Woman's Chances For Marriage Are Good At 35 Years

Duluth Records Show Majority Now Marry At 23, Many Much Later.

Duluth—Women between the ages of twenty-three and thirty-five need not fear that their chances of marriage will decrease, according to J. F. Johnson, clerk of district court and official marriage license registrar of St. Louis county.

Women between these ages stand practically an even chance with girls of eighteen to twenty-two in the opinion of Johnson and his deputies, who has either statements upon past county records.

To back up his statements, records of the last 300 marriage licenses issued were brought forward. They showed that 111 of the 300 women were twenty-two or younger. Seventy were from twenty-three to thirty-five and seven were more than thirty-five.

The other 112 did not have their age recorded, but under oath they stated that they were over the legal age of eighteen. In every case the age of the man and woman is asked, deputies state, to prevent a union of youth and old age.

Court clerks estimate that in none out of every ten cases where no age is recorded, the woman is over twenty-three. This, they say, brings the women ahead of the group up to twenty-two.

More women of today marry after they are twenty-three than did those of years ago, according to court clerks.

In this age, however, records show, there are more men marrying girls or women one-half their age or less, than in years gone by.

N. Lineberger property as shown by plat made by Leigh Colver, landscape architect, in the year 1921, which plat is now recorded in the register of deeds office in Cleveland county, N. C., in book of plats No. 1, page 35, and being joined on the north by lot No. 1, now owned by Mrs. Irma Wallace and on the south by Carl Webb lot and the west by Bert Price and Cleo Price and being cribed by notes said bounds as follows: Beginning at an iron stake on west edge of Belvedere, avenue, corner of lot No. 1 (Mrs. Irma Wallace) and runs south 97 west 165 feet to a stake; thence south 3 east to a stake in line of C. R. Webb; thence north 57 east 165 feet to a stake on west edge of Belvedere; thence south 3 west 105 feet to the place of beginning, and being that lot conveyed by Bert Price and Cleo Price by deed of record in the aforesaid office in book CCO, page 134.

REGULAR BEDTIME IS BEST FOR CHILDREN

Pillow fights at bedtime are frowned upon by child guidance experts in home demonstration work. A regular bedtime every night and a quiet hour before are habits that should be started early to prevent difficulties in children's rest and sleep.

Half an hour of quiet play before a simple evening meal, a pleasant and social supper which never is allowed to become noisy or hilarious, followed by a story hour or simple, quiet play is the schedule recommended. The play or stories may lead naturally to bedtime if the dolls are put to bed, toy animals in barns, and all the child's surroundings prepared for the night.

SEVERE HEADACHES KEPT HER IN MISERY

"I feel like a new person since taking Sargon and Sargon with Mass Pills. The most terrible headaches imaginable used to keep me miserable day and night and tore

MRS. LILLIE CULLEY up my nerves so I couldn't sleep. My whole system seemed filled with poison from constipation and an inactive liver. I tried so many medicines without lasting relief that I lost heart.

"I began Sargon to please my husband, and within a week felt marvelously strengthened all over. Now the headaches are entirely gone, my nerves are in fine condition and I sleep like a child. Sargon Pills overcame my constipation and torpid liver without the east gripping, or nausea. I'm stronger and better in every way than I've been in years, and want to make this statement in pure gratitude for what the Sargon treatment did for me."—Mrs. Lillie Culley, 2310 Hanville Road, Columbia, S. ## Acre Of Pine Trees Yields $65 Income

Thinning Process Makes Profit And Leaves Timber In Better Condition.

Raleigh.—G. M. Hatley, of Hudson in Caldwell county, by thinning an acre of pines, found it possible to sell stove wood at a profit, occupy himself at gainful labor, and leave his field of pine trees in better shape than before the thinning.

The field pines used in the demonstration was located on poor, gullied, hill land. The timber would average about 29 years of age. As a demonstration with County Agent P. M. Hendricks, Mr. Hatley thinned out one acre of the pines, according to the instructions given him by extension forester, R. W. Graeber, of State college. From the acre, ten cords of fuel wood was cut leaving 283 trees standing.

Mr. Hatley had the wood sawed and split and then sold it in town for $7.50 a cord. The total cost of converting the trees into stove wood amounted to $5.25 a cord. Mr. Hatley did most of the work himself. The wood brought $2.25 a cord net profit above labor costs or $22.50 for the 10 cords. However, the only hired labor was $10 for sawing; therefore, as a matter of fact, Mr. Hatley secured $65 net income from both the stumpage and the payment for his labor. In commenting on this demonstration Mr. Graeber says that $65 income from an acre of pine trees on badly washed hill land is not to be despised.
