

Murdered Man To Watch Him "Kick"

Eastland, Texas.—For the second time in a little more than a year, Clyde Thompson heard an Eastland county jury pronounce the death sentence upon him for his part in the slaying of Lucian Shook, a 27-year-old oil field worker.

A witness testified that Thompson told him before the murder he was going to shoot Shook "to see him kick."

The second death verdict was returned by a jury which received the case late Thursday after listening to four days of testimony and arguments. A new trial was granted to Thompson by the court of criminal appeals, which disproved the finding of the jury in his first trial in October of 1928.

RENO ALSO USED FOR WEDDINGS AS WELL AS DIVORCES

Brides And Grooms Now Running Race With Divorce Couples For Honors.

Reno, Nev.—Nevada has an increase in marriages in 1928 amounting to 53.8 per 1,000 of population, compared to the nationwide rate of 9.85, according to department of commerce statistics just released, but this is not an indication that large numbers of those who come to Reno for divorce become reconvinced to the married state while in Reno, and leave again as bride and groom.

Gyp The "Gin" Law.

Some three years ago California's legislature passed what is known as the "gin marriage license law." It provided that three days must transpire between the time an application for a marriage license is made and the time it is issued. This meant that an application made on Monday, with three days transpiring, made it issuable on Friday.

Drops In Winter.

It drops during the winter months but again climbs as soon as the roads are open.

Of course there are quite a few of those who come here for divorce to re-marry here. Many of them have arranged their wedding plans even before they have consulted an attorney here relative to a divorce, and in many instances, while the woman is upstairs in court telling her story of desertion or failure to provide, the new husband is in the clerk's office obtaining the license.

There also are many who come here with the only view of getting rid of a spouse. They become lonesome, make the acquaintance of one of the opposite sex, tell each other the sad story of the marital troubles, gain each other's sympathy, and when they leave, free from their original spouses, they are married to each other.

An Armistice Day Prayer.

From The Watertown Times.

The Archbishop of Canterbury wrote a prayer which was cabled throughout the British Empire as suitable to be uttered during the two-minute Armistice Day meditation at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Here it is:

"In remembrance of those who made the great sacrifice, keep us steadfast, keep us from falling back, and gives us peace in our time, O Lord."

This may well be accepted as the spirit of the British Empire at the present time. It was widely commented on in London as reflecting both the attitude of the government and the feeling of individuals and of all the British civilization in its aspiration for peace.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

Have You Any Excuse Other Than That You Didn't Know? Here Then Is The Explanation—The Cause And How To Overcome It.

Half the times when you are sick it is your fault.

Fully one-half of your every day sickness is preventable by attention to simple natural laws.

Constipation is the cause of more illness than any other one thing.

It is not only the working people who neglect themselves but the rich also. They sometimes put off answering the call of nature because it interferes with social duties.

Rich or poor when you violate the laws of nature you must pay.

Food is received into the stomach and partially digested but it is not taken into the blood until it passes into the intestines.

Through the walls of the intestines are millions of hairs, too small to be seen without a microscope. These hollow hairs are tubes through which the goodness of the food must pass to be carried through out the body.

If the inner walls of the intestines are coated with slimy mucus matter, or with dried fecal waste then it is impossible to get the nourishment from the food through the hair-like tubes.

A person may eat a plenty and yet be starving.

What is needed is to thoroughly cleanse the intestines. Almost any laxative may pass through the soft waste matter in the center of the intestines but they quickly are closed up again. It is not until the waste matter is loosened and removed from the sides that good health commences.

Sometimes it is a week or two after the bowels seem to be open enough when old dried waste matter that has been clinging in the folds let go and people sometimes pass a stringy rubbery mucus and sometimes what looks like great lumps of chewed meat.

In taking the great natural laxative tonic made from herbs and called Herb Extract it is advisable to take it regularly to help nature form a regular daily bowel habit and it is felt that the intestines are thoroughly cleansed. Then gradually reduce the dose to as small as possible and take only as necessary.

Read the experience of Mr. S. E. Ziglar, well-known resident of Rural Hall, N. C.

"I fought constipation with every thing I heard of for years but I could see that I was steadily losing. Not only were my bowels out of order but when my stomach went bad I felt I was about done for."

"Distress after eating—gas pains in chest, choking sensation, dizziness and headaches. Nervous and restless at night—tired and worn out next day."

"After other remedies had worn themselves out this Herb Extract formerly called Herb Juice, cleansed my system so that it got rid of the cause. Today I enjoy a hearty appetite without any bad after effects. I rest well and have an old-time pep and energy. I feel better in every way and attribute it to the thorough system cleansing of this tonic laxative."

TEACHER INCREASE IN STATE LIGHT

Raleigh.—There were 21,381 teachers employed in the elementary and secondary public schools of the state during the school year 1928-29, or just 155 more than were employed the preceding year, according to the current issue of State School Facts, official publication of the state superintendent of public instruction. Of the total teachers employed this past year 18,201 taught in white schools and 6,180 taught in colored schools.

A further analysis of these figures made by School Facts shows that the number of rural white teachers for 1928-29 was actually less than the number employed in 1927-28, and this fact, the publication points out, accounts for the smaller than usual increase in total teachers employed this past school year.

That a smaller number of rural white teachers were needed during 1928-29 than were employed in 1927-28, and this fact, the publication points out, accounts for the smaller than usual increase in total teachers employed this past school year.

Colonel Kirkpatrick was a leader in the good roads movement which led to North Carolina's extensive highway improvement.

Utilizing The Chinese Wall.

From The Wall Street Journal.

At the present time, especially in New York, the development of elevated motor highways is becoming almost a necessity. Millions of dollars will be spent on the West Side elevated boulevard now under construction. In this respect the Chinese have a big start on our metropolis, at least in the city of Nanking. The ancient and famous wall around the city is to be converted into an elevated highway for motor traffic. When completed it will be 22 miles long and average about 25 feet in width. Barring interference by the current Chinese revolutions, a city of one of the oldest countries in the world will have a longer elevated boulevard than any in the United States.
