CLOWNS WEEP AS BIG ELEPHANT IS KILLED

Kenedy, Tex., Oct. 16.—Black Diamond, circus elephant, turned killer, today was executed by a firing squad.

The nine-ton beast was chained to three trees in a pasture west of here and five marksmen, using rifles, fired 50 bullets into its body.

Clowns, tight wire artists, aerial queens of the big top family of the Al G. Barnes circus wept as Black Diamond, the most majestic trouper of them all, went down under the fusillade.

The condemned beast was tractable as it was led to the execution grounds chained to three other elephants to prevent a repetition of the burst of frenzy exhibited last week at Corsicana when Mrs. Eva Donohue, a spectator, was crushed to death and the animal's trainer injured.

At The Theatres

The millions who have read Zane Grey's thrilling novel "The Last of the Duanes," should welcome the William Fox special version starring Tom Mix, which is on at the Princess today and tomorrow.

Those who have not had the pleasure of reading the book should take the opportunity the film offers to get a true glimpse of Texas in the old days. "The Last of the Duanes," showing the passing of the last frontier, fits Mix like a glove, for Tom is the typical frontier type.

A pair of Uncle Sam's nautical nephews are the principal characters of "Sailor's Holiday," a talking farce screened by Pathe from a story by Joseph Franklin Poland. Alan Hale and George Cooper play the boys in blue who can't seem to keep away from trouble unless there is a whole ocean between them and any possible temptation. Sally Eilers has the feminine lead opposite Hale, with Paul Hurst in another important role.

"Sailor's Holiday," which comes to the Webb theatre today, was directed by Fred Newmeyer, ace of comedy megaphonists, who guided Harold Lloyd through many of his most successful vehicles.

Cotton Market

Cotton was quoted at noon today on New York exchange: Dec. 17.98. Yesterday's close: Dec. 17.98.

Forecast: Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi fair. Arkansas and Oklahoma increasing cloudiness. Texas part cloudy. Dallas News says considerable damage from hail and beating rains is reported from parts of northwest Texas past week. Temperatures have been mostly seasonal. Some improvement in size of bolls is reported but no more bolls can be counted on than previously reported. Worth street quiet but firm. Weaker futures beginning to disturb the market. Course of prices for the moment depends chief on the volume of hedge selling. Technical position of the market is much improved by recent liquidation. CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Just Ten Dollars Down, Three Per Brings On Riches?

New York.—The Herald-Tribune says that Hugh B. Monjar, founder of the Decimo club, which went out of existence some time ago after an investigation by the state attorney-general's fraud bureau, is now engaged "in the business of aiding 100,000 citizens to wealth, position and business independence at a cost to each candidate of $10 down and $3 a month."

Ostensibly in business here as an accountant, says the paper, Mr. Monjar and his associates are enrolling young men in his business service at two offices in New York and one in Newark, N. J.

The organization is conducted with great secrecy and all accepted confidence all information entrusted to them by Monjar and his associates.

Representatives of the company have disclosed that there is no printed literature describing the service and that no advertising of any kind is undertaken. The "service" is permitted to grow by the chain system. Each accepted member selects from among his friend or other young ambitious business men "suitable" to join.

The service of the company is of an intangible nature, and is explained in only the vaguest terms to candidates seeking membership.
