WIRELESS SETS FOR TAXIS TO PERMIT BETTER SERVICE

London.—Experiments are being made in fitting taxicabs with wireless receiving sets, not for the entertainment of passengers, but to enable a whole fleet of cabs to be controlled from a central point.

Patrolling cabs can be directed to proceed to certain addresses or can be marshaled at points where an emergency service is demanded. Loud speakers are used, and the broadcasting is done on a short wave length.

Worked Under "High Pressure"

In putting in his bill for $50 for analyzing the contents of a bottle found in the coat pocket of Rafe King, Dr. B. F. Robertson, chemist of Clemson goes on to say in a letter to Clerk Cornwall: "..... as this was done under a special order of the court and not coming under the duties required by law in examinations of human bodies suspected of poisons, I would expect a compensation of $50. Please be advised in reference to it. I feel quite sure that the court in ordering special work done, did not contemplate a hardship on any one without compensation. As stated in my letter, the work was indeed a hardship and done under extreme high pressure."

Merger Of Grocery Stores Is Planned

days ahead will be hard," he added.

The Quality Service Stores organization already covers a wide field and is daily enlarging its scope and buying power. It is said. Stores are scattered over this entire section in addition to the score or more at Gastonia, and the Southern field of the Quality stores covers five states. Local financial and business interests will without doubt eagerly await the outcome of the definite move to form the merger here next week.

Robert Sharpe of Leeds, Eng. left his clothing and a suicide note on a river bank, and after the stream had been dragged four days for his body he showed up alive and well.

AGREE ON PROGRAM TO IMPROVE DAIRYING

Carolina, especially butter and cheese, is far below local demands. The average milk production of the cows in the state is around 3,600 pounds a year which is too low for profit. At least 65 percent of the dairy sires now in use are grades or scrubs; and cows do not get enough grain and legume hay. At least one acre of good pasture is needed for each mature cow and this is not available at this time.

But he especially urges those farmers who go into the dairy business to stay in it, rather than get in one year when cotton and tobacco are low in price and out the first time these crops pay a profit. Dairy farming is not an emergency measure for low priced tobacco or cotton. It is a permanent farm industry and may be used to supplement cotton and tobacco farming with excellent results.

At The Theatres

Milton Sills in "Love and the Devil" with Maria Corda, is the Webb feature picture today and tomorrow. Milton Sills, always popular with the fans, appears in a new kind of romance of an old world setting. The press sheet describes the picture thus: Adventurer, explorer, he had laughed at the dangers of the jungle. But how he feared the danger of a woman's kiss on the moonlit canals of Venice. It's worth the admission price just to her the Vitaphone Music Masters playing famous Italian Opera selections and enchanting melodies of Venice.

Rousing good melodrama is the entertainment promised for today at the Princess when Rayart's "Ships of the Night" holds the screen as the featured release. Jacqueline Logan is the star, handling the only featured female role in the picture. There are plenty of good he-male roles in the capable hands of such players as Arthur Rankin, Jack Mower, Sojin, Glen Cavender, J. P. McGowan and others, with Andy Clyde supplying some delightful comedy. The feature for Saturday at the Princess is one and only Tom Mix and his horse Tony in a western thriller called "Rough Riding Romance" as an added attraction the second chapter of Queen of the North Woods and a rich comedy will be shown.
