

At The Theatres

"Keep your chin up!" That was the psychology "Chico" taught to "Diane" in "7th Heaven," and the idea is being carried out by Director Frank Borzage again with Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor in their picture, "Lucky Star," which begins a two-day engagement today at the Princess theatre.

In their present Fox feature, Farrell once more is the teacher, Miss Gaynor the student. Her first glimpse of him is while he is high above her working on a telephone line. Here he battles the line boss for one of her misdeeds—cheating.

The Webb has booked for three days this week—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, one of the most popular of the current season shows—"The Cocoanuts." This is an exceedingly popular musical comedy hit transferred to the screen. It is played by a cast that includes the celebrated Mark Brothers—four of them—the best known comedy quartet in the business. Beautiful and renowned Mary Eaton is also in the cast, as is Oscar Shaw. It's a Paramount picture, and will probably be accorded as glad a reception as any show Webb ever ran.

Finding his father's loaded revolver, Walter Osborne, 3, of St. Louis, pulled the trigger and his left hand was shot off.

Miss Ketchen Lectures

A large crowd of club women greeted Miss Ketchen of Winthrop college Saturday afternoon at the club room and heard her splendid lecture on "Modern Poetry." Miss Millicent Blanton, president of the Contemporary Book club in a very graceful manner, introduced the speaker, who had been invited by the book club to speak to the women of Shelby. After the lecture, a social half hour was spent and tea and sandwiches were served.

Mrs. Nix Entertains Chicoras

The pretty new home of Mrs. W. B. Nix on North Morgan street was most attractively arranged with autumn leaves and cosmos Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Nix was a gracious hostess to the members of the Chicora club. Interesting papers on the subject of study for the afternoon were given by Mesdames W. F. Mitchell, O. M. Suttle and P. L. Hennessy.

During the social hour, the hostess was assisted by Mesdames T. W. and E. B. Lattimore, J. Y. Irvin and Miss Lucile Nix in serving delicious ice cream, cake and candy, followed by cheese straws and coffee.

Garden Club Suggestions

The garden club is asking every property owner to plant pink crepe myrtles on the street in front of their homes or elsewhere on their premises.

If you are not asked personally, to do this, please phone to the following ladies, who will tell you where you may get these shrubs very reasonably: Mesdames E. B. Lattimore, J. A. Liles, S. S. Royster, W. H. Blanton, John McClurd, Z. J. Thompson, T. W. Hamrick, J. W. Suttle, H. E. Waldrop, C. F. Sherrill, R. M. Laughridge, and Miss Nora Cornwell. It is hoped there will be a general response to this request. Let's make Shelby a really crepe-myrtle town, it grows to perfection here and in a few years we will be proud of our beautiful streets.

Mrs. Suttle Hostess

Mrs. J. A. Suttle was a delightful hostess to the Twentieth Century club, Friday afternoon, entertaining at her home in Belvedere park. This hospitable home was decorated with gorgeous dahlias of different colors. A very interesting program was given, Mrs. R. T. LeGrand read a paper on "The Negro in America," Mrs. George Hoyle, "Foreigners in America" and Mrs. C. R. Hoey discussed "Bolshevism in America." Following the program, the hostess was assisted by her daughters, Misses Betty and Nancy Suttle, Mesdames Will and J. D. Lineberger and Lewis Forney, in serving a chicken salad course with coffee, stuffed oranges and fudge cake.

Mrs. McCurry Gives Luncheon

The attractive apartment of Mrs. Ed McCurry in Belvedere was cleverly arranged, with beautiful dahlias, cosmos and halloween suggestions, Saturday morning, when Mrs. McCurry gave a three course bridge luncheon honoring Miss Lula Moore Suttle, a bride elect, and the Contract Bridge club. The tallies table, markers and also the sandwiches emphasized the halloween season. Miss Suttle was presented with Madiera napkins. The top score prize went to Mrs. Brenda Hennessy, the second high to Mrs. Frank Kendall and the visitors prize was won by Mrs. Evan Glenn. Mrs. McCurry was assisted in receiving and serving by Misses Betty Suttle, Jene Davis and Mrs. Jimmie Blanton.

Miss Suttle Honored

Miss Lula Moore Suttle who will be married Saturday at high noon to Mr. Newton Farnell at the First Baptist church was delightfully honored Saturday when Mesdames Wilbur Baber and Ben Suttle entertained jointly at the Gibbs apartment on W. The No. 1 division of the Woman's club held their regular meeting at the club room, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mesdames W. L. Wright, Wm. Crowder, R. E. Carpenter and J. A. Ellis, as hostesses. The members responded to the roll call with quotations from Southern Writers. The subject, "A Study of Women Writers of the South," was announced by Mrs. Basil Goode, who was the program leader. The club first sang together, "Maryland, My Maryland," after which Mrs. J. A. Liles read a sketch of the writers of "Maryland, My Maryland" and "The Bonnie Blue Flag." Mrs. Ruth Thompson played a piano solo. After which Mrs. Nix read a paper on "The Sword of Lee," and concluded the program by playing the variations of "The Bonnie Blue Flag." The hostesses served a delightful salad course with sandwiches and coffee. A number of visitors enjoyed this meeting.

Nolan-Huggins Announcements

The following handsomely engraved announcements and accompanying cards reading as follows, have been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Huggins announce the marriage of their daughter, Pauline, to Mr. Thomas Dixon Nolan on Wednesday the sixteenth of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, Terra Alta, West Virginia. At home after November the first, Shelby.

The Nolan-Huggins marriage was very quiet, only the members of the brides immediate family witnessing the ceremony, which was solemnized at the home of the brides parents. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan left by motor for a short honeymoon trip. The bride wearing a handsome brown tweed suit with accessories to match. Mrs. Nolan is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Huggins, and has a host of friends both in Forest City and Shelby, where she has been a popular teacher in the high schools for the past three years. Mr. Nolan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nolan, and is a prominent and successful young business man, being a member of the Nolan real estate firm. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan will go to home keeping just as soon as their handsome home in Cleveland Springs Estate is completed.

Afternoon Division No. 2

Mesdames W. T. Alexander, Carl Webb and Horace Grigg were joint hostesses to the afternoon division No. 2 of the Woman's club Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the club room, which was decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers, lovely dahlias predominating. In the absence of the leader, Mrs. Clyde Short, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. R. Robinson. The program was opened with a piano selection by Miss Ethel Elmore. The subject of study was, "Theodore Dreiser," and papers were read by Mesdames C. H. Harrill and Talmadge Gardner. The meeting was closed by Mrs. Knox Hardin, singing "The Desert Song." The hostesses served sandwiches and Russian tea.

The next meeting will be held on October 31, instead of Oct. 24 as scheduled. Special guests were Mesdames J. F. Whisnant and D. D. POU.

Mrs. Everett Houser Hostess

One of the most charming afternoon teas of the autumn season was that given by Mrs. Everett Houser Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock at her lovely new home in Cleveland Springs Estates. Miss Margaret Anthony and Mrs. Ruth Thompson welcomed the guests on their arrival at the front door. The living room, which is one of the most attractive of any of the new homes, was artistically arranged with baskets and vases of large white and yellow chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. Mrs. Houser received her guests in a handsome blue transparent velvet gown. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Anthony, who was attired in a silver lace and purple velvet and her mother-in-law, who wore a brown transparent velvet with egg shell blouse. The register was presided over by Mesdames Bright Carrick and L. W. Gardner. Entertaining in the living room was Mrs. Clyde R. Hoey. Directing the guests to the dining room were Mesdames Earl Hamrick and Grady Lovelace. The dining table was covered with a lace fillet cloth and in the center was a huge silver basket of gorgeous radiance roses.

Seated at either end of the table pouring tea were, Mesdames Oliver Anthony and Ohas. Hoey. Serving sandwiches, tea and cookies were: Misses Isabel Hoey, Carobel Leven, Mesdames Shovine Beam and Jeff Council. Bidding the guests goodbye, was Mrs. Jean Schenck. The guest list included two hundred and seventy-five.

BABY CARRIAGES MODERN NOWADAYS

Four Brakes And Balloon Tires On Latest Carriages For The Infant.

Chicago.—Modern babies have kept pace with the times in getting their share of the luxuries and comforts that invention and progress has brought to everyone in the world.

None of the hardships of the infants of pioneer days are experienced by the baby of 1929 who rides around in a carriage with four-wheel brakes and balloon tires.

The papoose would look at the carriage of today and wonder what this strange and fascinating vehicle was all about for in the days when Indians roved the plains the best the little redskin ever had was a ride on mother's back.

The evolution of the baby carriage is presented in an interesting exhibit at the American Furniture Mart in Chicago. The progression in stages dating back to the sixth century, B. C., from the crudest to the 1930 models are illustrated and displayed.

Research men have found evidences that some mode of perambulator was used for babies as far back as the day of Hermes, messenger of the gods. A painting on an Etruscan vase in the Louvre shows Hermes upon his return home after stealing the oxen of Apollo, baby Hermes is shown lying on a little table with miniature wheels. Three people stand around him, two of them women and one a man who apparently had come to claim the stolen oxen.

Ride In Shawls. Modes of moving babies about varied but little years ago in various countries. In Egypt when a child was too young to walk, he was taken out in shawls worn in front, in cack or at the side by their mothers or nurses—a custom still retained by the Arabs.

Ethiopian babies rode in a basket fastened to their mother's back by a band which passed over her forehead; Japanese infants looked through their dreamy eyes at the world from the back of an older brother or sister. Each child carried the next younger baby who learned to hold on tight until he was able to walk.

Peru babies were strapped in cradles like those of Indian papooses; Eskimos placed their young in mother's high, wide boots; Italian women carried the children in wicker baskets balanced on their heads; mountain mothers of Switzerland placed their babies in cribs which were carried on top of the head much after the fashion of women in South Africa tribes.

A considerate father was the first baby carriage manufacturer. Charles Burton, an English lithographic artist, came to America in 1848. When his first son was born, Burton built a light conveyance on small wooden wheels.

When he appeared on the streets in New York city, the curiosity of the crowds was so great that he realized he had a valuable invention. He returned to England where the interest was as great as in America.

Duke First Customer

The Duke of Leinster was his first customer and after other members of the royal family purchased carriages, the fad spread throughout England. Later the news of the baby carriage reached outside the country. The Pasha of Egypt sent to England for several carriages and from that time on the business has grown throughout the world and numerous manufacturers followed Burton's lead.

During the last two generations the American baby has been blessed with comfortable wicker-woven carriages having resilient springs, soft and soothing upholstery and all the other things which would add to "his majesty's" comfort and health.

Within the last two years there has been a popular movement, especially in the large eastern cities toward adaptations of the English perambulator. But it has only been in recent days that little snookums has demped four-wheel brakes and balloon tires as part of his or her necessary carriage equipment.

That is why when the pride of the household calls for his carriage, he falls off quickly to sleep—he just can't resist it.

Couldn't Fool Them.

The inspector of schools was making his rounds. At one school he told the pupils he was going to give them an intelligence test.

"Now close your eyes!" he instructed. Then he made a noise like the twittering of birds.

"Open your eyes!" he said.

"Tell me what was I doing?"

"Kissing teacher!" came the triumphant chorus.
