform, just as I did two years ago, that I would seek no votes and would spend no money, leaving it entirely to the people, and since the people have expressed themselves, it suits me and I am taking it good-naturedly," he declared.

"As for my part I lived up to that announcement. I did not ask for a single vote. I did not spend a dime, neither did I ask a single city employee to vote for me or how he was going to vote. I did not have a single car out hauling voters and if any cars were used to carry in votes for me, it was the work of my friends without being requested by me to do so. I appreciate the votes I did receive, and intend to show that I am a good loser for those I did not receive."

As yet Mayor Dorsey says he has not planned just what work he will take up after June 1. Prior to his election two years ago he was in the real estate business.

McMurry Polls Thousand Vote To Defeat Two Opponents In First Race.

With 1,719 votes being cast out of a registration of over 2,600 in the city election here Monday, Mr. S. A. McMurry was elected mayor of Shelby, with no necessity of a run-off, having a lead over both opponents of 288 votes.

The voting of the day put new men into every office in the city except one aldermanic post in which John F. Schenk, jr., veteran alderman, was returned to office.

Although the election was preceded by an unusually quiet campaign, in which the winning candidate of Monday, made no statements or promises, and despite the fact that no exceptional interest was shown election day, a heavier vote was cast than had been anticipated. Of the 1,719 who journeyed to the polls some did not vote full tickets as is evidenced by the fact that only 1,712 votes were cast in the mayor's race and this was the highest vote in either race. The highest individual vote of the day was that of Dr. Tom Gold, who as unopposed candidate for the city school board from Ward Two received 1,505 votes.

In the mayor's race McMurry received an even 1,000 votes, as compared with 438 received by the high candidate two years ago when 1,456 votes were cast for mayor, while Mayor W. N. Dorsey, McMurry's nearest rival received 459 votes, and Enos L. Beam, who ran third, received 253 votes.

In Ward One P. M. Washburn was the high candidate for alderman over his two opponents J. F. Ledford and Boyce Dellinger. In Ward Two Ab Jackson was the winner over J. F. Jenkins, in Ward Three J. F. Schenk, jr., present member of the board, won from W. A. Broadway, while in Ward Four Z. J. Thompson won from T. P. Eskridge.

The School Board. The new member of the District 33 school board are Roger Laughridge, Ward One; Dr. Tom Gold, Ward Two; H. Clay Cox, Ward Three; L. P. Holland, Ward Four; Thad C. Ford, member-at-large. There was only one contest for the school board, that being in Ward Four where J. B. Nolan opposed Holland, the winner.

Official Vote. The official vote as given out today by Mike H. Austell, registrar, and Oliver S. Anthony and Robert D. Crowder, judges, follows:

For Mayor—S. A. McMurry, 1,000; W. N. Dorsey, 459; Enos L. Beam, 253.

For Alderman, Ward One—P. M. Washburn, 187; J. F. Ledford, 609; Boyce Dellinger, 256.

For Alderman, Ward Three—J. F. Schenk, jr., 937; W. A. Broadway, 741.

For Alderman, Ward Four—Z. J. Thompson, 293; T. P. Eskridge, 752.

For School Board—Roger Laughridge, Ward One, 1,414; Dr. Tom Gold, Ward Two, 1,505; H. Clay Cox, Ward Three, 1,379; L. P. Holland, Ward Four, 895; J. B. Nolan, Ward Four, 716; Thad C. Ford, at-large, 1,400.
