Minutes Of The First Meeting Of The Farm Relief Board.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman and was opened with prayer by Mr. Schilling.

On motion of Mr. Hyde, seconded by Mr. Williams, a rising vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Hoover for appointing such a wonderful set of men to serve on the farm relief board and congratulate him on the wisdom he has shown thus far in advancing the cause of the farmer. A resolution was passed expressing perfect satisfaction with the salaries—now being paid the board members, but suggested that a few thousand dollars expense money would not be out of place.

Mr. Denman read a paper entitled—"Cotton is already too high," and his statements were so convincing, it was concluded that the needs of the southern farmer be dismissed from the minds of the members, and that no action be taken concerning the fleecy staple till it declines below 8 cents per pound.

A round table was held regarding wheat, and as the drought, hail, rain, sunshine, heat, the zoobug, and other pests had increased the price of wheat about 60 per cent during the past 45 days, a vote was taken on the question whether or not the speculator had made enough and if so—the market would be put down 10 cents a bushel in the very near future... that is—if it looks like showers in Saskatchewan. This relief board claimed all the credit for the advance, and voted for the weather to remain dry.

At this time, a committee of ladies from Aristook county, Maine brought in several platters of potato chips and while the same were being devoured, their spokesman, Mrs. Ima Bug, explained that without government help at once, all of the Fords and half of the Chevrolet in that community would have to be surrendered next week. The chairman promised to take this situation under advisement and ask Mr. DePriest to introduce a bill in congress right away, beseeching the credit companies to hold off re-possessing and of those Maine cars till after some of that $500,000,000.00 was put into circulation.

A telegram was received from the cranberry growers of Nova Scotia seeking permission to bottle some home brew made from their product and transport the same into the United States on the goods-legger-trucks now being used so extensively. The board will pass this request on the Wickerham with a recommendation to act, as it will help to relieve those down-trodden farmers. After naming a secretary and a treasurer and maid and butler and chiropodist for each member of the board at various salaries as per the government scale, the meeting adjourned to convene again next fall at 1 o'clock.

Cotton Letter.

New York, August 23.—The bulls bought December and the bears sold May. And the straddlers were guessing the live-long day. The longs and the shorts didn't know what to do: They couldn't hold March and December too.

The boll weevil continued his gnawing on the squares; They kept spots chasing up-and-down the stairs. The speculators cursed when they saw the weather map. And if the sun keeps a-shining there'll be a short crop. But some showers in Texas and clouds over the belt, Would make us feel as rich as we most ever felt. Come on with your Fords and your Chevrolets too. The farmers are going to ride if it takes the last soot.

This is an age of personal disturbance. The white folks are doing their dearest to get sunburnt so badly that they will look like negroes and the negroes are painting and polishing and powdering so's they will look like white folks, and there is a great race on between the flappers and their mothers to see which (if any) can wear dresses the shortest without getting arrested.

There are 4 Russian Communists on their way from Nicolaievsk to New York by airplane. Their names are Semyon Shetakovitch, Philip Bolotov, Boris Stelzinger, and Dmitri Fufeev. I tried to pronounce the names herein listed and wrenched my jaw terribly and sprung my tongue a right smart. They sound like they would make mighty good labor union organizers.

One of my good Hoover-Democrat friends decided that it was his duty to broaden his religious activities, so he made up his mind that he would be a Baptist-Methodist, that is—join these two churches, but the Baptists wouldn't have him with his free moral agency belief and the Methodists refused to accept him within their fold because of his leaning toward predestination. He was surprised that he couldn't be both at the same time. The DePriests are O. K. They are not Catholics. And I want you to further understand that I don't admire Al Smith either.

When the meek do get to inherit the earth, it appears now as though their great problem would still be the truck driver.—Minneapolis Journal.

President Hoover points out that we have the world's costliest Army. Here's hoping that we never get our money's worth out of it.—New Yorker.

THOUSANDS YOUTHS IN CAMPS OF N. C.

Asheville.—That there are 10,000 boys and girls attending the summer camps in the mountains of Western North Carolina, is indicated in a recent survey made by the Asheville Chamber of Commerce. An average of 104 campers per camp has been estimated from figures on the 1929 season as given by camp directors, many of the camps reporting an attendance of 200 or more. There are 101 camps known to be located in this section, a number of them being operated in connection with the various religious assemblies.

The 1929 summer camping season is said to be one of the most successful in the history of the camps near Asheville. Numbers of camp directors have reported waiting lists of campers and practically all of the camps are operating at or very near their capacity.

More than a score of states are represented in the lists of boys and girls who are attending the summer camp sessions. As many as 19 states are represented at one camp. Practically every state in the east is represented in the throng of campers. Camping has become a million dollar industry in Western North Carolina. Conservative estimates place the gross income of the camps this season at $2,076,000 in the Southern Appalachian regions and at $1,800,000 for the camps in Western North Carolina. This estimate is based upon the average fee per camper.

The success of the Western North Carolina camps is attributed to the cool summer climate and low humidity of the Asheville region coupled with the tremendously interesting scenic attractions with which the mountain section has been endowed by nature. The region affords many other advantages in the artificial lakes which have been created, the many miles of mountain trails and the central location in regard to the eastern centers of population.

Do you know any car of its price that matches America's finest medium-priced automobile?

Read the chart comparing today's Oakland All-American Six with twenty other leading medium-priced cars. Thirteen of these cars are higher-priced than Oakland. Yet despite this fact, in 878 individual comparisons Oakland is definitely superior on 451 or 51.37 per cent. And the competing cars, all combined, are able to equal Oakland on only 382 or 43.50 per cent.

Let us show you the detailed results of these comparisons—all serving to substantiate the statement that today's Oakland All-American is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

| What these features mean to you  | How Oakland compares with the field  |
|--|--|
| PISTON DISPLACEMENTLarge piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car.   | Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are higher priced than Oakland.  |
| FISHER BODYNo name in automobile coach building comes so much as Fisher. Fisher bodies are famous for style, luxury and roominess. In addition, they hold such advantages as sturdy composite hard-wood and steel construction, VV windshield, side cowl ventilation and adjustable drivers' seats. | Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.                   |
| WHEELBASEReasonably long wheelbase gives greater riding ease and road balance. Also permits use of longer, smarter, roomier bodies. At the same time, a small turning circle is essential to handling ease.   | Only one car as low-priced as Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle to the left of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases. |

Summer scatters the family, the Telephone keeps them together.

The family is scattered for the summer. Sally is at a mountain camp in New England. Tom is having the time of his life on a western ranch. Mrs. Williams is on the shore with the Gares'. And Mr. Williams is at home. . . . But he is in as close touch with the family as though they were just across the street.

He does it by telephone.

He calls them all, regularly, from home. It takes but a few minutes. It is surprisingly inexpensive. And talking to them is next best to seeing them.

Vacation time is telephone time. You can talk to other members of your family. Plan to meet friends. Reserve hotel or camp accommodations. Let relatives know you will be in their cities.

From your own home you can telephone anywhere in the United States—or even to Europe. And the calls are quick, clear and low in cost. Use the telephone frequently this summer. It will keep your family together, no matter where they are.
