

Shelby Prepares To Entertain State Gathering Of Baptists

In 1875, 1890 and 1913. This is the largest church in the Kings Mountain Baptist association comprising 41 churches with a total membership of 11,000.

Hotel Fire A Challenge.

The burning of the Cleveland Springs hotel a few weeks ago which many of the delegates were to be assigned, has brought a challenge to the citizens of Shelby. While there are other hotels in the city, they will be taxed beyond capacity and the citizens, regardless of denominational affiliations have thrown open their homes to entertain the delegates on the customary plan adopted by the convention—that is bed and breakfast in the homes. An improvised cafe will be provided by the Woman's Missionary society of the church to augment the other eating places in the city in feeding the 1,000 delegates for lunch and dinner. Already homes have been secured for 500 delegates and the canvas is still on. To meet the challenge brought about by the disastrous fire, the citizens have cheerfully agreed to entertain the delegates, so it is safe to predict they will be amply cared for, despite the handicap under which the city is laboring.

Two Banquets Planned.

Two large banquets are planned for the convention, one for the Sunday school forces on Tuesday evening Nov. 12, at which 500 will be fed and a B. Y. P. U. banquet on Wednesday evening at 5:30 at which 200 will be in attendance. These banquets will be served at eating places near the church. To supplement the eating places in the city for the lunch and dinner meals, one of the church organizations is planning to serve 250 meals twice a day in the dining room of the new church.

Pastor's Conference.

The session opens on Monday afternoon Nov. 10, with the pastor's conference at which time pastors' problems will be the general subject. This will bring a number of the leading ministers of the state. At 3:30 worship will be led by Rev. Chas. Jolley of Asheville. Next Rev. M. O. Alexander of Thomasville will talk on "The Problem of the Outside Calls on the Pastor." Rev. Chas. H. Dickey of Williamston, follows on the subject "The Menace of a Standardized Ministry." Rev. Oscar Creech of Asheville closes the afternoon session with the subject "The Pastor Preparing for Disability."

At the evening session worship will be led by Rev. P. A. Hicks of Boone. Rev. Roy O. A. Arbuckle of Asheville follows, discussing "The Problem of the Pastor Changing Fields." Rev. W. D. Poe of Oxford discussed "The Pastor's Obligation to His Family." Rev. McNeill Potrat of Raleigh leads the discussion on Missions.

Rev. B. Townsend of Winston-Salem leads the worship at the pastor's conference Tuesday morning and he will be followed by Rev. A. P. Stephens of Morehead City who speaks on the Problem of Peace within the Church." Rev. J. G. Murray of Sylva discusses "The Preacher's Problem of Personal Righteousness," while Dr. F. P. Gaines, president of Wake Forest college closes the pastors' conference with the subject "The Preacher's Problems from the Observation of a Preacher's Son."

Convention Program.

The convention program as prepared by Fred A. Bower of Albemarle, Zeno Wall of Shelby, Mrs. W. J. Francis of Belmont, J. Ben Eiler of Statesville and A. O. Moore of Salisbury, committee on order of business, begins Tuesday afternoon Nov. 11 and runs through Thursday morning Nov. 14. Dr. Clyde Turner of Greensboro is president of the convention and will preside. The program is as follows: Tuesday afternoon, Worship by B. A. Bowers of Gastonia, enrollment and organization, appointment of committees, presentation of reports, music, presentation of new pastors, Biblical Recorder, miscellaneous and adjournment. Tuesday evening: Worship led by Rev. Phil L. Elliott of Mars Hill, cooperative program, message by Governor O. Max Gardner, music, convention sermon by Rev. J. Marcus Kester of Wilmington.

Wednesday morning worship led by Rev. Ira D. S. Wright of Durham, miscellaneous, W. M. U. historical commission, The Mill's Home, Sunday Schools, music, state missions, the Baptist centennial, adjournment. Wednesday afternoon worship led by Rev. A. W. Fleischman of Greenville, miscellaneous, B. Y. P. U., music, Baptist schools and colleges, theological seminaries, adjournment.

Wednesday evening worship by R. H. Hardaway of Lenoir, home missions, music, foreign missions, adjournment.

Tuesday morning worship led by Rev. G. N. Cowan of Apex, miscellaneous, Baptist hospital, Sunday school board, ministers' relief and annuity board, Baptist foundation, memorials, election of president and vice president, music, address of Dr. W. L. Potrat on public morals, adjournment.

Shelby Man Secures Third Fast Stepper

At his present rate Carl Hatchell, Shelby man, will have one of the best racing stables in this section of the south. Hatchell's horse, Brian Brou, has been winning races at several North Carolina fairs this season, while last week he purchased another trotter, Annona, at Newark, New Jersey. Yesterday at the Spartanburg fair Annona placed first in the 2:24 trot. Hatchell owned two racers prior to his latest purchase.

BOILING SPRINGS SOCIAL-PERSONAL

Book Club Entertained. Halloween Party By Miss Lovelace. Mr. Greene Buried.

(Special to The Star.)

Boiling Springs, Oct. 29.—Mr. H. G. Moore and Miss Johnnie Mae McBrayer entertained the Philonian Book club members, their husbands and a few other guests at a lovely party Friday evening at the home of Miss McBrayer. The home was attractively decorated with bright red autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and dahlias. Eight tables were placed for "touring" each of which was graced with a vase of red roses and dahlias. After several interesting progressions the scores were taken. Mrs. D. W. Moore was given a lovely linen towel and Mr. M. A. Jolley was given an ash tray as high score prizes.

The hostesses assisted by Mrs. M. H. Walker, Mrs. James McBrayer served a delicious salad course, spiced nuts, and candies. A color note of red and black was evident in the decorations and refreshments.

Miss Mary Lovelace gave a lovely Halloween party at her home last Wednesday evening. The home was decorated with bright autumn leaves, Halloween cutouts and pumpkins all of which lent to the occasion of real spirit of Halloween. Many of the guests were attired in appropriate costumes. After having spent a most delightful evening the guests were invited out in the yard. Hot tea was served from a cauldron around which were soft lights which gave a spooky atmosphere to the scene. Cakes and nuts were served on the veranda.

The Tougues and Needles club will meet at the home of Mrs. V. H. Hamrick Friday afternoon.

Mr. Greene Buried.

Mr. James Greene of Shelby father of Mrs. Mary Hamrick of this place was buried here Sunday afternoon. Mr. Greene formerly lived here and is pleasantly remembered by all who knew him. He was a man who was interested in the welfare of his neighbors and friends. It has been recalled how untiring he was in his efforts and how unselfish he was in his attitude. He oftentimes was found at the bedside of his fellowmen to help them in their struggles and illness. Many times has he watched over and labored with patients without any thought of himself. His passing is mourned by a host of friends and relatives throughout this section.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. N. Jolly and family of the Trinity community visited Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Jolley here Sunday.

Misses Lucille Buchanan and Jessie Henderson came home last week from Greenville, S. C., after having spent several weeks there visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White of Fayetteville, spent the past week-end here with their mother, Mrs. Ida McBrayer. They spent Sunday in Asheville and were accompanied by Mrs. McBrayer, Mrs. M. H. Walker, and little daughter, Sarah Frances.

Mr. Alphonso Pruetto entered the Shelby hospital last week and will undergo a minor operation.

Mrs. Gurlow Walker and little son, Charles J., returned home from the Shelby hospital Friday. Mother and baby are getting along nicely. Quite a large crowd of men both from the college and community attended the football game, between Boiling Springs college team and the Oak Ridge eleven which was played at Winston-Salem Saturday.

Friends of Mrs. Almada Hamrick will learn with regret that she is confined to her bed with a severe cold.

KDKA Will Put On A Record Broadcast

November 1 and 2 KDKA, pioneer radio broadcasting station, will celebrate its ninth anniversary. They will broadcast continuously from 8:30 a. m. Friday, November 1 to 1 a. m. Sunday, November 3. The broadcast will be heard in all parts of the world. The Western Union will assist in getting congratulatory messages to this station, also requests for different numbers to be played.

Judge Harding Gets Facts From Witness man were to give me a drink I'd certainly try to find out his name so that I might in time return the courtesy. Why, if a stranger should treat me to a Coca-Cola, I would at least extend my hand and say 'My name is Harding, what is yours?' so that I might, if occasion ever came about, return the courtesy."

"To tell you the truth, young fellow," the judge concluded, "I don't believe a word you have told me." And with that he wrote "60 days" on the court record.

"Plenty Not 'Very Bright.' An officer was on the stand in another case and was asked as to the mentality of the defendant, whether or not he was intelligent enough to know right and wrong. 'He's not very bright,' the officer replied to the query from Solicitor Spurling.

"Mr. Officer," the judge interrupted. "That's not telling me a thing I want to know. A lot of us in here are not so very bright, and some are brighter than others. Just what do you mean by 'very bright,' and how bright is the defendant?"

Murder Trials To Begin On Thursday

ing from homicide to second degree murder.

The major interest of the entire term will center about the Hornbuckle case. The defendant, due to his record as a boxer and his rather attractive personal appearance, is well known throughout both Carolinas, and as the killing in which he is charged with participating came about the same time as Benny Mack, another boxer, killed a man in Charlotte it attracted considerable publicity throughout the south.

Scruggs died, it is said, from a blow over the head by a stick of cordwood in the hands of the pugilist. Hornbuckle escaped just after the encounter and remained a fugitive for months, finally being apprehended in Alabama.

Jail cases will be disposed of today by the court preparatory to the long grind on the four murder cases. The first jury trial, a mail stealing case, of the term started yesterday and was still underway this morning.

Jenkins To Conduct Campaign In Indiana

Rev. J. L. Jenkins of Boiling Springs, has accepted an invitation to conduct an evangelistic campaign lasting from three to five weeks in Wawake, Indiana. He will leave in time to begin the campaign November 10. This is considered quite an honor to Mr. Jenkins who has made a wide reputation as an evangelist. The singing will be lead by Jack Schofield, one of the leading evangelistic singers in the country.

Wiggins Death Will Be Probed

New Investigation of Gastonia Mob Slaying To Be Begun November 4, Announced.

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—Under direction of Judge Pender A. McElroy a new effort will be begun November 4 to fix responsibility for the rash slaying of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, Bessemer City textile worker, at Gastonia September 14.

Governor O. Max Gardner announced he had asked Judge McElroy, of the superior court bench, to sit as a committing magistrate at Gastonia, beginning next Monday, and investigate the slaying. The decision was reached after a conference with Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt, Solicitor John G. Carpenter and others.

Nine men were held for grand jury action by a coroner's jury which investigated the woman's death, but the Gaston county grand jury last week refused to return indictments against any one of the nine.

The state has offered a reward of $400 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer.

Mrs. Wiggins was slain by a mob which attacked a group of National Textile Workers Union members who were on their way to a union meeting. Several shots were fired at the union members, one of them striking Mrs. Wiggins and killing her instantly.

Scout Field Meet At Gastonia Soon

Shelby Scouts To Participate In Rally Of Entire Piedmont Council.

According to announcements sent out from headquarters of the Piedmont council, Boy Scouts of America, a field rally will be held at Gastonia November 16, at which time troops in the council including Shelby troops will meet to contest for honors in various scoutcraft exercises. The contest is open to all scout troops in the Piedmont Council, comprised of the counties of Gaston, Lincoln, Cleveland, Rutland and Polk, as well as the extension territory of the council, which includes the counties of Alexander, Burke, Caldwell, Catawba, Iredell and McDowell.

The troops will gather at 2:30 p. m. at the headquarters of the council, and parade will be formed which will march through the business section of Gastonia to the Central school grounds where the events will be held. In case of bad weather the events will be held the following Saturday.

The contests will start promptly at 3 o'clock at the Central school grounds. A silver trophy cup will be awarded the troop showing the highest proficiency in the events. Accuracy and speed will determine the winning team.

The events are as follows: Event No. 1: Inspection of troops. Event No. 2: Rope throwing relay. Event No. 3: Signaling. Event No. 5: Life line contest. Event No. 5: Patrol mystery relay. Event No. 6: Scout staff throwing. Event No. 7: Blanket stretcher race. Event No. 8: Fire by friction. Event No. 1: Fire by flint.

Borders Family To Have Reunion Nov. 2

On Saturday, November 3, 1929, there will be held at the old Major Hugh Borders homestead, later known as the James Wesson place, on Buffalo Creek in No. 4 township near the Graham bridge, a reunion of the Borders family and their relatives and friends. All are cordially invited to attend with well-filled baskets. It will be a rare opportunity for meeting relatives and friends whom you have not seen for a long time.
