SHELBY GIRL HAS POEM HONORING DR. BOYER

The following verse appearing in the Wayside column of the Charlotte Observer today and written by "Etta Kett", a Shelby girl, was dedicated to Dr. H. K. Boyer, retiring pastor of Central Methodist church:
What a gift God gave us in you, Dear friend,
What a vision of Godliness!
How your dear smile cheered and blessed,
Dear friend,
How great your unselfishness!
God has put in your face, Dear friend,
The light of His Great purity,
And by His Grace and Love, Dear Friend,
We've been held in Divine Unity.
God bless you, keep you happy, Dear friend,
Your life has helped show us Heaven!
From the first, when you came to us,
Dear friend,
Our hearts to Christ have been given.

BOILING SPRINGS NEWS GLEANINGS

Philsonian Book Club Entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Buren Moore Entertain.

(Special to The Star.)
Boiling Springs, Nov. 3.—Mrs. J. L. Jenkins most delightfully entertained the members of the Philsonian book club and several invited guests at her home Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The home was attractively adorned with lovely fall flowers and Halloween decorations. The regular business meeting was held and was presided over by the President, Mrs. O. E. Lee. A few changes in the rules governing the club were suggested and adopted. After the business matters were disposed of, two interesting papers were read. "The Dangers of Dieting," by Mrs. V. H. Hamrick, "Cancer and Its Cause," by Mrs. Yates Hamrick.
The hostess was assisted by her little daughters, Bettie Lou and Ella McNeil who were attired in attractive Halloween costumes in serving delicious salad and ice courses. The Halloween idea was cleverly carried out in the refreshments.
Mr. and Mrs. Buren Moore were hosts to a large number of friends at a lovely Halloween party at their home Thursday evening. The guests were met in the yard by the spoons and were invited into the house which in itself spoke the real spirit of Halloween. Three rooms were thrown en suite. They were cleverly decorated with the Halloween colors, black and orange, and were lighted with jack-o-lanterns. Most of the guests wore costumes. All during the evening punch, cakes, candies and nuts were served from a beautifully decorated table in the dining room. The guests included boys and girls from Boiling Springs, Lattimore and Shelby.
Miss Pauline Putnam is visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Putnam.

EXPLAINS RULING ON "JAY WALKING"

Pedestrian Not Required To Walk 30 Feet From Center But On Left Side.
Raleigh.—The ordinances adopted by the state highway commission last week do not require pedestrians to walk 30 feet from the center of the road, but do require them to keep to the left hand side, H. K. Witherspoon, assistant to the chairman, announced.
The error in the text of the ordinance, which was given out last Sunday, was a clerical one, caused by the midst of other ordinances, relating to the placing of telegraph and telephone poles, rural mail boxes, signs and other objects. All of these must be placed 30 feet from the center of the highway.

The rule that pedestrians must keep to the left hand side of the road was enacted, Mr. Witherspoon explained, so that the pedestrians could always see cars approaching them. If the pedestrians walk on the right hand side of the road, they run the risk of being run down by cars approaching from behind.
Although it is not included in the ordinance, pedestrians are advised, as a safety precaution, to walk on the shoulders of the road, and not on the paved portion. Persons who get out of cars, to fix tires, make repairs, or for any other purpose, are required to be on the shoulders, and not on the paved portion of the road, by the new ordinances, which go into effect on January.

The ordinances carry a fine of $10 and costs for each violation, and the state highway patrol is directed to enforce them. Most of the 42 ordinances are designed to protect the highways, and related to the moving of heavy trucks, farm machinery, and houses over the state's roads.

Miami, Fla.—Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Evans, of Miami, are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a daughter who was born aboard a large cabin monoplane as it circled last week, 1,200 feet above Miami.
The baby, a 7 1-2 pound girl, was born 20 minutes after the plane took off from the airport here, piloted by a commercial flier.
Mrs. Evans was attended by Dr. W. Haggard of Miami, and two nurses, Dr. Evans, Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. A. H. Opfer and H. C. Townsend also were in the cabin.
