Rev. and Mrs. Johnson Given Shower.
The ladies of the South LaFayette Methodist church gave a linen shower to Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Johnson last Tuesday night in appreciation for the untiring service, while Rev. Johnson was pastor. Rev. and Mrs. Johnson left yesterday for their new home at Winston-Salem. The ladies served a delightful supper last night at the parsonage for Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins and family who have arrived from Rural Hall.

Miss Elizabeth Roberts Hostess.
The large living room at the home of Miss Elizabeth Roberts on S. Washington street was arranged with beautiful chrysanthemums in pastel colors Thursday afternoon when the Ishpeming club members were entertained by Miss Roberts at their regular meeting. Mrs. George Moore read an interesting selection on "Oregon," followed by a paper on "Flowers California" by Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft. Mrs. Frank Hoey gave a glowing description of "Sante Fe." Miss Roberts was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. P. Roberts in entertaining and serving a delightful salad course with accessories and coffee.

Marion School Parent-Teachers Association.
The Parent-Teachers association of the Marion street school held a very enthusiastic meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with about 75 present. Mrs. John Schenck, Jr. the new president, presided. The devotional was conducted by the third grade pupils after which they gave a playette, "The Old and New Book." Miss Mary Helen Lattimore rendered a beautiful piano selection. Capt. B. L. Smith made a very inspiring talk on the work for the year. The prize of one dollar was awarded the third grade for the greatest number of parents present. Mrs. Ed McCurry, teacher. The meeting adjourned to meet the first of December.

Hallowe'en Party.
Misses Eula and Wray Withrow entertained a number of their friends with a Hallowe'en party last Thursday evening. Elaborate Hallowe'en decorations and autumn flowers were used. Afternoon Division No. 1 Meets.
Mesdames Maynard Washburn, John Mull, Fields Young and W. P. Ingram were joint hostesses to the members of the afternoon division No. 1 of the Woman's club and a number of invited guests yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the club room which was decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums in different colors. The roll call was answered with current events. Mrs. Alger Hamrick was leader of the program, the subject being "The Short Story." A paper, "The American Short Story," was given by Mrs. A. P. Poston. Miss Mary Helen Lattimore rendered a piano solo, after which Mrs. T. W. Hamrick substituted for Mrs. Morgan in telling an "Outstanding Story." The next on the program was a humorous reading by Miss Marietta Hoyie. Mrs. B. M. Jarrett closed the program with a vocal selection. The hostesses served sandwiches, hot coffee and homemade candy.

Deaf Guests At Party.
A most interesting entertainment was given for the deaf congregation of the First Presbyterian church by the young ladies' class of which Mr. George W. Hall is teacher.
The party was held in the social room of the educational building, and the guests were welcomed by Rev. and Mrs. John R. Hay, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hall, and Miss Ola Warner, president.

A short devotional service was given by Dr. George F. Robertson, and Rev. A. C. Miller of Shelby, who preaches every first and third Sunday afternoons for the congregation.

A social hour followed in which much merriment and fun was had. Many games were played, the guests entering wholeheartedly into each one.

During the evening a delicious ice course was served, followed by minis. Around 45 guests enjoyed the meeting. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, of Shelby.—Hickory Daily Record.

Lovely Afternoon Tea.
Mrs. A. V. Wray was a charming hostess Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, with one of the largest and loveliest teas of the autumn season, entertaining at her home on N. Morgan street, complimenting Mesdames Charles Dover, Tom and Clyde Nolan, recent brides. The home was arranged throughout with a profusion of lovely roses and chrysanthemums.
The guests were welcomed at the front door by Misses Sara Wray and Elizabeth McBrayer. Receiving at the entrance to the south parlor where the receiving line was formed was Mrs. O. M. Mull. Mrs. Carl Thompson introduced the receiving line, headed by the hostess, Mrs. Wray, beautifully gowned in heavily beaded flesh georgette. Mrs. Chas. Dover, the first honoree, wore American Beauty chiffon velvet with corsage of Pernet roses. Mesdames Clyde and Tom Nolan were attired in green chiffon velvet with shoulder bouquets of pink roses and swansonia. Mrs. Dwight Houser, a charming bride of a few days, was gowned in apricot satin with deep lace flounce. Mrs. J. B. Nolan wore blue crepe. Mrs. J. R. Dover, silver lace and velvet. Mrs. Esther McBrayer wore black chiffon and Mrs. Mary McBrayer was attired in black satin and lace. Entertaining in the parlor were Mesdames Lee Wray and J. S. Dorton. Receiving at the entrance to the dining room were Mesdames O. M. Suttle and H. T. Hudson. The dining table was covered with a handsome lace fillet cloth and centered with a huge silver basket of large yellow and white chrysanthemums with silver candlesticks holding yellow tapers at each corner of the table. Beautiful plates of refreshments consisting of frozen salad, chicken-salad sandwiches, cheese straws and coffee were served by Misses Lucile Nix, Mary Brandt Switzer, Helen Campbell, Nancy Suttle, Sara Thompson, Elizabeth Suttle, Beverly Jones and little Margaret Jones. Passing the cream, sugar and stuffed dates were Mesdames T. A. Spangler, Chas. Young and Tom Moore. Having charge of the refreshments were Mesdames J. B. Jones and L. F. McBrayer. Presiding at the piano and assisting in entertaining during the afternoon were Mesdames Vick Wray, W. B. Nix, Paul Webb, Jr., Will Harris and Miss Mary Suttle. Directing the guests to the hall were Mesdames T. W. Hamrick and S. A. McMurry. The register was arranged in the reception hall and presided over by Mesdames J. L. Lackey and Ed Campbell.

The guest list included four hundred.

HUNDRED-STORY EDIFICE PLANNED

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company To Have Tallest Structure in World.

New York's ever-changing skyline, with its ornate towers and pinnacles, is to undergo an important alteration in the near future, when a new building peak of steel and glass designed to dominate the entire city will arise in the heart of Madison Square, according to an article in the New York Times.
For years lower Manhattan, with the Woolworth Building and about the group of skyscrapers in and about the financial district, claimed the distinction of having not only the largest but the tallest structures in the skyline, for it has been overlapped by the Bank of the Manhattan Building in Wall street and the Chrysler building on East 42nd St.
But the height and bulk honors of these buildings are destined to be short-lived, for they are destined to be surpassed in skyward climb by a 100-story office building that the Metropolitan Life Insurance company will erect for its own use.
That company is the owner of the two entire blocks fronting on Madison Square between Madison and Fourth avenues and Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. On the southerly block is the old home-office building with its 50-story tower, which is connected with the north side of 24th street, to the 16-story Metropolitan Life annex by a bridge over the street and two tunnels beneath the street level.
The annex occupies the former site of the old Parkhurst church.
On the northerly block the insurance company now proposes to erect a building which will ultimately occupy the entire area but which for the next few years will occupy only the eastern half facing Fourth avenue.

Plans have been prepared by Dan Everett Waid and Harvey Wiley Corbett, architects, showing a building of 100 stories in height and of unusual form and proportion, which resulted from the specific needs for large unit spaces as will be required the restrictions of the zoning laws of New York affecting the mass of the business at its base and area of the tower rising from it.

movie film, magnified with a stereopticon until the row of jagged shadows which represents spoken sounds was as big as a line of icicles.

Cancer Mortality Rate Still Rising

More Deaths Among Men Medical Director Warns Against Quack And "Cures."

New York—The number of deaths from cancer is still increasing, although not at such a rapid rate as in former years, according to a report made public by the New York Life Insurance company on its record of deaths from cancer and malignant tumors during the last twenty years.

In the first nine months of 1929, cancers were responsible for about 10.5 per cent of all deaths among policy holders, and were the third greatest cause of death for this period. The percentage in 1928 was a fraction less than 10.5 per cent. The figure in 1917 was only 8.5 per cent. In 1908 it was a fraction over 6.3 per cent.

The percentage of men dying of the disease continues to be higher than the percentage of women. It has been found that no part of the body is immune. In men the organs most frequently affected are, in order: stomach, liver, intestines, genital organs, kidney, bladder, mouth,

Cancer Mortality Rate Still Rising

More Deaths Among Men Medical Director Warns Against Quack And "Cures."

New York—The number of deaths from cancer is still increasing, although not at such a rapid rate as in former years, according to a report made public by the New York Life Insurance company on its record of deaths from cancer and malignant tumors during the last twenty years.

In the first nine months of 1929, cancers were responsible for about 10.5 per cent of all deaths among policy holders, and were the third greatest cause of death for this period. The percentage in 1928 was a fraction less than 10.5 per cent. The figure in 1917 was only 8.5 per cent. In 1908 it was a fraction over 6.3 per cent.

The percentage of men dying of the disease continues to be higher than the percentage of women. It has been found that no part of the body is immune. In men the organs most frequently affected are, in order: stomach, liver, intestines, genital organs, kidney, bladder, mouth, throat and skin. In women the frequency order is stomach, liver, uterus, breast, intestines, kidney, bladder, skin and mouth.

Commenting on the report, Dr. Angier B. Hobbs, medical director of the company, said an uninterrupted public education as to the symptoms of cancer and early diagnosis and treatment were of vital importance in controlling the disease, which is curable in its early stages.

He described the early indications of cancer as an obstinate sore on the surface of the body, particularly about the mouth, tongue or lips; a mole, wart or similar skin defect which becomes irritated or changes in shape; an abnormal discharge from one of the orifices of the body, particularly if tinged with blood; any irregular or profuse bleeding; a lump or swelling of the breast; persistent indigestion with loss of weight.

He said it was vital to go to a reputable physician for treatment, and warned against quacks and men posing as physicians of high standing who claimed to have a so-called cure, many of which, he asserted, have appeared in the last year.
