At The Theatres

"The Hollywood Revue" is without doubt the most spectacular and most entertaining, not to say the most entrancing show ever presented at the Webb theatre. It is a musical extravaganza, after the order of "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," but better even than that great show. No less than twenty of the leading Hollywood players cavort across the screen, supported by a chorus of some two hundred Hollywood best. The show packed 'em for the holiday, and will doubtless continue to fill the house through today and tomorrow.

The lives of the lads and lassies who work in the big department stores of the big city are cleverly portrayed by Clara Bow and an interesting supporting cast in the Paramount picture, "The Saturday Night Kid" which comes to the Princess theatre on Monday and Tuesday next.

Miss Bow plays the role of Mayme a sales girl in Ginsberg's store, who falls in love with James Hall, young clerk in the store who is headed for promotion and eventual success. But Jean Arthur, the younger sister, gums things up, when she decides that she will win the love of Hall away from her sister. There are a number of complications, some of them exciting, others amusing, the work of the authors, John V. A. Weaver and George Abbott.

RURAL CHILDREN OF STATE DO NOT HAVE ADVANTAGES OF CITY

Rural Teachers Do Not Receive As Much As City Teachers. Other Equipment Not Equal.

Raleigh—The rural school children of North Carolina are not provided with advantages equal to those offered city children, nor are they furnished these opportunities on the same level as the average for the United States, according to figures compiled in the office of the state department of public instruction.

It is learned from that office that 75 per cent of school children in North Carolina are rural, whereas for the nation at large 53 per cent are rural. The rural children of North Carolina are taught by 74 per cent of the teachers employed, while for the nation as a whole 58 per cent of the teachers employed instruct the 53 per cent rural enrollment; thus indicating that the rural and city average teaching load in North Carolina is practically identical, whereas for the nation the rural teaching load is less than the city load.

The average length of term is 140 days in the rural schools and 179 days in rural schools and 183 days in city schools.

The average value of school property per child enrolled is $87 in rural schools and $214 in the city schools of North Carolina, and for the United States it is $99 in rural schools and $299 in city schools.

The average annual salary of a rural teacher is $685 in North Carolina and $855 in the United States. City teachers receive an average of $1,192 in this state, whereas city teachers on an average receive $1,378 in the nation.

The annual rural per capita cost per pupil in attendance in this state is $36.56 and the city cost is $54.88. In the United States the average annual cost on this basis is $75.51 in rural schools and $129.82 in city schools.

THEY are learning fast. Now is the period when their brains receive the most lasting impressions.

NOW is the time for them to realize the value of money.

LET them earn small sums for the chores they do, and encourage them to put the money into the bank—into savings accounts of their Very Own.

WHEN they want little things, let them pay for them with their own money. This will discourage extravagance.

AS they grow up they will acquire a realization of the true value of money, the basis of every successful career.

VOL. 1. NOV. 29, 1929. NO. 44

Well, Thanksgiving is over and we hope that none of the readers of this column are suffering from any ill effects of yesterday. Probably some are feeling pretty bad from eating too much turkey and dressing. I guess the editor of this column should be thankful today he did not have any turkey.

Do not forget to put alcohol in your radiator. Radiators and motor blocks are very precious compared to the price of alcohol.

Have you thought of the fact that a Model A Sedan would make an ideal Christmas present for all of the family?

Ask Mr. W. T. Sinclair, the popular High School Teacher, what he thinks of his Model A Sport Roadster.

"You say complications set in after your operation?"
"Yes, the doctor put his bill in the hands of an attorney."

Do not forget to send in your answers to the questions to be answered in order to participate in our Gold Contest. You have less than a month to get your list of questions and get them answered.

"Do you believe daughter's teacher can make anything out of her voice?"
"Well, she has made over $100 out of it already."

Mr. Ralph Hoey recently purchased his third Model A Tudor Sedan. Another man who realizes the value of the Model A.

"Who beat you up so badly?"
"I started through a revolving door and then changed my mind."

We will be glad to furnish a list of the contest questions to anyone that will call for them

We will also furnish some literature that will be a great help in getting the answers to these questions.

Judge: Before being sentenced, have you anything to say?"
Barber: Yes, your honor, I'd like to shave the prosecuting attorney just once.

"I'd be ashamed to be a great strong man like you and ask for money."
"So I am, ma'am, but I ones got two years for taking it without asking."

Mr. W. E. Crowder, Shelby, N. C. is now the proud owner of a New Model A Tudor Sedan.

"So you and your wife snare alike in the work of getting breakfast?"
"Yeah. She burns the toast and I scrape it."

She—I feel terrible—like committing suicide.
He—Well, why don't you hang yourself—around my neck?

Mr. O. W. Brooks, R-1, Lattimore, N. C., is the proud owner of a New Model A Town Sedan.

"I've changed my mind."
"Does the new one work any better?"
