

BISHOP STILL IN POLITICAL STRIFE

Wants States Candidates Who Were Opposed To Smith In Election.

Washington.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, last week called upon the anti-Smith Democrats of his native state of Virginia to carry forward a determined opposition to the state party leaders who supported Alfred E. Smith in the last presidential campaign.

Announcing that he would refrain from participation in the Democratic primary next August for the nomination of candidates for state offices, Bishop Cannon, who stumped the south for President Hoover, expressed the "hope that other anti-Smith Democrats will abstain from such participation."

Seeks Right Nominee.

The church leader, in a letter to members of the Virginia executive committee of the anti-Smith Democrats, which he made public here, endorsed the holding of a convention of anti-Smith Democrats at Roanoke on June 18. He said he hoped that convention would find and nominate for governor "an able, well qualified anti-Smith Democrat who did vote against Alfred E. Smith, and did refuse to accept or follow the present national and state Democratic leadership, and who will continue to do so."

"And I believe that the election of such a candidate," the bishop wrote "would be to the best interests, not only of the state of Virginia, but of the Democratic party in state and nation, for such result would warn the Democratic party in the nation at large that southern Democrats will not agree to surrender their moral convictions for a purely political party triumph."

and that a continuation of the Smith-Raskob leadership will mean the permanent loss of the south to the Democratic party."

Bishop Cannon interpreted President Hoover's victory in Virginia, the first of a Republican presidential candidate since the Civil War, as "a clean-cut, sweeping repudiation by a majority of the people in Virginia of those Democratic state leaders who followed and defended Smith and Raskob and vilified the anti-Smith speakers and leaders."

No Previous Protest.

"Up to this hour," he continued, "no voice of protest has been raised by the Virginia members of the Democratic national committee or by the Democratic state leadership of Virginia, against the continuation of the Smith-Raskob leadership and against its so-called liberal anti-prohibition policy."

"To accept now the present-day still unwashed and still unrepentant state or national Democratic party leadership would be to brand as utterly mistaken and unwarranted the course pursued by the anti-Smith Democrats in 1928, and would, therefore, very properly subject them to contempt and ridicule as 'quitters' or 'cowards' in a strenuous, unfinished, still-continuing conflict for the maintenance of the great moral and social policy of prohibition."

Marquette Offered by Buick in Medium-Price Field

The Four Door Sedan is one of the six models comprising the new Marquette line just introduced by the Buick Motor Company

Buick dealers throughout the country today are displaying the Marquette, a new Six, produced and distributed by the Buick Motor Company. This car which will sell in the medium-price field, is offered in six models—a two-door sedan—a four-door sedan—a business coupe—a sport coupe—a roadster and a touring car.

The Marquette is an exceptionally large car for its price class. Priced at a wheelbase of 114 inches. Prices on the six-cylinder L-head motor and the crankcase are cast in one integral unit. The engine has a bore and stroke of 3 1/8" by 4 1/2" and develops 67.5 maximum brake horsepower.

Buick officials say the Marquette has remarkably quick acceleration and a maximum speed up in the seventies. All models are designed along low swinging rakish lines. The bodies are built by Fisher and finished in Duco color combinations that follow distinctive fashion trends. The radiator which is covered with a metal grille is deep with a narrow chromium plated rim that balances with the chromium plated hub caps. The wheels are sturdy and carry large section 28x5.25 balloon tires.

FALLSTON ITEMS OF LATE EVENTS

Shelby Orator Delivers Stirring Address To High School Graduating Class.

Newton.—The closing exercises of the Newton graded school was held in the high school auditorium Friday evening, Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby, delivered the address to the graduating class, numbering 19.

Mr. Hoey spoke of the individual and the relationship the community should have to him. "The Community," the speaker stated, "should see to it that every individual shall have an equal chance," but he brought out in an emphatic way that all the individuals would not take advantage of it. "There are as many different kinds of people as there are trees in the forests, the only way to become like the great outspread oak, is to deny ones self," said the orator, "that is the way to do great things in the community."

The program began with several musical selections by the high school orchestra and the high school glee club, and concluded just prior to the benediction with a valedictory address by Miss Vera Hunsucker and a song by the senior class.

Veteran Of 100 Going To Reunion

Curry County Centenarian Entered For Honor Of Being Oldest Confederate.

Raleigh.—Controversy over the Confederate who will have the honor of being the oldest at the annual reunion in Charlotte has excluded the best bet furnished by Surry county, Jordan A. Hall, who passed the 100 mark April 10 and recently celebrated big at his home in Dobson.

Mr. Hall was born in Virginia, but he has recovered from that and is a Surry Democrat who hoisted his hat high for Al Smith in the late campaign. The soldier is in fine shape, walks as far as he wishes and recently cast off his reading glasses when the good Lord gave him back his old eyes.

Mr. Hall has a nephew, D. S. McMillan, in Raleigh and this patriotic citizen who did not think anything like the thoughts of Smith that his kinsman for seniority honors in the great show in Charlotte. If there is another Confederate able to navigate at 100 plus it is somebody's duty to trot the war horse out. The best age yet suggested for the oldest is 95. And that was considered marvelous. Jordan A. Hall will be able to go to Charlotte and take part in every act of the reunion.

He has no catholicism for living. Mr. Hall recommends first that individual "behave himself." That means to Mr. Hall, the eating of proper food and treating one's body sanely.

Unless somebody gets out an injunction against him he will be in Charlotte at the reunion

SICK STOMACH

First Trial of Black-Draught Convincing, Says Lady, Who Escaped Suffering By Taking It.

Jackson, Miss.—"My first experience with Black-Draught convinced me that it was a good medicine," says Mrs. Ida Kersh, 311 South Congress Street, this city, who says she has taken Black-Draught for years.

"My trouble," writes Mrs. Kersh, "was sick headache which seemed to be caused by constipation. I used to have a thick, slimy taste in my mouth, and such a tired, bad feeling. This would be followed by headache and sick stomach. I would have to stop my work and go to bed."

"I read about Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found that by taking the Black-Draught in time, I could ward off these sick spells. "And so for the last twenty years, when I feel the least bit bad, I take Black-Draught and feel that it has saved me much pain and sickness."

Constipation dams up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms.

Thousands of letters of praise from users of Theford's Black-Draught, on file at the laboratories where Black-Draught is made, testify to the high esteem in which it is held for the relief of constipation and attendant ills. NC-207

WORM IS TURNING ON CHICAGO TAXES

People There Becoming Tired Of Grafters And Official Money Squanderers.

Taxpayers in Chicago are at last in a mood, some observers believe, to turn upon the grafters and official squanderers who have brought that municipality to the verge of bankruptcy, and given it the reputation of being the most lawless of all our large cities. The city is beginning to stagger under its load of needless debt, and is tired of being a horrible example. Such, at least, is the interpretation which the more hopeful press writers place upon the action of Chicago grand jurors in indicting 124 citizens and officials on various criminal charges.

The determined attempt to break up the alliance between the city's politicians and its underworld, we are told, is proceeding under the firm hand of state's attorney John A. Swanson, a very different man from his predecessor. Developments up to May 8 were thus summarized by the Chicago Journal:

"Six sanitary district trustees and a former trustee have been indicted for conspiracy to defraud the taxpayers. Six police captains have been indicted for conspiracy in connection with the operations of a lot-machine gambling ring. Both groups are composed of men elected or appointed to serve the public. All are charged with violation of trust."

"The police captains, at their own request, have been given furloughs. They will be relieved of duty until vindicated or found guilty. The officers themselves have sensed the impropriety of remaining on duty under the circumstances. No such perception moves the sanitary district trustees. Repeatedly they have been called upon to resign; just as often they have refused."

"The best interests of the community, as well as a sense of fairness toward the accused, demand a speedy trial for both the indicted police captains and the sanitary district trustees. The public has heard the charges against them aired repeatedly; the grand jury which weighed the evidence deemed it of sufficient importance to warrant indictments. If any of these men are unjustly accused, the sooner they are vindicated the better; if they are guilty, swift punishment should follow."

"The profits of the lawbreaking slot-machine syndicate, the Chicago Daily News tells us, mounted into the millions, and the evidence submitted to the grand jury showed that "hundreds of thousands of dollars were paid to politicians and police officials for their connivance." The same paper continues:

"While the community knows that corruption has flourished in the police department, and that alliances between the underworld and politicians have demoralized more than one municipal department, it does not desire that undeserved reflections be cast upon a single public servant."

"It does desire that swift and condign punishment be accorded any faithless person clothed with official authority."

What the "whoopie variety of government" has done for Chicago and her citizens is thus stated by an editorial in an eastern paper, the Newark Evening News:

"Her financial situation can only be described as desperate. Half a billion dollars' worth of public improvements are in abeyance. Her public treasuries are empty. Her education department is closing the school year with a $23,000,000 deficit and the prospect that her schools may not open again in September for lack of funds. Public confidence in her government has departed; tax payers decline, time after time, to authorize more bonds. Municipal salaries are being paid out of borrowed money."

"That the second city in the land could be brought to such a pass will surprise only those who have not followed the vicissitudes of her history for the past few years. Her failure to cope with crime and lawlessness, permitting the smoke-screen of an anti-British propaganda to be employed in elections to conceal and confuse the issues of
