HE IS GOING STRONG AT 48

Hanes (N. C.) Cabinet Maker Says He Is Able To Go Hunting Or Anywhere He So Desires; Feels Fine All The Time; Praises Millers' Herb Extract.

"Your Herb Extract remedy is the only medicine I ever could find that would act properly on my bowels. It is the greatest laxative known to me. I firmly believe there's none better anywhere and I doubt if its equal can be found on the market today. Surely such a wonderful laxative, tonic and system regulator has my hearty indorsement," said Mr. J. B. Sikes, expert cabinet maker, 137 Second Street, Hanes, N. C., who is always telling his friends about Miller's Herb Extract, commonly known as "Herb Juice." "I am 84 years of age, have used most everything on the market that was recommended for such ills and ailments as I had, but I am frank to admit that no medicine I ever used before would half-way compare with Miller's Herb Extract, called 'Herb Juice.' For about ten years past I've been in poor health. I suffered dreadfully bad at times with rheumatic pains in my shoulders and at times every joint in my body would ache and cause me great pain. I was a victim of chronic constipation for years, stomach upset so bad that I suffered terribly bad with gas and indigestion. Every meal was a dread for months because everything I ate would hurt me, a fullness and choking sensation seemed to grip me and warp me about in such a manner that I could hardly breathe at all. Bowels were very irregular, liver and kidneys all out of order. I would have to get up many times during the night, due to excessive kidney action. But at my age, 84, months ago, I heard of and started using Miller's Herb Extract. This remarkable remedy has banished all my aches and pains. I am once more free from all that suffering and misery. My general health today is very good, in fact, better than it has been in ten years. I fully believe that the Herb Extract remedy has prolonged my life, for I doubt if I would be here today had I not used it when I did. I am now able to go out hunting with the boys; go anywhere I please—this I could not do a few months ago. Herb Extract or Herb Juice has restored me to health, and I am mighty glad to tell anyone about it. I will answer any inquiries about this medicine. My wife takes it and she thinks it is the best medicine in the world. We heartily recommend it to all sufferers. It will do the work." Sold and recommended by Paul Webb & Son, Shelby, N. C., and leading druggist everywhere.

Shelby Eleven Downs Lowell For First Win

Farris and McSwain Star As Crippled Shelby Team Wins Hard-Fought Game.

The orange-jerseyed Shelby high eleven with its captain on the bench injured and several other regulars crippled exhibited some snappy football here Friday to win its first game of the season by defeating Lowell 20 to 6.

It was a revamped backfield and a made-over line with youngsters in here and there all the way through which turned in Shelby's first victory of a hoodoo season by playing as scrubs always play when trying to make the team.

The generalship of Johnny Hendrick, never a regular back until Friday, at quarter and the smashing backfield play of Hal Farris and the great end performance of "Shorty" McSwain featured for Shelby, while Leonard, a sawed-off stick of dynamite in the backfield, was the entire show for Lowell.

Score Early. The game was hardly underway before Hendrick had his orange eleven carrying the ball all the way across the field on off-tackle plays and plunges by Farris and Barrett.

From the eight-yard line Rippy ripped over for the first touchdown. Farris failed to kick goal. In the second quarter Shelby scored again on an off-tackle lunge by Farris and then "Purp" Barrett plunged over for the extra point from a fake drop-kick formation. In the third quarter Lowell scored with the "Stumpy" Leonard diving time after time for good gains through the heart of the Shelby line which failed to hold against the onslaughts of a youngster who in build and play looks as if he may be another "Shorty" Branch or a "Stumpy" Thomason. The Morrismen came back to score their third touchdown in the fourth quarter, the score resulting from good defensive play by McSwain, who darted behind the Lowell line three times to dump a Lowell back for losses or from four to 11 yards. Twenty-five yards away from the goal line Hendrick gave the ball to another rookie back, Haig Poston, and the fleet-footed youngster galloped the remainder of the distance for a touchdown. Hendrick on another fake play plunged over for the extra point.

Show Come-Back. In their win the Shelby eleven, made up for the most part of youngsters and a few crippled veterans, displayed a fine fighting spirit which had not been entirely smothered by defeats and shut-outs handed them on every other occasion this year. The backfield which beat Lowell did not have in it a single youth who had ever played in the backfield prior to this year, and up in the forward wall were only a few boys who knew the game before the season opened.

The starting Shelby line-up: McSwain and Sheppard, ends; Putnam and Williams, tackles; Hulick and Newton, guards; Logan, center; Hendrick, quarter; Barrett and Rippy, halfbacks; Farris, fullback.

Play Lincolnton. The highs have only two more games this year. Friday they play Lincolnton in Lincolnton, and on the following Friday close the season here in a game with Kings Mountain.

Quick Thinking. "Henry, baby has swallowed all the ink that was in the inkwell! Whatever shall I do?" "Write with a pencil, I guess."

Boiling Springs Wins From Wingate Eleven

Drive Of Stroud In Backfield And Brilliant Play Of Young Baptist Line Features.

Blainey Rackley's Boiling Springs college eleven, reaching the peak of its season's play, won its third junior college victory of the season here Saturday by defeating Wingate college 26 to 0.

The driving force of Stroud, husky fullback, on returning punts and a made-over line with the outstanding feature of the offense of the junior Baptists but the real strength of the Rackley eleven lay in a forward wall which repeatedly cutcharged the Wingate line and smeared plays before they got underway.

Buck Coble, injured ex-captain of the Baptists, was the outstanding line performer of the day with "Big Six" Caldwell, Howard Moore, the shifty Cecil, and Jim Robinson, the roving center, rivalling him closely. Robinson was continuously getting in front of desperate Wingate passes while the diminutive Cecil, who drop-kicked two extra points during the afternoon, was repeatedly breaking across the line to dump the Wingate backs.

Entire Team Good. For that matter the entire Boiling Springs eleven was at the best form shown in home games this year. Chetty, the big quarterback, was a constant gainer on line plunges, and his headwork was the best exhibited by him this season. Eanes, the hardest man of the Baptist team to stop when headed straightaway, proved reliable in making necessary yardage for first downs, while Boney, although still inclined to fumble, was as elusive as ever once he got his hands fastened on the ball and got started.

Wingate threatened to score only once and was halted by a fierce charging Boiling Springs line which caused a fumble and recovered it. The junior Baptists scored in the first quarter when the fleet Boney skipped 15 yards for a touchdown on a fake line play. Cecil added the extra point. There was no scoring in the second quarter, but early in the third period Chetty ripped across the Wingate line for 11 yards and a touchdown and Cecil again stuck his cultured toe in the pigskin for the extra point. Again in the same quarter, after Stroud ran back a punt for 40 yards, Chetty bucked the line for a touchdown but Cecil's dropkick was a bit wide for the point. In the fourth quarter Stroud carried another punt far across the field and a few minutes later scored by carrying three Wingate players across the line with him. The try for point failed.

Fans witnessing the game saw a far better performance than the High Point game. There was less fumbling although Boiling Springs' punting was not any better than usual.

Gaffney Game. With the form shown by Rackley's players recently fans in this section are clamoring for another game between the junior college and the flashy Gaffney high eleven for Thanksgiving. Gaffney defeated the Baptist boys early in the season but a second clash should draw one of the largest crowds of the year for this section.

Why He Would Not Tell Solicitor His Joke On Bootlegger

(Louis Graves in Chapel Hill Weekly.)

An alumnus here for the game last Saturday told me this: In an eastern North Carolina city a citizen—let us call him— for convenience, Mr. Jones—was driving along the street when he saw his friend, the solicitor of the district, afoot. Mr. Jones took the solicitor aboard and said to him: "You know that and said to him: 'You know that bootlegger you were prosecuting this morning? When your term of office expires you must remind me—I want to tell you something amusing about that case.' The solicitor replied: 'Oh, go ahead and tell me now—I need some amusement.' But Mr. Jones steadfastly refused. Six months later, when another solicitor had come into office, he met the ex-solicitor on the street and said: 'You remember our conversation about the bootlegger, that day I picked you up and rode you home from the courthouse. I can tell you now what I didn't want to tell you then? That is, that while you and I were talking I had four quarts of that same bootlegger's best brand in the car, right under your seat.'"

What An Orator Is. A negro met an acquaintance of his, also colored, on the street one day, and was surprised to see his friend had on a new suit, new hat, new shoes, and other evidences of prosperity.

"Hey, boy," he said. "How come you dressed up this way? Is you got a job?"

"Ise got somethin' better any job," replied the other. "Ise got a profession."

"What is it?" "Is a orator."

"Don't you know?" replied the resplendent one, in surprise. "Well, I'll tell you what a orator is. If you was to walk up to an ordinary man, and ask him how much was two and two, he'd say 'four'; but if you was to ask one of us orators how much was two and two, he'd say: 'When in de course of human events it becomes necessary to take de numerical of de second denomination and add it to de figger two, I says unto you, and I says it without fear of successful contradiction, dat de results will invably be four.' Dat's a orator.'"

Guess That Put Him Down. A young lady entered the stationery store and asked for a pound tin of floor wax.

"I'm sorry, Miss," said the clerk, "all we carry is sealing wax."

"Don't be silly," she snapped. "Who'd want to wax a ceiling?"

NEBRASKA GIRL HAS HEAVY LOSS ON STOCK MARKET

'Cigarette Heiress,' Concert Pianist, Forfeits R. J. Reynolds Stock And Owes Broker.

New York.—Miss Margaret Shotwell, concert pianist of Omaha, Neb., has disclosed that she not only lost her entire fortune of $900,000 in the recent stock market break, but also incurred a debt of $50,000 which she still owes her broker.

The loss was part of an inheritance estimated at $1,000,000 which she received from the estate of John Neal, district manager for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., and which caused her to become known as the "cigarette heiress."

"Yes, I lost every cent I had in the world," she admitted readily after being informed of a dispatch from Omaha in which her mother was quoted as telling of the loss. "That was $900,000 and I owe $50,000 to my broker besides."

"But it isn't smart any more to be rich," she said, with a laugh that might have been more hearty. "I have lots of company now you know."

The 22-year-old pianist received her inheritance after John Neal died in 1923. Most of it was in stock of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company.

Tonight Miss Shotwell said she was "just one of the suckers."

"I was in Omaha, visiting my mother, when the market started to drop," she recounted. "I sent my Reynolds stock to protect my margin and started for New York. My broker carried me as long as he could and I began to hope I'd pull through when I was wiped out in the last big slump."

In Milwaukee, Wis., while they were making a report in a police station, Detectives George Radtke and Elmer Kahn were robbed of their automobile.

Natchez Landmark Going.

Natchez, Miss.—The city engineering department is taking steps to stop cave-ins on the Natchez riverfront, which threaten to engulf the few remaining buildings of the old "Natchez-Under-the-Hill," famous resort of gamblers and river pirates of the 40's.

The municipal authorities are not concerned over the past of Under-the-Hill or the preservation of the landmarks, but over a huge segment of Silver Street, which has slipped into the Mississippi river, and caused the abandonment of the municipal ferry landing. If the caving continues the new landing will be threatened and traffic between Mississippi and Louisiana interrupted. The pumping station of the municipal waterworks plant which is under the bluff, on which the city is located, is also threatened.

A huge concrete retaining wall is being built and crushed stone is being placed behind it to fill the gaping cavity forty feet deep, on the verge of which a number of buildings seem almost ready to topple in.

The Reason. A colored agent was summoned before the insurance commissioner.

"Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell life insurance without a state license?"

"Boss," said the darky, "you suah said a mouful. Ah knowed I couldn't sell it, but Ah didn't know the reason."
