Secret Wedding Is Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pendleton announce the marriage of their daughter, Minnie Lou, to William Van Stroud on June 30, 1929. This was kept a secret until recently. Mr. and Mrs. Stroud will make their home with the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stroud of Hollis.

Mrs. Drum Hostess To Bridge Club.

Mrs. Rem Drum was a cordial hostess to the Tuesday afternoon bridge club entertaining at her home in Cleveland Springs road, Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The rooms and three bridge tables were attractively arranged with mixed garden flowers. The high score prize was won by Mrs. Paul Webb, Jr., and the second high score prize by Mrs. B. O. Stephenson. Mrs. Drum was assisted by Mesdames Roy W. Morris and Al Bennett in serving a delicious salad and ice course.

Surprise Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. Claude Weathers, surprised her little daughter Fay Weathers with a dinner party on Thursday evening in celebration of her twelfth birthday anniversary. The dining room was arranged with mixed garden flowers, the table having as central decorations, the large white birthday cake holding twelve lighted candles. A three course dinner was beautifully served and covers were laid for the following school mates: Misses Veva Armour, Louise and Anna Beth Jones, Hazeline Webb, Rebecca Hopper, Mrs. Margaret Mull and Fay Weathers. After dinner these young ladies enjoyed a number of indoor games. Mrs. Maurice Weathers assisted the hostess in entertaining and serving.

Mrs. Lee B. Weathers Hostess.

Mrs. Lee B. Weathers was a charming hostess to the members of the Twentieth Century club Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, entertaining at her home on West Marion street, with the first fall meeting of the year. The large living room was most inviting, being arranged with beautiful mixed garden flowers. Mrs. Weathers, the president, presided over the meeting and sixteen members responded to the roll call. Mrs. T. W. Hamrick was heartily welcomed as a new member. After a short business session, Mrs. C. R. Hoey gave an outline of the years work and Mrs. George Hoyle gave the topics in brief. This was followed by a social half hour, while the hostess was assisted by Mesdames T. W. Lattimore and Frank Kendall in serving a delicious salad course, citron pies and crystallized ginger.

Mrs. Eskridge Entertains.

The Entres Nous Bridge club members and a few invited guests were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Herman Eskridge Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at her home on West Sumpter street. The rooms were arranged with lovely flowers, and each of the card tables was graced with a bowl of nasturtiums. Those winning high score prizes at each table were, Mesdames B. L. Smith, Charlie Washburn, Clyde Short and Miss Mayme Roberts, who were each presented with beautiful boxes of white and yellow mints. Mrs. Eskridge was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts, Mesdames Ed Post, Chas. Eskridge and Talmadge Gardner in serving a delicious salad, with sandwiches, punch and citron pie, topped with whipped cream. The invited guests included, Mesdames Chas. Eskridge, Talmadge Gardner, Ed Post, B. L. Smith, Misses Etta Mae Moses, Oeland Washburn and Mayme Roberts.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilson Observe Cotton Anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wilson celebrated their first wedding anniversary with a lovely bridge dinner to a few of their young married set Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents on E. Marion street, the scene of the ceremony a year ago. The home was decorated with a profusion of fall flowers, the dining table having as central decorations, a large hand-painted bowl filled with lovely pink roses and pink candlesticks holding pink lighted tapers at each corner of the table. Covers were laid for sixteen at the four bridge tables which were centered with crystal vases holding pink rose buds. The combination place cards and tallies were baskets of pink roses. A complete chicken salad course with hot rolls was served followed by an ice course, consisting of ice cream, cake, punch and candies, the latter course being served on pink glass ware matching the tea glasses.

Mrs. Reid M. Young was presented with two complimentary picture show tickets to Webb's theatre this week to see "Our Modern Maidens" for gentleman's high score. Much merriment ensued when the bride and groom attired in their bridal attire of a year ago entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride carrying a pretty and natural looking corsage made of colored and white cotton handkerchiefs against a green background. Mrs. Wilson presented each guest with a handkerchief from her corsage. Miss Virginia Hunt played the wedding march and furnished other delightful music during the evening. Mrs. Wilson was assisted in serving by her sisters, Misses Willie and Marietta Hoyle.

At The Theatres

"Our Modern Maidens"—a sequel to that stirring drama of youthful manners and lack of manners—"Our Dancing Daughters," is the attraction at the Webb today and tomorrow. It is a fast stepping picture, like its fore-runners, in which modern youth has its fling and gets caught in the spider's web. Joan Crawford plays the lead, with her husband, young Doug Fairbanks, in the cast. Also included amongst the players are Rod La Roque and Anita Page. Advertised as coming Wednesday is "The Idle Rich" starring no less a personage than Bessie Love.

Despite the widespread publicity that has been accorded the activities of the "rum runners along the Atlantic coast" who, by desperate methods, succeeded in getting huge quantities of liquor into the country from foreign ports, few people realize how widespread are the ramifications of that industry both afloat and ashore and how complete its systems of communication, secret service and espionage have become.

Much of this is vividly revealed in "Blockade," FBO's gripping drama of the rum fleet's battle with government forces, which is now showing at the Princess theatre, with Anna Q. Nilsson in the featured role.

New Job To Be Open At Shelby Postoffice

The U. S. civil service commission announces an examination for clerk-carrier to provide an eligible list for the Shelby post office. Applications and information may be secured from the commission or from the secretary of the local board at the post office. Date of examination will be announced later. Applications must be in the hands of the commission by October 4.

BIRTHDAY DINNER AT ROCKDALE SEPTEMBER 22

The relatives and friends of Mrs. Jane London are invited to a birthday dinner at her home at Rockdale on September 22. Bring well filled baskets and enjoy the day.

An every-other-day letter from home will be sent to college students away from home for the small price of $1.50. This gives them The Cleveland Star for less than the price of a two cent postage stamp per copy. If

JUST HOW FAR DID SATAN FALL

New York Tribune

Is it no farther than that from heaven to hell? Lucifer, says Milton, fell "a summer's day," but so brief a sally would not take us even to the moon, though aided by a rocket. It is not only the visible and surmised universes swimming in the telescope, but the uncharted boundaries of the kingdoms of bliss and punishment as well which the modern sciences, helping one another, have extended beyond imagination. In Milton's time "a summer's day" seemed very far to fall, but had he known of light-years how would the memorable journey have been measured in his verse? What still more awful voids would the Son of Morning have crossed "with all his host of rebel angels?"

In the realms of astronomy even great poetry cannot keep pace with science. The appalling figures confront us and say nothing to the dumb and questioning mind. There shines Aldebaran, more than 29 light years away from us; Polaris, distant by 44 light years; Mira, 163; Rigel, almost 500. From some of the spiral nebulae light, traveling 186,330 miles a second, needs more than a million years to reach our earth. The diameter of our own universe is perhaps 200,000 light-years. Do such stunning declarations mean anything once away from the paper where computations freeze into stupendous mathematical truths for those trained to deal with them?

Milton was not aware of these unearthly and inhuman measurements. Yet if he lived today and if to him as to Plato the highest mathematics seemed the highest poetry he would be the only writer capable of giving the new equations of astronomy color and life for all men. Summoning his angels and demons across the space of which Einstein tells in formulae alone, he could make us comprehend, a little, its shocking expanse—the eternal stairways that stretch for ten billion billion miles, lighted by their never counted, swinging suns. He who created such a Lucifer. Alot, incumbent on the dusky air That felt unusual weight, somehow made that small journey of "a summer's day" seem vaster than the menacing ciphers of our astronomers can make, for us, the travels of the light.

Keep in touch with home while away at college. A special rate of $1.50 for the nine months is made by The Cleveland Star to school students.
