Shelby Highs Have Stronger Team For Gastonia On Friday

Farris Shifted To Backfield And Wall May Get Into Gastonia Game.

A far stronger Shelby high eleven will trot on the field here Friday afternoon against Gastonia than represented the local school in the first home game of the year against Belmont Abbey.

Much of the added strength is little more than added experience. In the opening game the local eleven was greener than an Irishman's necktie on St. Patrick's Day, but in the two weeks that have elapsed, despite injuries which have weakened the squad, Coaches Morris and Falls have drilled quite a bit of football knowledge into the lads who wear the new golden jerseys. From some source the miniature Golden Tornado has picked up considerable fight, something that was missing in the season's opener.

New Backs.

If Zeno Wall, veteran quarter, is able to get in the lineup Friday Shelby fans will see a backfield in action that they have never seen before as a unit. With Farris, an end made into a halfback, and with Harrelson shifted to fullback from a tackle berth, the opening backfield may see Wall at quarter; Ripps and Farris at half backs, with Connor, Poston and Hendrick for replacements; and Harrelson at fullback with Barrett handy if needed. That backfield once it gets to working together has pupes.

The line, too, has progressed remarkably and played a good game in the Forest City defeat.

But the big hope for a Shelby come-back Friday with the team

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross & Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me, I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very first bottle makes you sleep better and have a big appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc. give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Quinn's Drug Store.

smarting under two defeats in two starts is that Gastonia is furnishing the opposition. Gastonia and Shelby have been meeting each other on the gridiron for years and only a couple of times has the Shelby eleven been conquered. This year there are no Beams, no Connors, no Hennesses, no Arrowoods and no Golds in the Shelby lineup as in days of old. Gastonia supporters realize that and are counting on handling a licking to their rivals of near 15 years. But there may be some new Shelby stars to add to the list of great players of bygone days once Friday's game is over. The entire Shelby eleven this year is a group of youngsters just getting started on their football careers. It will be their ambition Friday to uphold traditions of the elevens who wore the Shelby jerseys before them, and in attempting to uphold that record some new star may break forth, perhaps two or three of them.

Coach Morris is still pessimistic. When a fellow hasn't got it, he just doesn't have it, he argues. Yet he wants Shelby fans to know, and he is a bit proud in passing out that information, that "I have a bunch of kids over there who don't know so much about football, but they'll fight until they fall over. With two games experience, they'll put up an interesting contest with anybody. They say they're going to put up enough scrap Friday to make up for their lack of football knowledge. If they do so, Gastonia will realize that it has had a football game."

Hendrick, a new sensation on the Shelby high park, may get to do the kicking Saturday if Wall does not play, and he may do some kicking if Wall does play, for he has made it plain that he can boot the pigskin as good as, or better than any Shelby gragger in some several years.

Another side attraction which should interest fans in the Gastonia-Shelby clash Friday will be the play of "Big Boy" Williams, who tips the scales around 215. "Big Boy" in the only two football games of his life has learned that the main thing for a tackle to do is to just run over the opposing line and smash plays before they get going—and in so doing this week he has been doing just that.

For that matter the entire line should look good Friday. As for scrap, nothing in the forward wall will excel the performance of Corbett, a new guard.

The writer should be somewhere in Georgia helping to do the rah-rah for Carolina, Carolina Friday when the game is played here, but our guess is that Gastonia will do well to win by a touchdown, if that—that is, if the local lads get in there and scrap. And we're counting on 'em.

North Carolina football seems to be up and coming this year although Duke did take a royal trimming from the Pitt Panthers. But remember, the Panthers will come blooming near winning the national crown.

O. B. Keeler, the veteran Atlanta sport authority, witnessed the game and he put it down in cold print in the Atlanta Journal that Duke has a stadium equal to any of them, and that Sam Bule, Duke halfback, is "the best and most daring passer I've seen in my many years of covering football." O. B. then explains that he don't care to say how many years he has been watching football, and it is generally known that he has been seeing all the big games for six, seven, eight, or nine years, anyway. That's a real tribute to Bule, the boy we consider the best back in North Carolina, unless it be this Shorty Branch at Carolina.

Mack Tharpe, Georgia Tech scout, saw Branch make those 40 and 50 yard runs against Maryland, and he wrote back to The Journal that Branch could do everything that Stumpy Thomason can do, and he very near admitted that Branch could outstump Stumpy in some things. Some tribute, that! When a Georgia man ever admits there is anything in the world better than in Georgia, he's either crazy or has it rubbed in good and strong that such has to be the case. For that matter, the Georgians are usually right—they have it in football, golf and nearly everything else. Yet before Friday's game is over our hunch is that those Georgians will be setting up making eyes at the sawed-off Carolina flash—and also a Magner and Phil Jackson.

Some Guessimates.

Casey Morris keeps Shelby fans pouring into the city athletic field here every year, despite chances of a Shelby victory, because of his habit of uncovering new stars. This year the fate of the Shelby high eleven depends to a great extent upon how many such new luminaries the Shelby coach can uncover. But, take it from us, local fans will get a few eye-openers in the game here Saturday with Gastonia.

This year the Shelby coach had to build an entirely new backfield. He built it and the appendicitis and injuries broke it up. Then, within the period of one week, he had to build another.

In digging about looking for new backs he uncovered a brother of Buck Connor's who possesses the same Connor football characteristics; then he found a youngster by the name of Poston who is a treat for the eyes when carrying the ball; and faced with the task of making a fullback he found that Charley Harrelson, who snagged 'em on first base for the championship baseball team last Spring, could shove a wicked body into a line. But his latest discovery, which may see action Friday, is a kid by the name of Hendrick who can kick—and how! He boots 'em a country mile as far distance, and he makes spiral like a dirigible doing the hula-hula. What's more he is said to be a great defensive back and a hard tackler. That's something the present experienced Shelby eleven needs—boys who bring them down when they tackle. In among his other shifts he took Ray Farris from an end berth and made a halfback of him and Farris will likely stay there for the year. On top of that there's a likelihood that the veteran field general, Wall, will be back in Friday. If so, Morris will pick his backfield from Wall and Ripps, quarters, Farris, Poston, Hendrick, and Connor, halfbacks; and Harrelson and "Pup" Barrett, fullbacks. Gastonia, despite what the critics may be saying, will have a tough day trying to keep that array from scoring.

The line which goes into action against Gastonia will not be anything like as green as when local fans saw it try to stop Belmont Abbey. "Big Boy" Williams, a regular mountain, has developed into a real tackle when he gets into the game and fights. Hubert Wilson, the only blue veteran, will stack up against any center in the state; and Charley Beam, the readheaded lad who got a chance at end when Farris went to the backfield, promises to make a good running mate for Sherry McSwain.

For that matter the entire line should look good Friday. As for scrap, nothing in the forward wall will excel the performance of Corbett, a new guard.

The writer should be somewhere in Georgia helping to do the rah-rah for Carolina, Carolina Friday when the game is played here, but our guess is that Gastonia will do well to win by a touchdown, if that—that is, if the local lads get in there and scrap. And we're counting on 'em.

Carolina fans will be the Tech-Carolina game Friday. Tech is, of course, the favorite, but don't be surprised if the Tar Heels win; or if Tech wins but fails to run up a score.

Clemson should beat N. C. State a touchdown or so Friday at Florence.

"Red" Cagle and his Army team should beat Davidson Saturday at West Point anywhere from four touchdowns "up," as they say in hotel ads.

Wake Forest should lick Elon by a couple of touchdowns. Lenoir-Rhyde will beat A. C. C. Duke doesn't play. (Had enough, touchdowns made on 'em last week to do for a couple of weeks).

Last, but not least, take our guess (maybe a hope): Shelby high over Gastonia.

Since the World Series is on we might add, in conclusion, that Al Simmons real name is Aloysius Zygmanski. Now you spell it!

FRENCH FIGHT SLEEPING SICKNESS IN KAMERUN

Yaounde, Kamerun. — Sleeping sickness so prevalent when this was a German colony, is in a fair way of being stamped out by the French Mandate administration.

Credit for this is due to the devoted efforts of a permanent medical mission, headed by Dr. Epile Jannot, which has been working since 1926.

The principal center of infection is on the river Nyong. It is so virulent that trypanosoma were found in the blood of 68,500 out of the 145,000 inhabitants subjected to tests. From this and other centers the disease had spread over 50,000 square miles inhabited by 800,000 natives.

The mission has visited every village in this area, and examined every inhabitant.

A Story Of The Carrier Boy.

(From The Spartanburg Journal.)

During the incessant rains of last week, a Journal carrier, boy making his deliveries in a residential section, tossed a paper into a porch, and in falling the wadded missile struck a rare pot plant, tearing off one of its principal branches. This happened on a Friday and the lady of the house was very much disconcerted over the disaster attendant on a favorite plant. Saturday the Journal was delivered as usual, with no casualties. Monday afternoon, in making delivery, the carrier boy rang the doorbell, and when the lady came to the door said: "I wanted to pay you for breaking your plant; I would have called Saturday, but wasn't out of then, I'm ready to settle now. You know these plants and flowers about a home seem to draw and attract the paper to them, just like a magnet." The boy's candor and manner so impressed this woman that she refused to entertain any idea of money relief for the damage her plant had sustained. She insisted on him taking a part of the plant home with him for his mother.
