FEDERAL COURT ON THIS MONTH

Judge Webb Completes Big Docket
At Asheville. Here Fourth
Monday.

Asheville.—Ending a busy term of two months during which regular sessions were held six days of each week, the civil term of U. S. District court for the western district, was adjourned here Saturday with a message of gratitude and commendation in recognition of efficient jury service from the bench by Judge E. Y. Webb, presiding jurist.

During the term a total of 52 cases were disposed of, many of which involved lengthy and complicated trials, and large sums of money. Important cases included that of Mrs. Mary C. McDonald against the Southern Railway in which damages of $250,000 was sought. The hearing required eight days after which the plaintiff was awarded one cent damages.

The work of the court, court officials and jurors accounted for an outstanding record of efficient procedure in the history of the state, and Judge Webb has been highly praised by officials and citizens for his careful and conscientious discharge of judicial duties, and competent supervision of the court, both at this and previous terms held here.

The jury composed of 22 men was in regular service for the entire term, and all were commended by Judge Webb for their work during the two months of service.

From Asheville Judge Webb will go to Shelby where he will preside at the term scheduled to open in his home town on the fourth Monday in September. Other sessions on the fall schedule will open as follows: Charlotte, second Monday in October; Statesville, fourth Monday in October; Asheville second Monday in November; and Bryson City the fourth Monday in November.

Ringling Buys Out Five Other Circuses

John Ringling Started As A Clown.
Now King Of Circus. In Gastonia.

New York, Sept. 10.—John Ringling, who started as a singing clown, rules as supreme ringmaster of the circus world today.

By purchase of five of his foremost competitors, the last of the famous Ringling Brothers has acquired control of the largest group of tent shows in the world, including their talent, menageries, equipment and winter quarters.

The shows which have been added to the Ringling group are: Sells Floto, Hagenbeck Wallace Animal Show, Sparks', John Robinson's and the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Show.

The properties were purchased from the American Circus Corporation in a transaction which friends of the showman said, involved several million dollars. The exact figure was not disclosed.

There are about 5,000 persons employed in the newly acquired shows as compared with 1,600 in the present Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey organization.

The announcement of the purchase said the five shows would be operated as individual units, although there might be some interchange of talent.

John Ringling launched into the show business in the early seventies in Baraboo, Wis., with his four brothers, Charles, Al, Otto and Alf T.

With a capital of five dollars they offered their first performance in their home village. They spent $370 of the $5 to print hand bills announcing a one-night stand of "Ringling Brothers' moral, elevating, instructive and fascinating concert and variety performance." The show played to an audience of 47 in the opera house.

Ringling Brothers circus will show in Gastonia Tuesday, September 17, local people will be pleased to learn.
