To Honor Governor And Mrs. O. Max Gardner.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. D. Lineberger are entertaining this evening at their elegant new home on the Cleveland Springs road in honor of Governor and Mrs. O. M. Gardner who are spending part of their vacation here. Mr. and Mrs. Lineberger will give a dinner and twelve guests will be seated at the handsome table.

Mrs. Newkirk Given Party By Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Charles Hubbard entertained on Thursday afternoon at an informal bridge party in compliment to Mrs. Newkirk of Memphis, Tenn., a delightful house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Fred Dean. Flowers from the garden of the hostess were used as decorations being most artistic in their arrangement. Prizes were given for top score and consolation, and to the guest of honor. After many progressions at the three tables, the cards were laid aside and a most tempting and delicious salad and sweet course was served.

Shelby Horse Show Colorful Event.

Outstanding in Shelby's society of this week was the horse show at the fair grounds on Thursday. Beautiful horses, beautiful horses, well groomed men in riding clothes and lovely women in all the charming summer colors of exquisite gowns and the tailored habits of the women riding all these added to the background of trees and foliage in the distance, made a most colorful and inspiring scene. Quite a number of out of town horses were entered, and many visitors came from over the state to enjoy this delightful event.

Mrs. Charles Burrus Honors House Guest.

At her charming home on Cleveland Springs road, Mrs. Charles Burrus was the gracious hostess at a lovely morning bridge party honoring her attractive house guest, Miss Lois Sweeney of Durham. The tables were placed in the cool and spacious living room, and in here was a wealth of beautiful mixed garden flowers arranged most artistically in bowls and vases. The card tables were covered with hand-painted squares done by the talented hostess. Centering the tables were little silver bud vases holding exquisite pink rose buds and sweet egyptus. After the games were played, Mrs. Burrus served a most delicious salad course.

Mrs. Frazier Hostess.

Among the lovely midsummer bridge parties given this week was one given by Mrs. Dan Frazier on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock when she entertained the members of her Contract Bridge club at her home on Hudson street. A profusion of marigolds and golden glow with their cool green leaves and stems enhanced the attractive setting where three tables were placed for the games. Miss Vic Howie a charming visitor held top score and received a box of bath salts. Mrs. Connelly Eskridge received a beautiful towel for low score.

At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Frazier served an elegant and delicious salad course carrying out the color scheme of yellow and green most perfectly. The hostess greeted her guests in a charming green sports costume.

Mrs. Frazier was again hostess on Wednesday afternoon with five tables of bridge having her neighbors in to play the ever popular auction bridge. The home was decorated with the yellow and green motif and on each table little green crystal vases held the graceful golden glow with greenery. Mrs. Frazier had for her charming honorees, Mrs. Claude Wilson, Mrs. Stamey Helms, Mrs. James Hutcheson and Mrs. J. H. Boyd of Monroe, and Mrs. C. C. Mundy of Taylorsville. Each honoree was presented with beautiful gift towels. A most delicious salad and sweet course was served carrying out the yellow and green motif. On this occasion Mrs. Frazier wore a stunning apricot chiffon frock. Miss Mary Helen Lattimore received a deck of cards for high score.

Julia Peterkin And Her Book.

In the August 15th number of Town and Country there is a splendid picture of Mrs. Julia Peterkin of South Carolina, whose book "Scarlet Sister Mary" took the Pulitzer prize, and is an outstanding study of Southern negro life. The book has been much discussed. A copy is now in the Shelby Public library and the "looker on" sitting in the library three times a week enjoys the comments made by persons as they bring the book in and take it out. Of all the criticisms, the "looker on" thinks Mr. William Curtis has summed the book up most splendidly and most true. He says "Scarlet Sister Mary" is probably the most genuine and sincere consideration of negro life and psychology that has been written. Best in that it is the most unrestrained, non melodramatic of the long life of negro books. Mrs. Peterkin's negroes are, I am convinced the first real negroes in American fiction. On that count it is my considered belief that Scarlet Sister Mary is as definite a contribution to American literature in its presentation of one special facet of the thousand odd facets of American life, as Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" which is the highest praise any one can give a novel." And by the way very few people in Shelby know that Mrs. Paul Webb was a schoolmate of Mrs. Peterkin at Converse college some years ago. Mrs. Peterkin was then a dignified red headed senior; and Mrs. Webb was then a freshman known as Miss Alma McBrayer a beautiful young girl and she had in those days in slang language a "crush" on Mrs. Peterkin. Mrs. Webb tells most interesting and entertainingly about that first year and her "crush" on Mrs. Peterkin.

WATER DRAINED FROM HIGH GROUND BY HOLES IN GROUND

Shoshone, Idaho.—When the rolling terrain pours too much flood water upon them, farmers in this region bore holes in the ground and pour it back.

The country is underlaid with lava formations containing huge crevices which carry full streams from the highlands down to the Snake river. Holes of from 30 to 60 feet deep have penetrated these crevices in a number of places with the result that much of the flood water is swallowed before it does damage.
