U. D. C. Meeting.
The Woman's club room was beautifully arranged with Christmas decorations yesterday afternoon, the long table was centered with a small Christmas tree, brilliantly lighted, in different colors and trimmed with tinsel and fancy Christmas articles. The piano and console table were graced with baskets of fern and poinsettias. The regular December meeting of the Cleveland Guards chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. P. Nix, the president, presiding. The meeting was opened with a scripture reading followed by the Lord's prayer, repeated in unison after which Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft, the secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. B. O. Hamrick submitted her treasurer's report. The chapter voted to send $10 each to the old ladies home and old soldiers home at Christmas, also to send Christmas baskets to old soldiers in the city and Christmas cards over the county. It was also suggested that quilt scraps, needles, etc., be colin January to send to the 36 old ladies in the old ladies home at Fayetteville. The chapter also voted to have a year book, to contain the program for the chapter meetings of the year. The following program committee was appointed: Mrs. Colin Hull, chairman, Mesdames J. H. Hull, J. A. Liles and Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft. Mesdames Nix and Hull told how much they enjoyed the convention at Fayetteville, and insisted that a large number attend the convention next year at Raleigh. Following the above business meeting, Miss Virginia Hamrick delighted all with a reading "At the Soda Fountain," after which Miss Minnie Edkins Roberts beautifully sang "If Winter Comes" and "Sylvia," by Olcy Speaks, Mrs. Plaster playing her piano accompaniment. The hostesses Mesdames J. C. Smith, R. L. Ryburn, T. A. Spangler, J. W. Suttle, Rush Stroup, J. A. Suttle and Misses Rosa Mae Shuford and Betty Suttle served delicious ice cream and fruit cake.

Business Woman's Circle.
The Business Woman's circle of the Central Methodist church met Monday evening at the home of Miss Sara Richbourg on S. LaFayette street. The meeting was opened with a hymn, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," after which Rev. L. B. Hayes, the pastor, led in prayer. The scripture lesson was read by the new president, Mrs. J. T. Heason. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Evelyn Hoyle. "Silent Night," was sung by Mr. Dale Kalter and Mrs. James Beason. After the treasurer, Miss Frances Hendrick, gave her report, it was voted to help a needy family at Christmas. "Making the Home a Christ Center" was beautifully told by Mesdames Roy Newman, Emma Dorsey and Miss Verta Hendrick. The meeting was closed by all singing, "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The hostess was assisted in serving a lovely salad course, nuts and hot tea. Visitors were: Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Hayes, Mr. Dale Kalter, Miss Ella Lipscomb and Mrs. H. E. Richbourg.

Miss Honeycutt Gives Large Party.
The Wayside Restaurant on W. Warren street was most attractively arranged with Christmas decorations Monday evening, when Miss Louise Honeycutt charmingly entertained a large number of her friends with ten tables of bridge. The tables were graced with bowls and vases of small poinsettias, Christmas cactus and lace fern. The guests found their places with tiny Santa Claus tallies, which were passed by Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Honeycutt. Miss Honeycutt received her guests in a beautiful pink taffeta evening gown. Mrs. John Honeycutt welcomed the guests at the entrance. Mrs. Carlos Grigg assisted in receiving and directing the guests to the tables.

The high score prizes for the ladies were won by Mesdames John Honeycutt and William Osborne, and the prizes for the men were won by Messrs. Basil Goode and Frank Reavis. During the evening the hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. D. E. Honeycutt, Mesdames Carlos Grigg, Tom Abernethy and John Honeycutt in serving a delightful salad and sweet course.

Misses Hardin and Hendrick Entertain.
One of the most beautiful bridge parties of the approaching Christmas season was that given jointly last evening by Misses Elsie Hardin and Frances Hendrick at the Woman's club room, which was decorated with a profusion of red berried holly and poinsettias, with lights shaded in red.
Mr. and Mrs. Reid Young received the guests at the foot of the stairway in the reception hall upstairs were Miss Foy Moore and Mrs. S. M. Gault. Miss Hardin, dressed in orchid chiffon with shoulder bouquet of rose buds and Miss Hendrick wearing a black velvet evening gown welcomed their guests at the entrance to the club room. Passing the Christmas tallies and directing the guests to the fourteen tables were: Misses Aida Mae Eskridge and Dennis Byers. The tables were covered with the most attractive covers in Christmas designs with dollies to match. The high score prizes were won by Mrs. Reid Young and Mr. Horace Kennedy, and the second high score prizes went to Mrs. S. M. Gault and Mr. Robert Agnew. At the close of the evening, the hostesses were assisted by Misses Foy Moore, Aida Mae Eskridge, Verta Hendrick and Dennis Byers in serving pretty plates of angel food cake with whipped cream, and ice cream molded in different fruit designs, carrying out the Christmas colors of the decorations. Out of town guests were: Misses Mary Byers and Ruth Blanton of Charlotte.

Ventriloquist Dummy Worries 2 Detectives

Dummy In Suitcase Makes Dummies Of Two Smart Officers With Yell.

New York World.
James Aldi and Joseph Corrigan, detectives in the Newark police department, rode along Springfield avenue in a patrol car. On the sidewalk lumbered a man with, apparently, a very heavy suitcase. Said Detective Aldi to Detective Corrigan, "Let's look into this."
"Here," they said to the man, "What have you got in there?"
"Aw, go 'way," replied the man. "I got troubles enough without you dicks buttin' in."
"Troubles, eh?" said Detective Aldi. "Let's look."
Whereupon Detective Corrigan snatched the suitcase from the man and, unsnapping the catch, peered in.
"My God," he gasped, "a body! The head's been banged open and the legs cut off."
There on Springfield avenue had been found a murderer, caught in the act of removing the body of an innocent child!
"Hey," shouted the man as the detective moved him bodily to a waiting automobile. "Lemme explain."
