Cars Collide On West Warren Street

Two cars collided about 9 o'clock last night on West Warren street in front of the residence of C. R. Webb with the result that one man, "China" Davis of Kings Mountain was slightly hurt. The Kings Mountain car was driven by Carl Moss and was conducted by several men, one of whom was Mr. Davis, the injured man. This car was going in the direction of Kings Mountain, while the other car, a Chrysler, driven by Geo. Thompson, was going west. The heavy impact brought many people into the street to see what had happened.

Make Objections To School Bonds

The Cleveland Star for publication. We the undersigned voters of the 33rd school district, Cleveland county, and City of Shelby, North Carolina, wish to question the school bond election of $58,000, as we find that a goodly number of the male voters registered themselves and wife, and other male voters was denied this privilege.

Fine Horses Of Four States To Feature Exhibit

Shelby Man To Be Directing Genius Of Event Held At Blowing Rock Soon.

Blowing Rock, July 29.—Horses from Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, and the two Carolinas have been entered for the Blowing Rock horse show, to take place on the Mayview golf course track, on August 9.
Donald J. Boyden, chairman, Ralph Hoey of Shelby, and L. M. Tate, as business manager, in charge of the show, announce the entry of the Stuart horses from Virginia, from the farm managed by Harris C. Stuart, nephew of former governor Stuart of Virginia, and of horses from the McGahee stables in Hendersonville, from which have come national winners.
Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Madon of Mountain City, Tenn., will ride the Stuart horses, Major and Class, in the five-gated class, and will show also prize hunters from the Virginia farm. Mr. McGahee will be here himself.
R. E. Geddard of Harrodsburg, Ky., will come to Blowing Rock from New York, where he is now judging the Long Island horse show, to act as judge. Horses are being entered from Raleigh, Shelby, Guilford, High Point, Salisbury, Hickory, Greensboro and Durham in this state.

Among horses already well-known in Blowing Rock to be entered in this summer's show are Bourbon Lass, winner five times last year ridden by Mrs. Hal Schenck; Golden Lily, eight-year-old saddler, owned and ridden by Ralph Hoey; Silver Slippers, by Mrs. Joe Cannon of Concord; and All Right, famous jumper, by L. M. Tate, who with this hunter, led the classes the past season at Pinehurst.
Miss Virginia Jones of Charlotte, winner in horse shows throughout the south, and Miss Long of Greensboro, this summer in charge of the riding classes at Camp Yonah-jesse near Blowing Rock, whose family through three generations has been prominent in matters equine, will be feature riders in the summer's show.

Among other entries made up to date are those of Mrs. D. J. Boyden, Alex Shuford, of Hickory, Dr. Vance and Miss Margaret Vance of Nashville, Gwendolyn Dangerfield of New York and Blowing Rock, Misses Mary and Ann Cannon of Concord and Blowing Rock, Mrs. Mathews and daughter of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Kone and daughter of New Mexico, Miss Catherine Crowell of Salisbury and Charleston, and in the junior class, Billie McClellan, Miss Mathews, and Bettie and Gwyn Harper, Jr., of Hickory.

Over 500 in cash prizes and four trophies will be awarded at the Blowing Rock horse show.

Boil weevil infestation continues on the increase in the state. Those wanting information about dusting with calcium arsenate should write to C. H. Brannon, extension entomologist at State college for late facts.

Irish potatoes as a money crop is being abandoned by farmers of Currituck county. They are now turning to livestock and other crops.

Rafe King Gets Breath Of Open Air At Penitentiary

Shelby Man Allowed To Pitch Ball And Gets Services Of Prison Barber.

Columbia, S. C., July 29.—Rafe King had a walk in the open yesterday afternoon. The York county man, convicted at Chester recently of the murder of his wife, is locked tonight in a cell on the solitary confinement row. But the prison authorities give him a little fresh air every day or so. Escape would be impossible because of the fact that armed guards walk the walls around the prison enclosures.
Yesterday afternoon King was also allowed to go out on the yard in front of the office of the captain of the prison guard and pitch baseball for a few minutes with another prisoner. A little exercise and a little fresh air every day is regarded as necessary to the prisoner's health.

And yesterday he also had a shave. Prisoners who are held in solitary confinement have to have shaves, too. Every day or so, depending on the speed of whisker growth, such a prisoner is visited by a prison barber, and scissors and razor are put to work. King was brought from his cell and placed in a chair in a hallway near the door of the guard captain's office. This was his barber shop.

King's home at present is a cell into which no sun shines and from which his only view is gray interior walls and dark cell bars. At intervals he is visited, when guards bring him meals or mail or other necessities. But no one is allowed to see him. To reporters Captain Sanders, head of the prison guard, replied: "Can't let you see him unless you bring an order from the governor. He's the governor's prisoner, not ours."

King's cell is in a row of cells extending the width of the building in which is located the office of the captain and the assistant captain and the photograph and fingerprint departments. The windows are not in the cells but in the corridor that is in front of the cells. The windows are high and cannot be seen from the interior of the cells. Neither can any doors.

In this row of cells are three prisoners, convicted of murder, but with sentences postponed by appeals to the state supreme court. The other two are young men sent from Spartanburg, Paul B. Johnson and W. R. Coleman. They were convicted of killing a pay roll clerk. Belue, an official of one of the Spartanburg cotton mills. They rode behind his car, as he transported the pay roll from bank to mill, and they shot him.

At The Theatres

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," film drama from the Thornton Wilder novel, is the Webb feature Tuesday. This should prove to be one of the best pictures of the season. The female lead is played by the imported French actress, Lily Damita, with Ernest Torrence taking the part of Uncle Pio. This is one of the most celebrated yarns of the time—a philosophic novel, scene laid in Peru. It made the fame of its author, who became a companion of Gene Tunney on a walking tour of Europe.

Monte Blue in "From Headquarters," starring Guinn Williams, Gladys Rockell and Henry B. Walthall is the feature picture at the Princess today and tomorrow. This is the story, and a good one, of a "devil-dog," otherwise a U. S. Marine, who being jilted, turns on life and makes good. It is a record of rejuvenation. It is a Warner Brothers, and a classic romantic drama, full of action, and stirring situations. A good talking comedy. Paramount News and Vitaphone acts enliven the program.

TWO WHITE MEN HELD FOR ATTACK ON NEGRO

Salisbury.—Former Deputy Sheriff W. W. Wilhelm and Special Railroad Detective Graham Barber have been arrested at the instance of County Prosecutor R. C. Jennings charged with assault with intent to kill. Bonds of $2,000 were required. The officers are charged with shooting Harrison Guenn, a negro at Barbers Junction last Saturday night. Guenn is in the Salisbury hospital in a serious condition. The first report was that Guenn resisted arrest and was shot by one of the officers in self defense but when Mr. Jennings returned from a vacation he began an investigation and got conflicting stories of the occurrence with the result that a hearing is to be held.

Tie Game Is Feature Of Games In The County Loop

Saturday's Results.

Boiling Springs 4; Lawndale 3.
Union 4; Knob Creek 0.
Cleveland Cloth Mill 10; Lily Mill 5.
Eastside 7; Dover-Ora 7 (10 innings).

Featured by a 7-7 tie at the city baseball park, some splendid games were staged in the Cleveland County baseball league Saturday. The game between Eastside and Dover-Ora in which neither could get the better of the other was the outstanding feature of the day, but all the games played were good.

The following is the box score of the Cleveland Cloth mill versus the Lily Mill game:

Cleveland	ABRH	Lily Mill	ABRH
Kerr, lf	5 1 1	D. Walker	3 0 0
Harrelson, lb	3 1 2	J. Wall	4 0 0

FORMER CASHIER IS GIVEN PRISON TERM

Winston-Salem.—Grady L. Zimmerman, former cashier in the city water department, confessed to embezzling approximately $7,000 while employed by the city, when arraigned in Forsyth superior court today and was sentenced to from five to seven years in the State prison. Following his sentence Zimmerman was taken in custody by the sheriff and went to the county jail.

Judge Pender A. McElroy pronounced sentence after hearing testimony of Luther Charles, superintendent of the water department to whom Zimmerman gave his first confession of embezzlement, and counsel for the defendant.

The jurist started in entering judgment that in the event the funds are repaid, and it was understood relatives are prepared to make restitution, the prison sentence will be reduced. Judge McElroy, however, gave no indication of the time to which he would reduce the sentence.

Zimmerman elected to appear alone, requesting his family to remain away from the courtroom and avoid the embarrassment. The young man received the sentence without apparent emotion, having previously announced he had become resigned to his fate.
