Governor's Tenant Brought Family To See 'De Government'

Lined Up 16 Children For Governor Gardner To Address During Stay Here.

The following Raleigh dispatch telling of an incident during Governor Gardner's vacation in his home-town will be of interest here, especially to those acquainted with "Dave", one of the Gardner tenants:

"One of the most unique experiences Governor O. Max Gardner had while on his vacation was the reception accorded him when he visited one of his farms near Shelby, when one of his negro tenants brought his entire family consisting of his wife and 16 children, to 'see the government,' as the negro tenant put it.

"I had been out riding around the farm, and when I got back to the house I saw this crowd of colored children on the porch," Governor Gardner said. "And I rode up, this negro came toward me, smiling and bowing, and said that he had taken the liberty of bringing his family up to the house to 'see the government.'"

"None of my children has ever had a chance to see the government before, so I jes' took de liberty of bringing 'em up here to de house to take one look at de government," Governor Gardner related the negro's words. "I was afeared it was de last chance dey might have to see de government dat dey daddy is working for."

"The colored farmer, who came to North Carolina from Georgia to work on Governor Gardner's farm, then lined up his 16 children, and the governor talked to them a while."

out instructions that have been given and they will be visited as early as possible.

"The Cleveland county fair is here on us, and we all over the county have a lot of work we can do to help make this fair the greatest county fair in the state. We have lots of individual exhibits we can be working on, or if your community is putting on a booth, fall in line and offer your assistance. It will be appreciated by the leaders as well as the community. Select the best products that you have and prepare it the best you know how and there will be no doubt about Cleveland county having the best fair."

"I shall be glad to see any of the people in my office. I will be in the office all day Saturdays, come in while you are in town."

Boiling Springs, Sept. 5.—A wedding of unusual beauty and simplicity was that of Miss Mary Lela Hamrick and Mr. Francis Lancaster, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rufia Hamrick Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The living room was beautifully arranged with Madonna lilies and ferns and was softly lighted with candles. The bride and groom entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. J. B. Davis. Only the two immediate families and a few friends were present.

The bride, Mrs. Lancaster, is an attractive and talented woman. She received her education at Boiling Springs junior college. The groom will graduate at Carson Newman college next spring. He is a man of pleasing personality and upright character and he won many friends here while a student here in high school. The senior B. Y. P. U. had a most delightful social at the public school building Tuesday night in honor of the members who are going away to school and to teach.

The social was in the form of "school." The students took their places at their seats and had their recitation. Much merriment was caused by the students' bad behavior. At recess games were played. nor to help her find "her man," who has disappeared. She is married, and still has her husband, but wants the man she really loves.

Commenting on the letters, Governor Gardner says: "It is both amusing and interesting to see the different conceptions of the duties and powers of a governor. The majority seem to believe that the governor is all powerful and can do anything and solve any problem. So when other measures have failed, they turn in final desperation to the governor. But it is all part of the job of being a governor, and I really enjoy reading these letters."

In connection with this, Governor Gardner told of being met at his home in Shelby by one of his negro tenants with his family of 16 children. The negro explained his presence this way: "You see boss none of my children have ever seen 'the government,' so I thought I would bring them around to see you."

TREATMENT OF CANCER IS IMPROVED BY NEW METHOD

London.—An important advance in the treatment of cancer by X-rays, or radium rays, is described in the current issue of the British Medical Journal.

It is the result of research conducted at the Royal Northern hospital by Dr. S. Monckton Copeman, Mr. Frank Cope, F. R. C. S., and Dr. Claude Goulesbrough in the course of the last two years.

It depends essentially upon the fact that certain chemical substances which possess the quality of "fluorescence" (or glowing when exposed to light) appear to be able intensely to strengthen the destructive action of the rays, although they are harmless in themselves.

The method employed is to paint the growth with a solution of one of these substances, usually sodium fluorescein. In the case of deeply seated growths, a solution of the same chemical is injected into a vein. This process is harmless and no pain is caused. After an interval of about two days the growth is irradiated.

Although this treatment is still in the experimental stage, eight cases at the hospital have apparently recovered and 20 are much improved.

Four successful cases are also reported from King's College hospital and two in private practice.

An important point is that the action of a very small amount of radium can be greatly augmented by the method. The more malignant the growth the greater the prospect of success.
