Form League Law And Order At Lawndale

Large Crowd Attends Meeting There To Halt Traffic In Booze.

At a mass meeting called by Mr. John F. Schenck, sr., last night at Lawndale a law and order league was formed with the aim of stopping the liquor traffic and drinking in that section.

The meeting was held in the union church there and the building was packed to capacity. Talks were made by Mr. Schenck, Prof. W. D. Burns and others. Following the meeting scores of those present signed up to report all offence seen and heard of and to aid in every way in securing better observance of the prohibition law. Mr. Schenck during his talk declared that he was giving fair warning to all of his textile employees at Lawndale that any of them who took their "drums" or handled liquor at all might as well begin looking for new jobs. Those who would not give up these habits he said had the privilege of resigning before being fired.

A committee of five, with Mr. Schenck as chairman, was named to take reports from the citizens of the community and in turn make reports of misdemeanors and law violations to officers. The meeting was very enthusiastic and following the talks dozens shook hands with the mill proprietor thanking him for his interest in the community and law enforcement.

Chautauqua Coming Here Next Spring

Sale Of Tickets Will Be Handled By The Woman's Club. Men Underwrite It.

The Redpath Chautauqua will return to Shelby next spring after an absence of three or four years, and furnish a program made up of some of the country's best talent. The program will last for five days and consist of nine performances of varied kinds.

Sale of tickets for the Chautauqua has been assumed by the Woman's club of which Mrs. J. W. Harbinson is president, although no financial responsibility devolves on this organization. Twenty-five local citizens believing the Chautauqua is a wholesome and uplifting institution have signed the guarantee of $1,250. The woman's club will share equally in all money derived from the advance sale of tickets over $1,250.

Guarantors who make the coming of the Chautauqua possible are C. F. Thompson, E. E. Scott, Lee B. Weathers, Frank E. Hoey, Wm. Lineberger, Paul Webb, sr., G. B. Lovelace, C. B. McBrayer, Al Bennett, L. W. Short, J. H. Quinn, Horace Kennedy, E. A. Millican, M. R. Weathers, B. M. Jarrett, A. D. Brabie, P. Cleveland Gardner, C. C. Blanton, Max Washburn, J. C. Newton, S. A. McMurry, A. Pitt Beam, Peyton McSwain, F. D. Quinn, J. L. Lackey.

Claude Webb Back At Theatre After Recent Car Wreck

Claude Webb, proprietor of the Webb theatre, appeared at the show house for the first time yesterday afternoon following his injury in a motor wreck last Sunday week near Wilmington. Mr. Webb is still suffering from the effects of three broken ribs and a severe shake-up, but he said he felt well enough to come to business. Mrs. Reid Misheimer, who was also in the car, with her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laughridge and one of the Laughridge children, is still suffering from more serious injuries and is confined at her home on the Cleveland Springs road.

Pendleton's New Radio.

W. A. Pendleton announces to today's Star the arrival of the new model Majestic radio. Mr. Pendleton proclaims this the last word in the radio makers'—a silent instrument—"silent as night," to use the dealer's description, exception when connected with a station. The cabinet is a work of art in black walnut, with German silver plates. The new instrument is featured by a more powerful dynamic speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McDonald, of Memphis, Tenn., have been the guests several days of Mrs. Sam Turner while en route home after a motor trip north and east.

Eighteen Of 36 Are Farmers, Five Merchants, Clerk, Railroad And Insurance Men.

Chester.—The jury commissioners of Chester county, Dr. John E. Cornwell, clerk of court; D. Earle Colvin, auditor; and W. E. Cornwell, treasurer, Wednesday drew the 36 talesmen from which the jury will be selected on July 1 to try Rafe King of Sharon and Shelby, who is to be tried in connection with the death of his wife, Faye Wilson King.

Chester county officials are anxious that King be given an honest and impartial trial, and a veteran selector of jurors, discussing the panel, stated that it was an ideal panel of splendid men. Eighteen are farmers, five merchants, one clerk, one railroad man, two farmer-merchants, two insurance men, one coal yard employee, one manufacturer, two mill employees, one plumber, one carpenter and one postoffice employee.

More Expected.

When the case comes to trial in all likelihood more panels will have to be drawn.

There was much interest in the drawing of the jury and number of people assembled at the clerk of court's office. This is expected to be one of the most sensational murder cases ever tried here and some attending the jury drawing today estimated that there would be a daily attendance of 5,000 people, with the number swelling to even greater proportions on July 4. Judge J. K. Henry of Chester will preside.

A singular thing about the drawing of the jury panel is 34 of the men drawn live in sections of the county far distant from the section nearest the York county line, which is not so many miles from the scene of the alleged crime.

King is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King, in Shelby, having been released from the jail here sometime ago on $5,000 bail. He has been back here but one time since his release, and that was last Saturday to consult with his attorneys.

The 36 jurors drawn were: George W. Anderson, farmer, Fort Lawn; John Jordan, farmer, Chester; Ernest M. Wilson, farmer, Cornwell; A. J. Fry, clerk Chester; R. T. Peterman, agent Southern railway, Chester; W. P. McFadden, farmer, Fort Lawn; C. T. Holder, merchant, Fort Lawn; H. R. Castles, farmer, Cornwell; J. H. Fudge, farmer, Edgemoor; M. J. Wishert, farmer, Leeds; Samuel J. Hudson, farmer, Lowry, R. F. D.; J. E. Wright, insurance, Chester; O. D. Smith, farmer, Leeds, R. F. D.; William L. Craig, manufacturer, Chester; James H. Wherry, farmer, Chester; R. F. D. J. Cornwell, merchant and farmer, Catawba; W. C. Nursey, merchant and farmer, Edgemoor; R. C. Bailey, farmer, Lowry; Clyde Killian, textile employee, Great Falls, S. E. Reeves, merchant, Chester, R. F. D.; H. B. Workman, coal yard employee, Chester; J. E. Wilkes, plumber, Chester; W. J. Locke, farmer, Rodman; Frank L. Whitlock, insurance, Chester; James C. Simpson, carpenter, Chester; James L. Gamble, merchant, Great Falls; H. G. Hitchcock, merchant, Edgemoor; George W. Byars, merchant, Chester; W. B. Westbrook, farmer, Edgemoor; G. W. Worthy, textile employee, Chester; D. Euta Colvin, jr., farmer, Chester R. F. D.; J. L. Cuthbertson, postoffice employee, Chester.

Whenever a change of venue is granted from one county to another the law requires that all of the records and papers shall be filed or transferred and it is understood that the attorneys for King take the position that they have a right to demand that this law be complied with promptly.

Many At Funeral Of Miss McArthur

A large number of Shelby people including many of the students under the young teacher last year attended the funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock of Miss Frances McArthur at Gaffney. Miss McArthur, a teacher for two years in the Shelby school but a native of Gaffney, died Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Chick Springs Sanatorium following an operation. The operation was not for appendicitis as was early information here but to remove a tumor.

Shelby Men Take Over High Point Gas

High Point, June 20.—J. J. McMurry, Jr. and Jesse Walburn, of Shelby, have bought the Good Gulf Refining company contract in High Point from R. B. Gant. The consideration is understood to be about $50,000. The sale does not include any of Mr. Gant's real estate holdings, and he will continue to make his home in High Point.

Messrs. McMurry and Washburn are in High Point this week. Their wives are to join them there soon.

King's Lawyers Demand That They See Records In Hearing

Hoey And Falls Attend Conference Of Counsel Of Shelby Man. Notice Is Served.

Chester, June 20.—There was a lengthy conference in Chester today at which all of the counsel for Rafe F. King of Sharon and Shelby, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Faye Wilson King, were present including Ex-Congressman Clyde R. Hoey and Judge B. T. Falls of Shelby; Thomas F. McDowell of York, James H. Glenn and John M. Hemphill of Chester.

Following the conference several of the counsel of the defense were interviewed but all stated that there was nothing to give out at this time, although it was intimated that the defense expected to be ready for trial July 1. King was not present at today's conference but is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King at Shelby.

It was learned that attorneys for the defendant had served notice upon Solicitor Harry Hines of Lancaster and upon other court officials of York county requiring them to file with the clerk of court of Chester county all of the testimony taken and exhibits used at the coroner's inquest, and also, all of the original affidavits used by the state in undertaking to resist the granting of bail to the defendant.

Handsome uniforms have been distributed through the generous donation of the merchants and other dealers in Shelby.

The Charlotte firemen are leaders in the city league in the Quack City so an interesting game is promised.

No. 8 School Is On Accredited List

The No. 8 township high school, one of Cleveland county's large new consolidated schools, has been placed in Group Two of the state's accredited list of high schools, according to Raleigh dispatches telling of the announcement by the state board of education. To attain this rating the schools have to meet the following specifications: Provide a four-year course, and eight-month term, four whole-time teachers, 45-minute recitation period, 18 units for graduation, science laboratory facilities, 300 volume library, required maps, and at least average daily attendance of 70 pupils.

May Match Champion Brothers In Golf Exhibition Here Soon

Two young Shelby brothers, both of whom have held or hold a golf championship, and two Charlotte brothers, one of whom has been and is now a champion while the other is a golfer of recognized ability, may compete with each other at an early date in an exhibition match on the Cleveland Springs golf course.

Fred Webb, who recently won the Junior crown at Greensboro, and his older brother, Pete Webb, provided the plans work out. Officials of the club here are hoping to match the Webb brothers against the Laxton brothers in an 18-hole match in Shelby next week or at an early date with a return match of 18 holes to be played later on the Charlotte Country club course. Erwin Laxton is the present city champion of Charlotte, he and his brother being sons of Fred Laxton, sr., former Carolinians champion for three years.

No Invitation For DePriest's Party To Jonas

Pritchard Not Only Republican Congressman Not To Be Invited Out By Negro.

Representative George Pritchard of the tenth North Carolina district, was not the only Southern Republican to be "high-hatted" by Oscar DePriest, the negro congressman, in sending out invitations to the entertainment tonight in Washington sponsored by the League for the Advancement of the Negro Race, of which DePriest is the head. Congressman Chas. A. Jonas, of Lincolnton, representative for this district and colleague of Mr. Pritchard, also failed to receive an invitation.

A Washington dispatch to The Greensboro News states that Mr. Jonas "indicated that the incident was causing him no concern or embarrassment, one way or another. He said that if he had received an invitation, or notice of the entertainment at the auditorium he would not have attended. He said in this first place, he did not attend night entertainments of this character, nor having been to a moving picture show in a couple of years; but he did think the question of attending the show at the auditorium Friday would attain the proportions of a national issue. He expressed the belief that if an entertainment of this character should be given in his home town of Lincolnton, a white audience would probably attend, as he recalled that the Shaw university choir had sung in one of the churches there and no one had inspired to start a race riot.

Mr. Jonas feels that the reception of the wife of the negro member at the White House is to be lamented just as he regretted any development which could by any chance cause ill feelings between the races. He had encountered members of congress as the Mrs. DePriest reception, would cause serious friction between white people and negroes, especially in some of the larger cities. He sincerely hoped such would not be the case.

He felt that the negro race had made rather remarkable progress from slavery to the present, the limited number of years during which they had an opportunity to progress and he believes that all good citizens will continue to wish them well, and that wholesome minded folk will continue to feel this way about it; however, much they may regret the DePriest episode.

Mr. Jonas heard the belief expressed that the incident would cost him and other Republicans, especially in the South, a great many votes. Mr. Jonas said he doubted this. The ninth district member does not believe there is a person of voting age in his section who believes that he is in favor of social equality, as some of the Democratic politicians want the term to be understood; but he will be just as well pleased, if there is to be found a person of such low order of intelligence, that he will vote for some one else."

Mr. Jonas also, according to the dispatch, recalled for the benefit of the Democrats concerned about the Hoover hospitality that President Cleveland entertained Fred Douglas, the negro orator, while the latter held an office in the District of Columbia.

White House Problem.

Continuing the dispatch says: "While members generally deplore the DePriest episode, and make little attempt to discover mitigating circumstances, one hears it said that it was a very great problem with which the White House was confronted. Mr. Hoover, it is noted by such persons, is not the president alone of the white people. In these quasi-official receptions, the whole human colored schema is represented at times, when diplomatic representatives from all lands and climes are present. There are present brown and yellow people and Mr. Hoover is not the president of these people, as he is in the president, in a sense, of the black people of his own country."

"But, of course, the reply to all this is that in receiving the wife of DePriest at the White House the Hoovers did infinite harm to all the people that are represented by him as president. The student named by DePriest for entrance to Annapolis, has failed in his physical examination. The Chicago negro member said today he felt the examination had been fair, as physicians had previously stated that the student might have trouble about his defective vision.

"But DePriest added that he did not propose to let the matter rest while it is at present, that he would not let up until he got one or more negroes entered at the naval academy."

Decide Highway 18 Routing Here Tuesday, July 2

The routing of the muchly discussed Highway 18 from Shelby to the South Carolina line is to be decided, or at least the appeals concerning the various routes heard here on Tuesday, July 2.

This information comes from Raleigh, where at a meeting of the highway commission Wednesday three of the commissioners were appointed to come to Shelby to hear the appeals. Commissioners named were McGirt, Stikeleather, and Wheatley. The hour of the meeting here or the nature in which the appeals will be presented and heard are not known as yet. Neither is it known how soon after the hearing the commissioners will announce their decision, but it is known that the decision will be reached prior to July 15 as the bids for construction of the highway will be received on that date.

Bishop Cannon Market Trader Books Disclose

Bankrupt Brokerage Books Show Transactions By Anti-Smith Church Leader.

New York.—New York newspapers today printed lengthy accounts of dealings in stocks by Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, leader of the Anti-Smith forces in the Democratic party and chairman of the Anti-Saloon League legislative committee at Washington.

The transaction were with the now bankrupt brokerage firm of Kable and company, the officers of which were under indictment for using the mails to defraud. The firm's books indicate that between August 14, 1927, and April 30, 1928, Bishop Cannon with an investment of $2,500 bought and sold stocks at prices running into five and six figures. Had he closed his account before the firm's books were seized he would have made $6,100.

So far he has made nothing and is out $2,500. The ledger shows purchase of $188,234 and sales of $66,000 in one month alone.

Admits Purchase.

The World, which printed a facsimile of the ledger sheet carrying the bishop's account, quoted the bishop as admitting the stock purchases but saying he believed he was buying stock for investment on the partial payment plan.

Disclosure of the bishop's stock dealings was made by Judge Campbell, attorney for Charles H. Kable, after United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle had refused him access to the firm's books.

The Kable firm filed a voluntary petition of bankruptcy in April 1928, but no action has yet been taken in the case. Assistant United States Attorney Ella Mayra Faison said the delay merely was due to the press of more important cases. After the filing of the bankruptcy petition, indictments were returned against Kable, who Campbell maintains was a mere figurehead in the firm, and Harry L. Goldhurst, whom Campbell alleges was the actual owner.

Bought For Investment.

Bishop Cannon told The World he made the stock purchases through Goldhurst.

"I thought I was buying stock for investment, buying on the partial payment plan as any man may," he said. "I did not know there was any gambling by the company. I did suppose, and I suppose now, that the company found itself in debt and failed.

"I cannot see why these transactions are of public interest. The only reason for printing such things, I suppose, is that I occupy a public position in trying to get the prohibition law enforced. I do not feel that I did anything wrong in buying stocks on the partial payment plan, and I certainly did not intend to gamble. I hoped to finish my payments and so invest my money."

Cannon Too Busy To Discuss Losses In Stock Speculation.

Washington, June 20.—Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, today had nothing to say about reports that he lost several thousand dollars as a result of the failure of an alleged bucket shop stock firm in New York.

He declared he was "much too busy with other matters" to discuss the subject but indicated he might issue a statement later.

Lawyers Make Just 27 Runs To Capture Game From Doctors

Medicos However Trot 21 Runners Around Path In Track Meet At City Park.

A field day for the professional men of Shelby was held yesterday afternoon at the city park with a gathering larger than any that has turned out here this year for a baseball game except for Shelby high's last home game of the champion series.

Technically the event was not listed as a field day, although it was a running and jumping contest, for in diamond terms the lawyers of Shelby defeated the doctors just six runs—it is written just six because the score was a mere 27 to 21 in their baseball game.

And what a ball game it was! Bambino, Gehrig, and Chick Hafey could have learned things about slugging from it; Mark Koenig, Hughie Critz, and even Cline Owens Lee could have picked up some fielding knowledge by looking on, and Annette Keleman could have learned how to dive merely by watching the Hon. Odus Mull, state Democratic chairman, dive after line drives in outfield, and what she failed to pick up from him she would easily have
