How It Happened.

About 1 o'clock this morning, The Star was informed, something like 80 of the night hands in the Marion mill, which is just east of the Marion city limits, stopped work and marched from the mill. They formed, it is said, a picket line in front of the mill with the intention of preventing the day shift from going to work. Sheriff Adkins was called and taking deputies with him to the mill he learned of the impending clash between the non-union workers who wished to go back to work at 6 o'clock and the striking group. Other deputies were assembled.

At 6 in the morning, when the day hands began to arrive, the battle broke out. Reports have it that Vickers, the striker killed outright, struck Sheriff Adkins or one of the other officers, then when the officers attempted to arrest him the strikers in the picket line. It was said, began firing. The officers returned the fire, Vickers fell dead, and Hall fell to the ground mortally wounded.

Guns, clubs, rocks and other missiles were used, it is said, on both sides of the battle, some of those in the hospital being shot while others were clubbed about the head and body. Two of the deputies wounded were shot while the third was clubbed. Just how many of those wounded were strikers and how many were non-union workers could not be determined there early today as non-union men coming to work were lined up with the 10 or 12 officers present, and workers on both sides were among those injured.

Mill Still Running.

After the clash, officers, soon had charge of the situation, it was stated, and the crowd was scattered. Enough workers from the non-union group walked on into the mill to keep the plant running and it was still in operation at noon, Marion dispatches informed.

morning as a result of the river overflow.

Rainfall Record.

A rainfall report issued by The Star this morning by Postmaster J. H. Quinn shows that 5.2 inches of rain fell in Shelby from 6 o'clock Monday evening until 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, while 3.2 inches fell from 6 o'clock Tuesday evening until daybreak today—a total of 8.4 inches in 36 hours. The report also shows that more rain fell Tuesday than did during the heavy and steady downpour Thursday of last week. From 6 o'clock Wednesday evening of last week until 6 o'clock Thursday evening the rainfall was 3.65 inches, or 1.6 inches less than yesterday's rainfall.

Other Streams High.

Various reports have come in today on the height reached by waters in other streams throughout the county, the estimates varying considerably. Mr. A. E. Cline, county business manager, stated that when he crossed Buffalo creek coming to Shelby early today that the swollen stream lacked only a few feet of reaching the highway 20 bridge.

Charlotte's nearby neighbors, Gastonia and Concord, reported unusually heavy rains. A total of 2.78 inches fell in Gastonia between the hours of 7 o'clock Monday morning and that same hour Tuesday, an unusually heavy fall for a 24-hour period, it was said. Another inch of rainfall was added during the day, it was estimated.

Thomasville Girl Has Been Asleep 3 Months

Thomasville, Sept. 30.—Miss Juanita Everhart, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everhart of Salem street, this city, went to sleep 83 days ago and has never awakened. She has been fed by artificial means and it is learned that she has had her life prolonged by this method through this lengthy period. Within the past few days according to information here, it appeared that her system is failing to appropriate the food. She is in a hospital at Morganton, where the best treatment available has been provided.

The decision of a Liverpool magistrate that Mrs. Ellen Morris was justified in taking money from her husband's pocket while he slept has been upheld on appeal.

S. C. Officers Seek Mrs. Tesnear About Disposing Of Goods

Flogging Publicly Located Family For Officers There. Leave Kings Mountain.

South Carolina officers were in this county Monday seeking Mrs. Cleo Tesnear, wife of the union organizer alleged to have been kidnaped and flogged two weeks back at Kings Mountain, but the Tesnears, including the husband, who had returned home from Charlotte, were not located, having left Kings Mountain last Saturday night, according to the police there.

The warrant carried by the South Carolina officers charged Mrs. Tesnear with selling mortgaged property at Chesnee many months back, or just before she left South Carolina to join her husband in Baltimore, from which city they came to Kings Mountain.

According to Kings Mountain officers Tesnear, who had been in bed at the Hotel Charlotte since his flogging, returned to his home in Kings Mountain late last week, but left again Saturday night accompanied by his wife and 10-year-old son. He brought quite a bit of union or Communist literature from Charlotte, but whether or not this had anything to do with his departure from Kings Mountain is not known.

Officers as yet have failed to find any lead that would help them locate the three men Tesnear says kidnaped and flogged him.
