He Couldn't Say.

A woman remarked to a well-known bishop on one occasion, "Oh bishop, I want to tell you something very remarkable. An aunt of mine had arranged the make a voyage in a certain steamer, but at the last moment she had to give up the trip, and that steamer was wrecked. Wasn't it a mercy she didn't go?"

Apple Sauce

I'm here because I loved a dear girl and she jilted me," said inmate No. 16,211 in the mad house.

PASTORS TOLD TO STAY OUT POLITICS

Bishop Denny Tells Young Preachers "We Don't Need Political Campaigners."

Cumberland, Md.—"We don't need you for political campaigners—we preachers are called upon to lead a separate life," Bishop Collins Denny said in accepting a class of 15 ministers into the deaconate of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at its 145 annual session here.

Among the 15 was the Rev. Harry W. Craver, pastor of Augusta, W. Va., whose refusal to promise to abstain from the use of tobacco precipitated a debate on the floor of the conference which threatened his exclusion from the ministry. The incident was closed with his acceptance, and Rev. Royal A. Rice, of Covington, Va., spokesman for the conference said that he had signed a pledge to refrain from tobacco.

Bishop Denny who frequently has voiced protest against ministers taking part in politics said his stand was formed when he took his first charge, and "I could have wrecked that church by taking sides in a heated political controversy when I was asked where I stood, I do not vote."

FAVORS LEARNING FLYING ART NOW

San Francisco.—"Why not learn to fly before air traffic gets heavy?"—is the question asked by R. D. MacKenzie, in a recent issue of Pacific Flyer.

"Assuming that you are over 14 and under 70 years old, in normal health and prosperous enough to afford a moderately-priced automobile, your chances are 1 to 5 that you will be there. Those odds can be established by statistics. The statistics may not be painfully exact, but nonetheless they are perhaps, within reason and that's the important thing in establishing odds.

"The big people in aviation are planning to have 1,500,000 planes in the air within the next seven years. They probably will.

"People are becoming air-minded—just have to look over the operating statements of the air transport lines to realize that. But no matter how plentiful, airplane passengers can't use 1,500,000 planes. The important thing is, that you are about to go up as a pilot—not a passenger. Why are only about 7,000 planes being manufactured this year in factories capable of producing twice that number. Because there are not enough pilots to use more.

"There are at present approximately 15,000 pilots and the same number of planes in the United States. I have seen other estimates and the figures may not be correct. If your count doesn't agree, I'll not argue. When, if and as there are 1,500,000 planes in the air, there must be at least 2,000,000 pilots, considering that many will be family planes, and other planes will have several pilots.

"Eliminating the infants and the aged and infirm, those too imprudent, and perhaps a few timid souls who would rather be run over by a Ford than soar at ease a few thousand feet up, prospective flyers are reduced to somewhere around 10,000,000 customers.

"The odds stand one to five. As I asked before why not learn before air traffic becomes heavy?"

May Succeed Mellon

Reports current in official circles in Washington indicate that Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker and intimate friend of President Hoover, will succeed Andrew Mellon as Secretary of the Treasury upon the retirement of Mr. Mellon on his twenty-fifth birthday in March.

one-horse wagon ran into them and chipped all of them but 19. They escaped by reason of the fact that they were sitting out on the side of the road in the shade.

There is some talk of changing the time of going to work on highways from 8:30 a. m. to 8:29 a. m. The quitting time will remain as heretofore, viz., 5:00 p. m.

All gasoline taxes are intelligently spent. Everywhere you go nowadays, north, east, south, or west, you find men putting out grass on both sides of the pavement.

ment. No matter how dry it is or how impossible it might be for the said grass to take root, it is being set-out nevertheless. The boys must be paid and if they must be paid, they must have something to do, and if they have something to do, why, a job is the only thing that will keep them from having to go off somewhere and work for a living. We understand that two of the bunches of grass they set out last month on the Sugar-tit road lived and is possibly still living.

Delicate Subject. An asylum visitor expressed surprise that an inmate with whom he had been talking, should be detained another day.

"Go back and take up family matters with him," said the superintendent. The intercessor replied: "Don't you want to rejoin your children?" asked the visitor.

"I live in that hope," the case replied. "I am upborne by the desire to go back and toil for her support."

"And your wife's mother?" "Wow! Gazooks!" whooped the paranoiac, going up in the air and brandishing his arms violently.

"Wow! Gazooks! Fall back, everybody, for the fray."
