Young Bostic Saves Girl From Drowning

(Special to The Star)

Ridgecrest.—Miss Alice Nelson, of Fayetteville, Ark., was saved from drowning here late Saturday afternoon when Wade Bostic, Ridgecrest life guard, rescued her from the waters of the lake here.

The girl was seeking to swim from the bank to a raft, about 35 yards away. After making about half the distance her strength failed and she started to sink. Bostic dived from one of the towers on the lake and pulled her ashore.

Miss Lucille Porter of Hoggess, Va., is enroute here way through Marshall college by raising Bostic's terriers, some of which are valued in thousands of dollars.
