MRS. BEUNA BOSTIC IS BUILDING A NEW HOME

Mrs. Beuna Bostic is having a handsome two story brick veneered house erected on her lot on S. Washington street. It is a very modern and convenient dwelling.

IT IS PREDICTED That 60 to 65 Thousand Bales Of Cotton Will Be Made In Cleveland This Year

—if this is true around six and one half million dollars will be received for this cotton crop including seed at present prices. That is lots of money and should get our folks in good shape even if the price is a little low.

WE ADVISE that our folks make every dollar count this year, pay what you owe, buy what you actually need, hold on to the balance, get a year ahead instead of a year behind.

BE PREPARED for a bad crop year, sickness, high prices and many other unforeseen things. Stay out of debt. Next year may not be so good; so be ready by saving your money this fall.

Mules Honored By A Klondike Tablet

Patient Pack Animals That Died In Gold Rush Have Tablet Erected To Them.

New York.—The patient, toiling pack animals that lost their lives in the great Klondike gold rush some thirty years ago have finally got a memorial. Overlooking the grimly named "Deadhorse Glacier," at Inspiration Point on the White Pass railroad, Alaska, there was dedicated recently a bronze tablet, honoring the 3,000 animals that figured in the Klondike stampede. Paid for by old "sour-doughs," the tablet portrays a pack horse and mule on the trail.

It has been estimate that the average life of a horse or mule used in gold rush packing was five weeks. The odds were against a longer span. The cold weather, one of the greatest hazards to all concerned, was probably a new experience for the animals, just as it was for the majority of miners. Great demands were made upon the animals and little care and food could be given in return. Often, just as in the Eldorado rush, trails were marked by skeletons of the unfortunate animals.

No war has been complete without horses and mules. The cavalry alone accounts for the horses, while cannon, food and the indispensable water were part of the mule's job. In the War and Navy building in Washington is another bronze tablet, dedicated this time to the mules and horses—numbering nearly 250,000—which served with the A. E. F. in the World War.

Boxing Business Men.

New York.—Boxing and fencing are compulsory for students of commerce at the College of the City of New York. "They train business men to think fast in a tight situation," explains Professor Canuto Hansen.

"The goose that lays the golden eggs" may be a myth, but the ostrich that produces diamonds is not, according to a dispatch from Cape Town, Africa. Two ostriches killed near there were found to have 70 diamonds in their crops, and the discovery may lead to the finding of new diamonds deposits in the vicinity.

Jury Fails Ao Indict For 'Razzing' Woman

No Action Taken On Complaint About Remarks On Dress And Paint.

White Plains, N. Y.—In Yonkers, is nothing wrong about stopping a married woman on the street, criticizing her for bad taste in dress and making rude remarks about the amount of rouge on her face.

This at least was the conclusion of a grand jury here which refused to vote an indictment against William C. Prime, former deputy commissioner of public safety in Yonkers, on charges preferred by Mrs. Estelle Van Metter, 19, of Yonkers.

Mrs. Van Metters declared that after he had been bumped accidentally by her baby carriage, Prime had delivered a tirade against her dress and rouge in abusive language and wound up by slapping her three times. Prime admitted everything but the slapping. The grand jury refused to indict.
