School Book Prices Carry 15% Profit

Raleigh, Sept. 26.—High school textbooks may be purchased by the children of the state at prices not to exceed fifteen per cent above the wholesale prices under the new form of high school contract entered into between the state board of education and the publishers which requires that the publisher stamp in each book both the wholesale and retail price. It was learned last week from a letter sent to county and city superintendents by State Superintendent of Public Instruction, A. T. Allen.

This information was sent to the local superintendents as a result of complaints coming to the state office that prices in excess of a fifteen per cent commission were being charged by dealers for high school textbooks. With the price stamped in each book, the patrons and pupils will know the exact price fixed by the state board of education at which any book should be bought.

"In fixing the retail price under authority of the law," according to Superintendent Allen's letter, "the state board of education felt that it was a fair and reasonable price for both the dealer and the publisher, for the following reasons: 1. The market is compulsory as the 120,000 high school children must secure books; 2. there is a monopoly of trade as there is only one dealer in a community; 3. advertising is free as the schools inform the children where to obtain books; and 4. no capital is necessary as the publishers furnish books on 60 or 90 days time and most of the trade is during the first week of school, enabling the merchant to pay his bills out of these proceeds.

KNOW THE SIGNS OF INFANT'S PROGRESS

"Bouncer" Isn't Always the Healthiest. Authority Tells Mothers, Urging Study of Other Ways in Which to Determine that All is Going Well.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

THERE are many tests of baby's progress. Perhaps the surest one is the steady increase in weight.

Yet, after all, this is not an unerring sign of perfect health. The wrong sort of feeding may put on fat and make the baby a "bouncer." But health isn't all in the looks and weight. Such an infant may not be progressing in muscle and bone building. Its brain and nervous system may lack essential elements.

There is no single thing that may be accepted as proof conclusive of perfect health. Steady increase in height and weight are included in the group of good signs.

How the child sleeps is another way to determine that all is well. A young baby is asleep most of the twenty-four hours. With the exception of the feeding periods, a little time to stretch and kick, and a few minutes for crying, it is asleep.

Wakfulness, restlessness and peevishness, are not favorable symptoms. They indicate that something is wrong. If they continue, pretty soon loss of appetite will be noted. Then the normal gain in weight will stop.

Answers to Health Queries
Thomas W. Q.—What is the quickest and best relief for epilepsy?
2.—What can be done to overcome pimples?
A.—Epilepsy is generally caused by an undue drainage of nerve energy. If the place of leakage can be found there are prospects of cure. For further information send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.
2.—Correct your diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Avoid constipation. For other information send a self-

Women More Honest Than Men In Their Income Tax Returns

Washington. — Women are more honest than men in the matter of making income tax returns.

Special investigators of the Internal Revenue bureau who check up thousands of incorrect and falsified tax returns annually said they had little trouble with returns by women.

Tax returns by women constituted nearly half as many as returns by men, exclusive of joint returns by husband and wife, which formed the largest class in 1926, the latest year for

Women More Honest Than Men In Their Income Tax Returns

Single and married women making separate returns filed a total of 663,561 and paid income tax on net incomes aggregating $2,187,321,502 as compared with 1,414,961 returns filed by single men on net incomes aggregating $4,741,136,187 that year. Joint returns by husband and wives numbered 2,017,182 on incomes aggregating to $13,555,920,041.

Experience in the income tax unit with women contrasts with that of another branch of the treasury, the customs service which in the course of a year detects thousands of women smugglers. Most of the smuggling by women is petty, but in the aggregate it reached sizeable sums.
