Mrs. Hardin Buried At Grover Sunday

Mrs. Ed Hardin, of Broad River Mill, in Cherokee county, died Friday afternoon with apoplexy. She had been in ill health for 15 days. She was 39 years of age. She had lived in Mt. Paran section the greater part of her life. She had three children, all of whom are dead. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. E. Furcron, pastor of First Baptist church of Grover, assisted by the Rev. Denny, pastor of Presbyterian church, also of Grover, at 2 o'clock Sunday. Interment followed in Grover cemetery by J. L. Goodson, Blacksburg mortician. Mrs. Hardin is survived by the following: her father, Henry Turney of Blacksburg; six brothers, Jim Harley, Marvin, John of Laurel, Md., George Turney of Gaffney, Julian Turney of Blacksburg, and one sister, Ellie Jay of Shelby. Mrs. Hardin was before her marriage Miss Dosele Turney.

A breed of wingless chickens has been developed in Kansas. Some day scientists will turn their attention to something really worth while and may produce a chicken without a neck.

Victim of Jealousy

Miss Edith Bassford, of Norristown, Pa., lies dead at the hand of her sweetheart, Earl Oberholtzer, with whom she had kept company for three years. Maddened by jealousy because he thought his best friend was paying court to his lady, Oberholtzer shot her and seriously wounded himself. (International Newswire)

ORIGIN OF HORNED TOADS EXPLAINED

Raleigh Is Advised To Take Good Care Of Its New Pets As They Are Insect Eaters.

Raleigh.—Discovery of these horned toads roaming in a residential section of Raleigh and the subsequent story of the same sent out by the Associated Press has brought from Dr. Cooper Curtice of NeNeil, Miss., formerly connected with the North Carolina department of agriculture, an interesting letter about that 'origin of the toads.'

ment of agriculture, an interesting letter about that 'origin of the toads.'

"I refer to an 'A. P.' article on the 'horned toad trio, etc.' written at Raleigh, July 18, 1929, read by me in 'Times Picayune,' New Orleans, July 17.

"The history I am about to give may have repeated itself, probably not.

"In 1908 I brought home two or three horned toads from Texas for the children. We were living on West Hargett street, in the Boylan house one door west of Boylan avenue. These latter escaped—one or two young were found by the Baker gardener who worked at the house opposite. The gardener found and showed them to me.

"I am sorry to see these pets coupled in name with the Mediterranean fruit fly, for they are surely insect eaters and deserve all possible protection the same as our garden toads. I trust that curiosity hunters will not exterminate them."

The origin of the live horned toads, however, is now believed by the department of agriculture to have been in a consignment of the pets recently received here by Cran Hardin, from an uncle in Texas. The youth, however, was forced to release the pets by his mother, and a dozen or more were liberated. The Hardins formerly lived in Texas and a brother of Mr. Hardin sent the pets to his nephew.

Trustee's Sale.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed by Carr E. Cline and wife, Blanche Cline, to The Commercial National Bank of High Point, North Carolina, as local trustee for the Central Trust company of Charleston, West Virginia, which deed of trust is of record in book 150, at page 55, of the registry of Cleveland county, North Carolina, said deed of trust having been given to secure an indebtedness for three thousand ($3000) dollars, and said indebtedness not having been paid according to the terms of payment, and the holder of the notes thereby secured having called upon the undersigned trustee to foreclose said deed of trust, the undersigned trustee will offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash at the court house door in Shelby, N. C., at 12 m. on the 31st day of August, 1929, the following house and lot in the City of Shelby, N. C., described as follows:

Lying on the south side of Hudson street on the west side of North DeKalb street in the northern portion of the Town of Shelby, Cleveland county, North Carolina, and beginning at a stake on the west edge of DeKalb street at the point of intersection with the south edge of Hudson street, and runs thence with the west edge of DeKalb street south 107 feet to a stake, the northeast corner of lot 27; thence with the line of lot 27 west 73 feet to a stake, J. K. Wells' southeast corner; thence with Wells' line north 107 feet to a stake on the south edge of Hudson street; thence with the south edge of Hudson street east 73 feet to the beginning and being the eastern portion of lots 23, 24, 25 and 26 of the Oak Forest property as shown by a plat made by John F. Kennedy and recorded in book 1 of plats at page 30 in the office of the register of deeds for Cleveland county, N. C., and being the same property as conveyed to Carr E. Cline by deed recorded in same office in book 3-P, at pages 536-537. This July 30th, 1929.

4000 revolutions a minute No airplane can test an oil like this

THE motor of a racing car turns over more than twice as fast as the average airplane motor. Here is a real test for motor oil! Only an oilier oil can withstand the searing heat, relentless pressure and continual piston-pounding of such terrific speed.

That's why Ralph De Palma insisted on using "Standard" Motor Oil when he won two out of three races at Trenton, N. J., last year. Why Herman Schurch and the late Ray Keech chose "Standard" when they tied each other for the North Carolina State record. "Bob" Robinson, who hung up a new record for South Carolina, and "Doug" Wallace, famous "racing ace," use it whenever they are in a state where "Standard" Motor Oil is sold.

Ask for "Standard" Motor Oil at your dealer's. Fill your crankcase with this rich-bodied, oilier oil. Get added miles of service from your car.

There's a good reason why "Standard" Motor Oil is an oilier motor oil—a better lubricant. First of all the crude oils from which "Standard" Motor Oil is made are selected for their lubricating qualities. These basic stocks are refined to the correct consistencies for various types of motors. The oil is next especially processed so that it will cling to and constantly protect each moving part of the motor. All this, together with countless tests and experiments costs time and money. But no effort is too great for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to give you an oil that is worthy of the name "Standard."
