

Rev. Wade Bostic At Double Springs

Italian Girl Talks To R. Y. P. U.
There, Mrs. Gardner Improving. Personal News.

(Special to The Star.)

We were very glad to have Rev. Wade Bostic a missionary from China with us last Sunday night in the preaching service. He told us many interesting things about the language and customs of the Chinese. His talk ought to enable us to love and sympathize with these people more. Everyone enjoyed it.

We are also indebted to Mr. Wilbur Wilson for inviting Miss Francis Tobieola, an Italian girl from Limestone college, to speak to the R. Y. P. U. last Sunday night. She exhorted us as young people to love and read the Bible and to appreciate that freedom of worship we enjoy.

Rev. J. W. Suttle was very delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowder Sunday.

Friends of Mrs. W. H. Gardner will be glad to learn she is improving. She has been sick for some time.

Hill and Mrs. Fannie Powell from Shelby were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. M. Brooks Sunday.

MODERN GIRLS FOUND TALLER AND THICKER

Chicago.—Girls in all the universities and outside the colleges are growing taller and thicker. Mrs. Katherine Blunt of the University of Chicago, writing a book on the subject, has records from Vassar, Smith college, Stanford and the University of Chicago to prove it.

"The Vassar student averages almost two inches taller than her predecessor of thirty years ago," Dr. Blunt said. "In 1891-1895 the average girl entering Vassar was 63 inches tall, weighed 117 pounds and had a girth of 24.3 inches. In 1923-1927 her height had increased to 64.9 inches, her weight to 123.9 pounds and her girth to 25.4 inches."

"This change in height has been almost perfectly steady. If this is true of college girls it probably is true of girls everywhere in the country."

Diet lighter clothing and outdoor life is given by Dr. Blunt as the cause.

Because cats of Riverside, Ill., have persisted in dining on birds, a town ordinance requires all cats to wear bells, thus giving a warning to the birds that danger is near.

BEAVER DAM DOTS OF CURRENT NEWS

Shelby R-4.—We had a unusual but yet inspiring service at Beaver Dam Sunday. We were very fortunate in having with us Miss Haggard, Mr. Clarence Little and five children from the South Mountain Industrial school. The five little girls favored us with songs and choises which were very interesting. Miss Haggard made a very interesting talk telling us some very interesting facts about this school and the great work carried on there.

After being inspired by these messages our pastor introduced to us Miss Frances Tabiola an Italian, who has been a student at Limestone college. Gaffney. Miss Tabiola brought us a wonderful message. Our hearts were made to rejoice after hearing her message and surely those who heard her message will have a deeper desire to do more Kingdom work and give to missions as we have never been before. She told many things about her life and her surrender to study as a missionary and carry the message of Jesus across the sea to her own native people. She was a very interesting speaker and being a product of our own mission board any one hearing her sincere message could not help from being glad for our mission work at home and abroad. The best wishes of the entire church at Beaver Dam goes with Miss Tabiola as she goes to carry on her great work and the prayers of the Christian people accompany her.
